SLIP OF FARLEY TONGUE ADDS TO 3D TERM BELIEF

Capital Convinced Roosevelt to Run.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—That President Roosevelt intends to accept renomination for a third term by the Chicago convention next week was virtually the universal conviction among Democratic leaders here today following the Roosevelt-Farley conference at Hyde Park yesterday.

Altho Postmaster General James A. Farley was pledged to secrecy by the President, he inadvertently betrayed the secret in talking to newspaper reporters, according to the prevailing view. Two instances were cited.

Last spring Farley announced during a political trip to Massachusetts that his name would be presented to the Democratic national convention for the nomination for President regardless of other candidacies. This was as much as saying that he would be placed in nomination even if Mr. Roosevelt also should be placed in nomination.

May Emulate Al Smith.

When asked at Hyde Park yesterday, however, whether, in view of the intention Mr. Roosevelt had confided to him his name still would be presented to the convention, Farley dodged. He said he would not answer that question. The inference drawn is that Farley, knowing Mr. Roosevelt is going to run, has decided to withdraw from the contest.

Another question asked of Farley was whether he would continue to work to retain the Democratic party in power. He refused to answer that on the ground that it was a leading question. The reaction to his attitude is that there was no reason why Farley should not have said he would work for party successes like any other good Democrat—no reason, that is, unless Farley, knowing Mr. Roosevelt is going to run for a third term, is going to "take a walk" similar to Al Smith's historic action.

Openly Opposed to Third Term.

It has been common knowledge for months that Farley is strongly opposed to any departure from the tradition limiting the tenure of the presidency to two terms. He has left no doubt in the minds of his intimates that he would not support the President for a third term. It is not doubted that he so informed Mr. Roosevelt at Hyde Park yesterday. That is what he is believed to have meant when he said the President talked frankly to him and that he talked just as frankly.

So, as the situation is viewed here, Mr. Roosevelt will accept renomination and Farley lay down the reins of his Democratic national chairmanship, resign from the cabinet and retire to private life. Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago is a likely choice for the new national chairman.

Two Other Candidates.

The only names besides the President's that will be presented to the convention are those of Vice President John N. Garner and of Senator Burton F Wheeler of Montana. Garner met the President this forenoon at the regular Monday conference of congressional leaders with Mr. Roosevelt, but presidential politics was not mentioned.

Eloquent of the conviction that Mr. Roosevelt told Farley he would run was the rush for the bandwagon on the part of the Massachusetts delegation that had flirted with the Farley presidential candidacy.

William H. Burke, chairman of the Massachusetts Democratic state committee, reached the White House today almost as soon as the President. He was accompanied by Representative John W. McCormack [D., Mass.], who will head the Massachusetts delegation to the convention.

Urge Roosevelt to Run.

They had a talk with the President. Afterward they joined in this statement:

"We urged the President as strongly as we could to be a candidate or consent to be drafted. He didn't say yes and he didn't say no. It is absolutely indispensable that the President should run for a third term.

"Of course, the delegation, which will have 34 votes in the convention, is for Farley if the President is not a candidate."

HOUSE LEADER TO BE WILLKIE'S CAMPAIGN CHIEF

Hamilton to Act as Executive Aid.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Congressman Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the house, has been chosen to be the new chairman of the Republican national committee with full charge of the campaign to elect Wendell L. Willkie as President.

This became known today shortly after Willkie flew to Washington from New York to confer with Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, Republican vice presidential nominee, and other party leaders, and to attend a dinner given by 200 Republican senators and members of the house.

The decision on Martin, which will not be announced formally until tomorrow, was reached by Willkie and members of a subcommittee of the G. O. P. national committee with whom the nominee had been conferring for several days in New York.

Assistants to Be Chosen.

Willkie's previous proposal for a three man campaign board has been revised, and Martin will be both campaign manager and national committee chairman, serving without pay. National Chairman John Hamilton will be retained as executive assistant to Martin. Other assistants will have charge of various campaign activities, such as the organization of the independent vote.

It had been known from the start that Willkie wanted Martin or Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota to take the job as campaign manager, but Martin had hesitated because of his work as minority leader in congress, which is still in session. Yesterday, it was reported, Martin finally agreed to serve. If Willkie is elected President and the Republicans win control of the house in November Martin is in direct line for the speakership.

McNary Favorably Impressed.

Senator McNary, who met Willkie for the first time today, said after his conference with the presidential nominee:

"I am impressed with his sincerity. He has a very human side to him that is very encouraging. He will make a great candidate and a great President."

At the congressional dinner tonight in his honor Willkie met the Republican members of the senate and house, including all those who had formed a bloc at the national convention in Philadelphia in an effort to stop his nomination. The members of the "stop Willkie" bloc apparently are now convinced that the party did a wise thing in nominating him. The dinner was private and informal.

Congressman Martin Presides.

Congressman Martin presided at the dinner. He announced there would be no speeches, but there were prolonged cries of "We want Willkie" from all over the ballroom and finally the nominee responded. He expressed gratitude for the enthusiastic reception.

"When this gallery calls 'We want

SLOT MACHINES HIT JACKPOT IN RECORD PRODUCTION OF COINS

Washington, D. C., July 8 (AP).—Slot machines forced the United States mints to record production in the last 12 months.

Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint, reported today that 768,093,000 coins with a face value of $39,994,000 were turned out in the last fiscal year by the Philadelphia, Denver, and San Francisco mints. This was more than double the preceding year's output.

Asserting the records were made in production of pennies, nickels, and dimes, Mrs. Ross said the "unusually high demand for coins" was due primarily to "the increasing use of coin-vending machines as well as other devices operated by coins."

THE MYSTERY OF THE THIRD TERM NOMINATION, OR WILL HE OR WON'T HE?

"Of course I can't accept or refuse before it's offered to me." | "This is so sudden! I must have a couple minutes to think it over."

"I WON'T RUN another step!" | "Of course, I might get caught in the draft!"

English Wife Frowns; Nazi Chutist Wilts

LONDON, July 8 (AP).—An unarmed British housewife put on her "fiercest frown" today and captured a German aviator who parachuted from his disabled plane into her front yard. He gave up his pistol when she demanded his surrender.

The German's plane was shot down by British Spitfires in a fight over northeastern England.

Mrs. Nora Cardwell, 5 feet 8 inches tall, and the wife of an officer of the local defense volunteers, saw the invader floating to the ground.

Tackles Him Right Away.

"I went straight to the telephone but it was out of order," she said. "So I told a boy to go on bicycle for the police.

"I thought if he was a parachutist it was best to tackle him right away. There were two or three people about but they didn't do anything.

"So I put on my fiercest frown and walked up to the man. I felt tiny beside him. He must have been at least six feet tall, but I could see he was terrified. He looked green."

She Gets the Pistol.

She said that when she first looked at the German she thought he was unarmed, but when she reached him she saw he had a pistol. She pointed to the gun and demanded, "I want it." She got it, and after that she marched him off to await the police and start him on the way to internment.

"I don't want to make a song and dance of the affair," was Mrs. Cardwell's final comment.

Her husband, who reached home after the "parashooting" was all over, said, "I think she did very well."

British Urge 'Sponge Baths' to Save Water for Fires

BIRMINGHAM, England, July 8 (AP).—Residents of two towns in the lake district, northwestern England, have been advised to be satisfied with a "sponge down" in place of the usual baths in order to save water for fire fighting.

DRIVER WITH A BLIND PENSION EXPLAINS HIS LACK OF A LICENSE

North Chicago police who arrested Warren Odett, 53 years old, last night for driving away after knocking over a signpost June 29 asked to see his driver's license. Odett said he didn't have one, but he did have a reason the police hadn't heard before.

"I get a blind pension from the state," Odett said. "Even if I applied, I couldn't get a license."

Chief of Police Jacob Novak said Odett's vision undoubtedly was defective. Odett said he was unable to work because of his lack of vision, but that occasionally he takes his car out because he feels the need for a little air.

He was released on $25 bond and will be arraigned Saturday before Police Magistrate J. B. Neahaus on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and having no driver's license. Odett lives at 14th street near Green Bay road, a mile west of North Chicago. His pension is $1 a day.

ARRANGE SECOND SHIPMENT OF TNT TO GREAT BRITAIN

Gallup, N. M., July 8—(AP)—Another 10,000,000 pounds of TNT is expected to be loaded this week at the Fort Wingate government arsenal for shipment, presumably to New Orleans, unofficial sources disclosed today. Capt. J. L. Ahern, coast guard, captain of the port at New Orleans announced today establishment of an anchorage for loading explosives 10 miles from the city.

More than 8,000,000 pounds of explosives, a portion of war department surpluses, were shipped two weeks ago in 132 freight cars to New Orleans for trans-shipment by boat to England.

According to unofficial but informed sources here, the second shipment is expected to start some time during this week. About 150 to 200 freight cars will be utilized.

The Fort Wingate arsenal, located in the high plateau country just west of the continental divide, is one of the largest storehouses for explosives in the nation. Surplus explosives were stored there following the world war.

British Intern Admiral; Was Nazis' Friend

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

LONDON, July 8.—Admiral Sir Barry Edward Domvile, who distinguished himself in the royal navy, and Lady Domvile were arrested today at their home and have been interned under the defense regulations. Admiral Domvile, who is 62 years old, retired in 1936 after a brilliant naval career. His father was the late Adm. Sir Compton Domvile.

The nature of the charges against the admiral and his wife was not disclosed by the authorities.

At the recent trial of a Bristol school teacher charged with advertising German radio propaganda, however, it was alleged that a letter found in her room came from the admiral. It was said to have described the German broadcasting station as "grand."

Twice Visited Hitler.

The admiral went to Germany in 1937 to shoot deer with Heinrich Himmler, head of the Nazi secret police, and twice before that had been Adolf Hitler's guest.

He was one of the leading apostles of Anglo-German friendship before the present war began, and became head of "The Link," an association endeavoring to promote good relations between the two peoples. The organization was dissolved at the outbreak of the war.

Headed Naval College.

After serving thruout the last war Admiral Domvile was promoted to director of plans at the admiralty in 1920, and was chief of staff of the Mediterranean fleet from 1922 to 1925. He was director of naval intelligence from 1927 to 1930, and in command of the third cruiser squadron in the Mediterranean from 1930 to 1932. He served as president of the royal naval college from 1932 to 1934.

Lady Domvile is the former Alexandrina van der Heydt. They were married in 1916 and have two sons and a daughter.

FRANCE, CRADLE OF LIBERTY, NEAR DICTATOR RULE

GENEVA, Switzerland, July 8 (AP).—Vanquished France, cradle of republican freedom in Europe, appeared tonight on the threshold of a virtual totalitarian dictatorship headed by Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, the man who surrendered to Germany.

Premier Petain.

Dispatches from Vichy, seat of the German-mastered French government, said the premier, who is 84 years old, would head a new régime under the fuehrer-like title of "chief of state," but without the personal power of Adolf Hitler.

These advices also forecast the resignation of President Albert Lebrun to make way for a new Nazi-Fascist government under Petain, the world war hero of Verdun.

Laval, Weygand Named.

The censored French press said Petain would take "only the title of executive power"—presumably as a figurehead—under the proposed arrangement. The government, it was indicated, would be dominated by a triumvirate consisting of Gen. Maxime Weygand, former allied commander in chief; former Premier Pierre Laval, and former Labor Minister Adrien Marquet.

The reshaping of France's republican government into the totalitarian mold was expected to begin Wednesday or Thursday at a meeting of the French parliament in Vichy.

The French press described the new constitution as corporative—a term Fascists apply to Mussolini's Italian government.

Since Petain became head of the French government, upon the resignation of Premier Paul Reynaud, who refused to capitulate to Germany, the semi-Fascist Croix de Feu [Cross of Fire] organization of Col. François de la Rocque reportedly has gained powerful influence among army, navy, and air force officials.

War Guilt Clause Favored.

Havas, French news agency, reported from Vichy that a large number of deputies had approved a war-guilt resolution. The motion, which Havas said was assured of overwhelming support in parliament, would ask immediate government identification and punishment of "all those politically, civilly or militarily responsible" for France's downfall.

Speaking at Vichy, Pierre Laval, former premier and foreign minister, stressed his efforts to "keep France free from excessive interference in British action."

Georges Bonnet also spoke, defending his action as foreign minister just before France declared war and in the first days of the conflict. Last Sept. 1, he declared, he accepted in the name of France Italian proposals for a conference to settle the German-Polish conflict.

The next day, when Poland already was at war with Germany, Bonnet said, he continued his pacification efforts and agreed that a conference should take place. He asserted, however, the Polish and British governments made this impossible by insisting that the Germans first evacuate the territory they had occupied.

REPORT ANNAM EMPEROR, 27, ASSASSINATED

LONDON, July 8 (AP).—A Reuters [British news agency] dispatch from Bangkok, Thailand, said today the local press reported that Emperor Bao Dai of Annam had been assassinated at Hue, an East coast town of Annam. No confirmation was available at Bangkok, Reuters said. The emperor, 27 years old, succeeded his father on the throne of Annam in 1925. Annam is the east coastal part of Indo-China and has been a French protectorate since 1886.

BRITISH DEPRIVE NAZIS OF 35,000 TON RICHELIEU

Destroyer Is Sunk, London Admits.

LONDON, July 9, Tuesday (AP).—The people of Great Britain today were told of great blows, given and received, in the sea and air warfare with Germany. The most important were these:

1. A "successful action" by the British fleet was claimed to have kept from enemy hands France's mightiest battleship, the 35,000 ton Richelieu, launched at Brest, but still not completed for service.

2. The admiralty announced the 1,100-ton British destroyer Whirlwind had been sunk by a torpedo.

3. Eight German planes were reported shot down and three British planes lost in combating air raids over Britain and over a convoy in the English channel.

4. British planes continued retaliatory raids over Germany, striking hard at German held airdromes and naval bases.

Save Whirlwind Survivors.

The admiralty said survivors were rescued by another British warship before the Whirlwind sank and admitted there were some casualties, tho no figures were given. The Whirlwind had a normal complement of 134, but there was no indication that was the number aboard. The Whirlwind was built in 1918. It had four 4-inch guns, six 21-inch torpedo tubes, and had stern chutes for use as a mine layer.

There was no indication of the scope of the engagement involving the Richelieu, nor whether it was connected with the loss of the Whirlwind.

The action against the Richelieu—presumably sunk, seized, or damaged—was said to have taken place early yesterday. A more detailed account of the action was expected later today.

Continuation of Seizures.

The operation was described as a continuation of the seizure of French warships started last week to prevent fulfillment of the armistice pacts between France and Italy and France and Germany.

The Richelieu was the nearest completed of France's newest class of four mighty warships intended to dwarf the 26,500-ton Dunkerque and Strasbourg. Both of them were damaged in last week's fight off the Algerian coast.

Altho the Richelieu had been launched, it was understood her armament had not been completed. Other ships of her class still incomplete were the Clemenceau, Jean Bart and Gascogne. The Jean Bart was afloat but reported definitely out of Germany's hands.

The Richelieu went down the ways at Brest in January, 1939. Her speed exceeded 30 knots and she was armed with four 15-inch guns, and many smaller guns.

May Have Been on Test Run.

Because of wartime precautions there has been no authoritative information recently on the whereabouts of the Richelieu, except a statement issued in London Saturday which said it was not in possession of the Germans.

The most recent word came last week. At that time it was said the battleship had put out from Brest into the Atlantic, possibly on a trial run.

Meanwhile Britons, pounded by accelerated "pre-invasion" bombings all day and into the night, heard "more German radio stations than usual" fading out last night and took that for a sign the British air force was striking back with a vengeance.

Radio listeners reported that stations at Berlin, Stuttgart, Cologne, Frankfurt, Bremen and Hamburg went off the air shortly before midnight—one of them in the middle of a broadcast in English.

German radio stations have been going off the air during bombing raids by the British to prevent their broadcasts from guiding the raiders to their targets.

Air Fights in the Night.

Over England the sounds of air fights were heard long after dark, and searchlight beams criss-crossed the sky.

Bombs were dropped during the night on buildings in one northeast town. Most of the day bombings were in the southern part of England.

At one point three German raiders dropped three bombs in the shopping district of a southwestern town.

Besides the planes downed, the British reported a number of others "so seriously damaged that they are unlikely to have reached home."

In earlier raids air fights raged along the coast, including an hour-long dog fight involving about 25 planes over a British ship convoy.

A British fighter plane and four German planes were downed in this battle, which ranged over land and sea along the southeast coast. The surviving raiders finally turned and sped for home.

The convoy was attacked by 15 German bombers and fighters which approached from the direction of the French coast. Bombs plunged into the sea, missing the ships, and British planes swarmed to the defense. The convoy ships continued on their course.

A. G. Dewar, a workman on a nearby cliff, said one shot down Messerschmitt plane plunged to earth about 30 feet away from him.

Pursued to the Ground.

"The plane's tail was on fire and one wing was ablaze," he said. "Only a plane length behind it was a British Spitfire, which was raking the falling enemy with machine gun fire. The German almost hit the roof of two bungalows, swooped across the main road, and fell in a hollow."

Dewar said the Germans must have brought up reënforcements, for he counted 22 German bombers, all less than 1,000 feet up.

The air ministry reported that four other German planes were known to have been destroyed in other raids on Britain.

Enemy bombers attacked two coastal towns yesterday morning, but two were shot down by British fighters, it was announced.

"The enemy attacks caused some damage and a few casualties in a town in the west of England. Bombs also were dropped on a town on the east coast of England, but little damage and no casualties were reported from this quarter," the communique said.

Drop 100 Incendiary Bombs.

About 100 incendiary and 12 explosive bombs were dropped in an early Monday raid on a northeastern town in which several persons were injured, three houses demolished, and eight others damaged.

One of the German forays, on a southwestern town, was made by a "gliding bomber" which flew several miles with its engines shut off and arrived over the town unheard.

New information added an entire family of five to the toll of dead in a western England town Sunday night. All were killed by one bomb. Four other families, taking shelter indoors, were buried under their caved-in homes when bombs fell in the heart of a residential area.

The air ministry said that seven German planes were destroyed in air battles over Britain on Sunday.

Carry Raids to Germany.

Barracks at Germany's great naval base at Wilhelmshaven were among the objectives bombed by British war planes on Sunday night, the air ministry announced.

A communique added that German held airdromes at Heide, Westerland, and Hornum in the Frisian Islands at Wesel, north of the Ruhr, and Rotterdam and Brussels also were bombed. Two British aircraft were missing.

The air ministry claimed that "great damage" was done to the dock and gates in a four minute raid on the Leopold basin at Ostend yesterday and that a direct hit was made on a large German supply ship. The communique said the basin was a base for enemy supply ships. Many fires were started, it was asserted.

"Another German supply ship in the harbor at Willemsoord, on the Dutch coast, was bombed," the communique said.

Attack Railway Yards.

In Germany "targets of military importance" were attacked at Ludwigshafen and Frankfurt and railway sidings and yards at Osnabrueck, Soest, Hamm, Ruhrort-hafen, and Gremburg and the canal basin at Duisberg-Ruhrort.

"Our aircraft attacked an enemy vessel in Boulogne [France] harbor Sunday night," the communique said.

The air ministry announced that a big four engined plane was destroyed on the ground and a Messerschmitt fighter shot down in flames in a series of daylight raids over enemy territory Sunday afternoon. The enemy airdrome at Eschwege, in central Germany, was "successfully attacked," it was stated.

NAZIS CONTINUE TO STAB BRITAIN BY AIR AND SEA

Bomb Ports; U-Boats Raid Shipping.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, July 9, Tuesday (AP).—German naval and air forces have sunk 330,000 tons of merchant shipping flying the British flag or bound for Britain in the last eight days, exceeding the record for any equal period since the war started, the information service, Dienst aus Deutschland, reported today.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 8.—The German air force today continued to prepare the ground for a general attack on Great Britain. Southern and middle England again were raided by German bombers which also attacked British shipping in the English channel. German U-boats were active against British shipping off the north Spanish coast. The war communique reported the sinking of 21,000 tons of merchant shipping, including the armed British steamer San Fernando of 18,000 tons.

German air raids were directed against the industrial area in middle England, the communique said. Bombs were dropped on armament plants in Newcastle and Middleborough. In south England railway lines in the Brighton area and coastal batteries on the Isle of Wight, were raided.

Renew Raids on Cornwall.

German bombers continued attacks on Cornwall, the southwestern tip of England. Port facilities and hut camps at Falmouth were bombed.

On the south coast of England air bombs sank one transport vessel and two merchantmen.

German attacks against shipping led to fierce British-German air fights over the English channel. The Germans said 14 British planes were shot down yesterday.

British Bombs Kill Nine.

AMSTERDAM, the Netherlands, July 8 (AP).—Nine civilians were killed this afternoon by British air bombs dropped on Sliedrecht, 20 miles east of Rotterdam.

REVISE CABINET IN CANADA; NAVY MINISTER NAMED

OTTAWA, Ont., July 8 (AP).—Premier W. L. Mackenzie King, in the most extensive cabinet reshuffle since the war began, tonight named Premier Angus L. MacDonald of Nova Scotia as defense minister for naval services, a new post.

MacDonald's appointment places Canada's armed forces in the hands of three war veterans. The others are Col. J. L. Ralston, defense minister, and Maj. C. G. Power, air minister.

Col. W. P. Mulock was named postmaster-general, and Col. Colin Gibson minister of national revenues. J. L. Ilsley was named finance minister in succession to Col. Ralston.

KING HAAKON ARGUES NORWEGIANS WANT HIM TO KEEP THRONE

LONDON, July 8 (AP).—Haakon, exiled king of Norway, asserted in a broadcast from Buckingham palace today that in refusing to abdicate he felt certain he was acting "in conformity with the wishes of the Norwegian people."

King Haakon.

"My motto has always been and forever will be everything for Norway.

"It would grieve me deeply if I were to separate from Norway," he added, but said he would take such a step if he believed that was the wish of the Norwegian people and the Norwegian government.

The present Norwegian administration in Oslo which demanded his resignation was German dominated, Haakon said, and did not represent the will of the people.

WINDSOR'S AID FLIES TO LONDON; CALLS AT PALACE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 8.—Maj. Gray Phillips, secretary of the duke of Windsor, has arrived in London from Lisbon, but there was no confirmation either in London or Lisbon of the report that the duke and duchess intend to return to England.

Phillips called at Buckingham palace today and conferred with King George's private secretary. It was not disclosed whether he saw the king personally to advise him of his brother's plans.

The duke and duchess are staying in Lisbon with a Portuguese banker, Espitiro Santo. Phillips flew to London over the weekend, but his arrival was kept secret until he called at the palace.

BRITAIN GEARS UP ARMY AND NATION FOR TOTAL WAR

Reports 1,760,000 Men Ready to Fight Foe.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 8.—Britain tonight felt supremely confident of its ability to withstand invasion and saw new evidences that the United Kingdom is gearing up for total war. Among the evidences were these:

1. It was estimated that 1,760,000 men are ready to meet the Germans with the backing of thousands of others.

2. Recruiting has vastly speeded up. June recruits were several times those of May and now the recruits are averaging 7,000 daily.

3. Industrial and war material production is exceeding its expected schedule and is yielding the highest output on record.

That Britain is thinking of more than defense alone was indicated by a war office spokesman who said "we must take care not to become too defense minded. We must be ready to meet Germany anywhere."

Might Attack on Continent.

This lent additional indications to some observers that the British might attack Germany on the continent instead of waiting for the Nazis.

The nine British divisions which fought their way out of the battle of Flanders and escaped by way of Dunkirk have been reëquipped and brought up to full strength [12,000 to 15,000 men to a division].

Besides these, there are many more complete divisions, some of which fought in Norway and France. Every unit has a full draft of officers and is equipped in accordance with the program based upon the experiences gained from the fighting in France, Belgium, and Norway.

Behind this great army there are 1,060,000 local defense volunteers organized especially to combat parachutists, 1,500,000 air raid precaution workers and the mightiest navy and air forces the nation has known.

Besides these home forces are Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders, French volunteers, and an important number of Polish, Czech, Dutch and Norwegian fighters. It is estimated that these dominion and volunteer forces number 600,000 to 700,000 men.

Adopt "Precision" System.

In the last two weeks an immense amount of work has been done to prepare defenses in all parts of the country.

The British are introducing "precision workers" in the army organization. These men, like those accompanying the German troops, are experts in all types of mechanics and defenses. They assure that the army will operate at full capacity and also will detect new weapons or designs of the enemy.

A production council now specifies the type of weapons to be given manufacturing priority. Great steps are reported in machine tool construction, with a tremendous increase of production per worker.

Skilled workers have been directed to register at employment bureaus so they can be drafted into new jobs and man new machines whenever skilled labor is necessary.

War factories originally scheduled to come into operation next year already are operating. Classifications of craftsmen have been abrogated temporarily to speed up shipbuilding.

Prepare to Outlaw Strikes.

An order outlawing strikes and providing compulsory arbitration of trade disputes is being prepared and is expected to intensify the production of war materials.

The ministry of supply is discussing with manufacturers the nationalization of production of certain essential items, the use of substitute materials and new methods to increase the output.

The ministry of labor announced that on June 17 unemployment dropped to the lowest level recorded since 1920. Only 766,835 were unemployed, 113,980 less than in May. Moreover, the roll now contains 92,000 who in May, altho unemployed, were not registered because they had not claimed unemployment benefits.

Two British Troopships Drop Anchors at Lisbon

LISBON, Portugal, July 8 (AP).—Two British troopships, the Fabian and John Holt, loaded with 912 and 1,087 men, respectively, were anchored here today. It was reported the majority of the troops aboard were Senegalese or French soldiers. The destination of the troopships was not disclosed.

CHICAGO GROUP FORMED TO AID CHILD REFUGEES

Organize to Place War Victims in Homes.

APPLICATION BLANKS.

Application forms now in use in Chicago for persons wishing to accept European refugee children for the duration of the war are available at the Chicago Tribune public service bureaus in the Tribune Tower, 435 North Michigan avenue, and at 1 South Dearborn street. Yesterday 156 calls were made to the bureaus in regard to these forms: 135 personal calls, 19 by telephone, and two by mail. In the two days the blanks have been available, there have been 160 calls for them.

BY GEORGE MORGENSTERN.

Action was taken yesterday by 21 social agencies to form a Chicago group to represent the United States Committee for the Care of European Children to place children from the European war zone in temporary homes in the United States.

A committee of six was appointed to nominate the general committee which will serve the Chicago area. The names of those nominated will be announced today or tomorrow and will be forwarded to New York for approval by the national committee on Thursday.

Sheil to Fly to New York.

The Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, auxiliary bishop of the Catholic archdiocese and head of the Catholic Youth organization, the only Chicago member of the United States committee, will fly to New York tomorrow night.

The meeting yesterday was held in the headquarters of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society at 208 West Washington street.

Those who will serve on the nominating committee are M. K. Reckord, general director of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, who will act as chairman; Mrs. Kenneth F. Rich, director of the Immigrants Protective league; Miss Sophonisba P. Breckinridge, director of the School of Social Service administration of the University of Chicago and chairman of the child refugee committee of the American Association of University Women; Wilfred S. Reynolds, director of the Council of Social Agencies of Chicago; the Rev. Vincent W. Cooke, superintendent of the Catholic Home bureau, and Jacob Kepecs, executive director of the Jewish Children's bureau.

To Serve as Clearing House.

Reckford explained that the general committee to be named for Chicago will serve as a clearing house for information to the public, for consideration of applications from those wishing to receive children into their homes for the duration of the war, and as a child placement agency.

Those attending the meeting decided to wire the United States committee in New York to take immediate steps to obtain an administrative order from Washington to permit children of British parentage and of seven other nationalities to be brought into this country on visitors' visas.

Reynolds said in connection with the formation of the general committee for Chicago that Bishop Sheil had informed him he was in sympathy with the need for a local committee and hoped that it would be organized with thoroness.

Father Cooke stated that at present there are three principal reception centers ready to house the first shipments of children expected thru Canada next week. These are at Wellesley and Vassar colleges, and at Doddridge farm, owned by the C. Y. O., five miles southeast of Libertyville. The farm can accommodate 500 children in 18 buildings which have been furnished as dormitories.

How Passage is Paid.

Reckord said it was his understanding that the British government would pay the passage only of children in state-aided schools, and that the parents of all others would be expected to advance passage money. It was explained, however, that the United States committee might be called upon to meet transportation costs from ports such as Halifax and Montreal in Canada where the liners from Britain dock.

None of the children being sent over by the Children's Overseas Reception board, the official British agency in charge of their evacuation, will be accompanied by his mother or women relatives.

In addition to the six members of the nominating committee, others who attended the meeting were Mrs. Alfred D. Kohn of Hull House; Miss Ruth Cole Nice, Chicago Orphan asylum; Frank Torell, executive secretary of the Chicago Committee for Christian German Refugees; Miss Virginia C. Frank, executive director of the Jewish Social Service bureau; Mrs. Edwina Lewis of the Council of Social Agencies; Joel D. Hunter, general superintendent of the United Charities.

Others Present.

Miss Lea D. Taylor of the Chicago Federation of Settlements, and the Chicago Commons association; Samuel A. Goldsmith, executive director of the Jewish Charities of Chicago; Miss Elizabeth Hughes, Illinois Conference on Social Welfare; Mrs. M. Ogden West, executive secretary of the English Speaking union; Mrs. Frank H. Woods Jr. of the English Speaking union and Illinois Children's Home and Aid society.

Mrs. J. R. Elliott, Friends Service league; Pierce Atwater, director of the Chicago Community fund; Mrs. Edward H. Brewer, vice president of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society; Mrs. Paul Mitchell, president of the American Association of University Women; Mrs. Charles Dempster, general chairman of war relief for the English Speaking union, and Mrs. Edison Dick of the English Speaking union and Illinois Children's Home and Aid society.

UNION CHARGES U. S. WAGE CHIEF DELAYS DEFENSE

Washington, D. C., July 8 (AP).—A charge that the wage-hour administration is delaying national defense construction work was made today in a statement issued by John Crawford, financial secretary of a local sand and gravel workers union [A. F. of L.].

The statement, referring to a strike by employés of the Smoot Sand and Gravel company, Washington, said the company and union had agreed on terms, but that the wage-hour officials had ruled that "employés on marine dredges are not seamen and consequently cannot work more than 42 hours a week."

"These men want the work and the country needs the work," the statement said.

Claim Capt. Prien's U-Boat Torpedoed Arandora Star

LONDON, July 8 (AP).—London naval circles said tonight they had information that Lieut. Capt. Guenther Prien, whose U-boat last October penetrated Scapa Flow and sank the battleship Royal Oak, commanded the submarine that sank the British prison ship Arandora Star last week off Ireland. Approximately 1,000 persons are missing. It was said that 143 Germans and 470 Italians went down when the Arandora Star was torpedoed.

U. S. CLEARS WAY FOR FIRST 1,500 BRITISH CHILDREN

London Consulate Issues Permits for Entry.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 8.—Since the immigration quota of the year opened July 1, more than 1,500 British children, ranging in age from 5 to 16, have obtained permits to enter the United States from the London consulate, John G. Eberhardt, consul general, announced tonight. The children are sponsored by individual Americans, either relatives, friends, of parents here.

At the same time the American Committee for the Evacuation of Children, which is composed of prominent American business men here, has received more than 2,000 letters from British parents applying for admission for their children under the mass evacuation schemes conducted by the Marshall Field committee in the United States, Lawrence L. Tweedy, chairman, said.

Because 6,000 to 7,000 applications to send children overseas thru the Children's Overseas Reception board have been received daily, the government announced, no more applications will be received until further notice. The British authorities are unable to handle so many requests.

British Quota Totals 65,000.

The British quota, amounting to 65,000, is wide open and it is believed that at least 50,000 will be children.

The United States government requirements for children's visas demand valid British passports, birth certificates, and a cable from an American relative or friend direct to the American embassy, agreeing to receive and assume full responsibility for the maintenance and custody of the child.

Another cable is required from the sponsor's banker, stating that in the bank's opinion the sponsor is financially able to fulfill his undertaking. A $10 visa fee is charged.

Children proceeding to the United States unaccompanied by their parents are required to have a document signed by their parents consenting to their departure.

Every applicant, even infants in arms, must pass a physical examination. A more complete physical examination will be given at Halifax, Nova Scotia, or some other port in Canada where the children first land on the American continent.

Transportation Expenses.

As far as transportation expenses are concerned, an average of 17 pounds [about $65] for each child is being taken care of by parents, relatives, or friends, but as far as is known here now American organizations sponsoring the mass evacuations must provide this in their general budget.

The American committee here is acting as liaison among the embassy, the British government, and the Children's Overseas Reception Board in America. It is receiving and attempting to classify the applicants with a view to adjusting the children as much as possible to a home, school, and religious background in America like that in which they were brought up in Britain.

The classification of the children involves even such information as whether they are from the "upper middle class." The types of child are noted under such terms as "highest, good, fair, and acceptable." Their circumstances are specified as "affluent, comfortable, or poor." Only three religions are mentioned, Protestant, Catholic, or Jewish.

Ask Parents' Occupation.

In the applications for children passing thru the London committee, parents are asked the occupation of the parents, the school that the child is attending, the grade the child is in, and whether the parents are able to pay his fare.

Requests reveal that many Americans hope to obtain children whose parents' occupation and religion are similar to their own.

An effort is being made to include in the evacuation scheme children under 5 years, as well as expectant mothers.

350 CHILD REFUGEES FROM BRITAIN ARRIVE SAFELY IN NEW YORK

New York, July 8 (AP).—Three hundred fifty British refugee children arrived unexpectedly on the British liner Samaria today—18 hours after the first contingent of 71 reached New York on the Scythia—while volunteer workers were speeding a nation-wide child refugee aid campaign.

Most of the newcomers were with parents or guardians and most had residences arranged. They ranged from babies to 'teen age, the average being about 8. Most of them had experienced air raid alarms, but none was found who had been in an actual bombing.

The Samaria left Liverpool, with about 800 passengers, June 30, only 30 miles ahead of the Arandora Star, the British internment ship which was torpedoed. A destroyer and a seaplane escorting the Samaria out to sea wheeled away unexpectedly to go to the aid of the Arandora Star. More than 500 German and Italian prisoners, aboard the Arandora Star were lost.

French Seize British Ships Off Indo-China, Nazis Say

New York, July 8 (AP).—A German radio broadcast heard today by CBS said all British ships in the Gulf of Tongking, off the east coast of French Indo-China, have been seized on orders of the French government. The move was described as a reprisal for the British seizure of French warships.

FEARS OF ATTACK FROM PALESTINE DISTURB SYRIANS

Debate Whether French Would Resist British.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 8 [uncensored].—With Anglo-French relations embroiled, Syria fears that a British invasion from Palestine is a possibility. Many in Syria fear that their erstwhile allies will move in to prevent a possible invasion by others.

"They fired our warships," was the comment being made when I left Syria yesterday. "Why shouldn't they attack here?"

Syria's future, even what is going on there at present, is a complete riddle inside Syria, as well as outside, to all but a few leaders who keep their own counsel. The public is calm enough, but apprehensive.

Ignorance of what is happening and divided opinions on what should have been done have produced a fertile crop of rumors to remedy the lack of hard facts. The strict news censorship helps the rumors along.

Weygand Fails to Return.

Ten days ago there were reports that Gen. Maxime Weygand, former allied commander in chief who formerly commanded the allies' near east armies, had returned secretly to Syria. They proved false.

The French have a force of over 250,000 troops in Syria that never saw action and if Syria is to be defended against invasion Weygand would be the commandant best fitted by experience.

The uncertainty is what the forces would do if the British attacked. Should they resist, or aid the British, or simply stand back and watch? Since the British bombarded the French fleet at Oran, Algeria, they think they probably would resist.

As for internal disturbances, Syria is plastered with posters, signed Mittelhauser [Gen. Eugene Mittelhauser, Weygand's successor as commander of the French forces in Syria], warning pitiless repression of any such attempt.

Some Desert to Palestine.

The forces in Syria are torn between two allegiances—the cause of French liberty and the government which has surrendered. Many officers feel that their higher allegiance demands continuance of the war and hundreds have deserted to Palestine to fight. Six thousand Poles serving in Syria also went to Palestine.

There are Algerian, Moroccan, Tunisian, Senegalese, and other colonial troops in Syria. They are loyal to their government, and the government has ordered peace. That settles the matter for them. The French enlisted men, too, favor peace on the grounds that their refusal to cease fighting might cause reprisals in France.

The hardest decision lay with Gen. Mittelhauser and High Commissioner Gabriel Puaux, as chiefs of the mandate. Mittelhauser reportedly has been subjected to heavy pressure by civilians thru Puaux, who is admired by the Arabs as a man of action.

Deny Commission Expected.

A report that an Italo-German commission is due in Syria to supervise the execution of the armistice terms is vehemently denied in Beirut.

Just what must be done with the military forces in Syria is not settled, but supposedly they must be withdrawn 50 kilometers [about 30 miles] from the coast. The French say that some must be left on the coast for policing, perhaps against an Italian attack. At present the troops are swarming like ants all along the coast and an invasion would be difficult and dangerous.

The British have warned they will not stand by while anybody invades Syria, which is the gateway to the important Mosul oil fields. The French wonder if such statements are the prelude to an attempt to occupy Syria.

An Arab Empire?

One report in Beirut is that Gen. Nuri es-Said Pasha, Iraq's prime minister-foreign minister, visited Ankara 10 days ago to discuss a plan of uniting Syria and Iraq as an Arab kingdom. Altho the Iraqui do not like the British much, they are under British influence and Frenchmen in this report a possible effort to revive the old British dream of a British dominated Arab empire.

The French remark that they had the greatest difficulty in getting the British out of Syria after the last war.

The French are convinced the Turks also would not let the Italians invade northern Syria unopposed. The Turks feel that if Aleppo changes hands Turkey should be the recipient.

CHARGE BRITISH PLAN SEIZURE OF MARTINIQUE

BERLIN, July 9 [Tuesday] (AP).—The Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz, a commentator close to the German foreign office, charged today that Britain seeks to gain possession of the French island of Martinique in the West Indies. It expressed pointed curiosity as to whether the United States would consider this an infringement of the Monroe Doctrine.

The Korrespondenz asserted that the British attack on the French fleet was in preparation "to rob colonies from its former friend."

It was recalled that the United States on June 18 sent a note to Germany stating that the United States could not be indifferent to any transfer of ownership of western hemisphere territory from one non-American state to another. The Korrespondenz asserted tartly that the note "was sent to the wrong address."

BRITAIN RATIONS TEA; GETS READY FOR LONG SIEGE

Margarine and Cooking Fats Also Limited.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 8.—Lord Woolton, food minister, who a week ago assured the nation that its food stocks were the greatest in history, tonight announced extension of the country's rationing scheme and warned that he was considering making wastage of food a criminal offense.

The new rationing regulations limit the sales and consumption of tea, margarine, and cooking fats for the first time since the outbreak of the war. Tea will be limited to two ounces a person a week. The limits on margarine and fats are still to be announced.

"Vague Appeals" at End.

"The time for vague appeals is gone," Lord Woolton said. "I am stopping luxurious feeding."

He added that rationing means the nation will use less tea and declared the country must face the fact that it is in the war alone and "every effort is going to be made with submarines and bombs to bring us to our knees."

His assurances that the food supplies are adequate still hold; in fact, they are larger than when he last spoke, Lord Woolton said, "but the war's position has been terribly altered" and the nation must lay up stocks and prepare for a long siege.

Restrictions limiting diners to one course of meat, game, poultry, or fish will be applied Monday in restaurants and hotels. This does not include hors d'oeuvres, soup, or food that otherwise might be wasted. To conserve sugar, confectioners will be prohibited from icing cakes.

May Standardize Bread.

Bread is plentiful, Lord Woolton said, but there are too many sizes of loaves and a standard loaf is being considered.

Eggs are expected to be scarce until the end of August, when dominion supplies will arrive. The scarcity of feeding stuffs has resulted in the killing of much poultry. The price of a dozen eggs jumped on the market today from two shillings six pence [about 47 cents] to two shillings nine pence [about 52 cents].

An extra sugar ration of two pounds is granted persons who are preserving fruit. The weekly sugar ration is half a pound a person.

FRENCH PLANE SHOT DOWN AS IT RAIDS GIBRALTAR

Other Craft Draw Fire in New Visits.

LA LINEA, Spain, July 8 (AP).—A lone raiding plane identified as French was reported today to have been shot down in an attack on Gibraltar yesterday. Its crew was believed to have been drowned.

[The French have announced that two air squadrons disarmed by the armistice have been rearmed and have joined German and Italian planes in attacks on Gibraltar, British Mediterranean base.]

Enemy Renews Raids.

Antiaircraft guns on Gibraltar went into action twice this morning as a warplane flew close without dropping bombs. It was the fourth successive day planes had appeared over the fortress.

A few miles at sea off Gibraltar British vessels fired on several planes.

New fortifications are being constructed at Gibraltar.

Ceuta Guns Fire at Raider.

CEUTA, Spain, July 8 (AP).—Antiaircraft batteries drove away a plane that attempted to fly over Ceuta tonight.

Italians Bomb Bases.

ROME, Italy, July 8 (AP).—Renewed air raids with "evidently effective results" at British naval bases at Alexandria and Malta were carried out yesterday, the Italian high command reported today. The loss of two planes was admitted.

[A British communique said no damage and no casualties were suffered from bombing of Alexandria by enemy planes yesterday. Two planes were reported shot down in raids Sunday night. Another communique stated nine civilians were killed and one wounded in Italian bombing of Malta on Sunday.]

Bombers attacked British motorized columns along the frontier between Egypt and Libya, destroying some tanks and armored cars, the communique reported.

Other British motorized columns in the British-Egyptian Sudan near Kassala were bombed, along with flying fields at Kalakal and Perim.

Vatican Paper Praises Premier Petain's Rule

(Copyright: 1940: By the New York Times.)

ROME, July 8.—An editorial praising Premier Henri Philippe Petain and his efforts to reorganize France was published today in the Osservatore Romano, Vatican organ. This was the second time since Italy entered the war that the newspaper had passed a political opinion. It is supposed not to do so in accordance with an agreement with the Italian government.

Britain May Requisition French and Italian Wines

LONDON, July 8.—The British government today was reported to be planning to requisition the stocks of French and Italian wines and brandies held by British shippers with a view to re-exporting them to obtain much needed dollars. It is understood that there are 1,400,000 gallons of such beverages under customs seal in Britain's warehouses.

MEXICAN REVOLT THREAT MADE BY ALMAZAN'S AIDS

Opponents for Presidency Claim Election Victory.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, July 8.—Altho this city and most of the Mexican republic returned today to peace and apparent tranquillity, the issues that caused bloodshed, riot, and battle in the streets of Mexico City and elsewhere during Sunday's presidential election remained far from settled.

Revolts were said to be breeding in various parts of the country. A blunt threat of rebellion against the government was made by supporters of Gen. Juan Andreau Almazan at Juarez in Chichuahua where charges of fraud were developed.

Almazan, according to his followers, is unquestionably the people's choice. Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho, Almazan's chief opponent, was backed by the rádical communistic administration political machines, the PRM [Mexican Revolutionary party], and the CTM [Mexican Workers' confederation.]

Thousands of Almazan "thumb nail ballots" were being prepared for forwarding to Mexico City to refute the total of 1,000 votes conceded Almazan in the Juarez district as opposed to the 5,000 credited to Camacho.

Seek to Form Own Rule.

"If President Cardenas does not recognize these votes we will be willing to back Gen. Almazan in forming his own government," said Pedro Verdugo, Almazan committee treasurer and president of the Juarez chamber of commerce.

At Tijuana, Almazan's supporters claimed that hundreds who asked for Almazan ballots in Lower California were handed, instead, blanks for Camacho. The Almazan backers said an appeal would be taken to Cardenas.

[Under the Mexican voting system each candidate has his own distinctive ballots printed and gives them to voting officials for distribution at the polls. Eligible voters are sent franchise cards showing they are entitled to vote, or can present themselves at the polls with witnesses. They ask for the ballot of the candidate for whom they wish to vote and receive it from the poll committee. This committee is composed of the first 10 voters who appear at each polling place.]

Both Claim Victory.

Both Almazan and Camacho claimed victory. The difficulty apparently lies in the fact that both sides really believe they won.

Almazan, heartened by the extraordary way in which his supporters turned out in Mexico City yesterday, controling 98 per cent of all the polling places and all the city's streets for more than 12 hours, is convinced that his triumph has been nationwide.

At the same time in PRM headquarters on the Paseo de la Reforma, Camacho was turning over telegrams from all sections of Mexico that indicated his political machines functioned well elsewhere.

"We think it's in the bag," said a close friend of Camacho. "In all towns outside of Mexico City they [the Camadist] had soldiers and police around all the casillas [polling places] and nobody but a Camachist could even get close to them. The result is a terrific landslide for Camacho. Of course, it wasn't a free election. Let's be practical about this. You can't have a free election in Mexico yet. The people aren't ready for it."

See Cardenas as "King Maker."

The election issues obviously are not settled. The nation apparently spoke—thru its voting efforts to vote against the radical communism marking the regime of Cardenas. But, practically speaking, Cardenas stands in the position of king maker.

In this instance, if he accepts the demonstrations for Almazan at face value he must accept Almazan as the next president. But if, on the other hand, he chooses to ignore the Almazan demonstrations he easily can place Camacho, his personal friend and military aide, in the president's palace.

"The Almazan turnout here was a small spectacle staged at a few polling places to provide a strident note," Camacho said in an interview. "The demonstration was meaningless before our overwhelming triumphs thruout the country."

The general said the Almazanists hoped to seize the national palace and install Almazan in it as "a Mussolini." However, he said the effort "failed miserably and ridiculously" in referring to Sunday night's demonstrations by 25,000 Almazan followers.

Almazan Confident, Too.

"We are convinced that we won," Almazan said. "Reports from all over Mexico proved to me that my supporters won despite sluggers and professional gunmen who killed more than 100 of them."

Asked what his next steps would be, Almazan said he would wait until next Thursday when, according to the election laws, the ballots cast all over the nation will be formally tabulated. Unofficial results of the voting should then be available.

"I am confident that President Cardenas will respect the popular will," Almazan said.

As we left the general's magnificent Coyoacan estate, his personal secretary, Manuel Reachi, related that Cardenas had been stopped late Sunday night as he was leaving the presidential palace by Alamazanists.

Count Votes Thursday.

"They said, 'Senor President, see how many want Almazan.'" Reachi continued "And he replied, 'If you all want Almazan, then Almazan will be president.' That is practically a confirmation of the president's acceptance of Gen. Almazan."

Votes will be counted in the National theater on Thursday. The great difficulty, however, is that so many ballot boxes were lost, burned, ripped open, and their contents scattered that the actual vote probably never will be known.

Mexico estimated her election day dead at at least 100. Mexico City alone counted 19 dead and 251 injured. Newspapers printed death lists ranging from 20 to 27. Five other towns reported an additional 15 killed. Puebla reported five Igaula and Coatepec four each, and Monterey and Guadalajara one each.

Two American students, seriously injured when they were caught in a hail of bullets yesterday, were reported slightly improved today.

Edward J. Mallen Jr., of Frannie, Wyo., who was near death with a pistol wound in his stomach, had a chance for recovery, and Leonard Durso, 18, of Union City, N. J., wounded by a rifle bullet, had improved.

DE GAULLE BACKS BRITONS' SINKING OF FRENCH SHIPS

Tells France Foes Would Have Used Warcraft.

LONDON, July 8 (AP).—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, head of the French national committee at London, today described the British attack on the French fleet at Oran, Algeria, as a "particularly cruel episode," but told the French people that "it is better they should have been destroyed."

"Our enemies would have used our ships either against Britain or against the French empire," he said in a broadcast over the British Broadcasting corporation system.

Declaring there was no reason to gloss over the "grief and anger" of all Frenchmen when they heard that units of the French fleet had been sunk by the British, De Gaulle added:

"Speaking to the British people, I ask them to spare us and spare themselves from any interpretation of this tragedy as a direct naval success.

Holds It Was No Fight.

"French ships at Oran were in fact incapable of fighting. They were at their moorings, unable to maneuver or scatter. They gave to British ships the advantage of first salvos."

[In the naval battle off Oran, the British sank one French battleship, heavily damaged and beached another, the Dunkerque; heavily damaged a third battleship, sank a seaplane carrier, and burned two destroyers.]

De Gaulle said he would rather see "our beautiful, our beloved, our powerful" Dunkerque aground at Oran than to see her one day manned by Germans shelling English ports, or Algiers, Casablanca, or Dakar.

Trial Called Slap in Face.

A 100 franc fine and a sentence to serve four months in prison were imposed on Gen. De Gaulle in absentía by a court martial at Toulouse, France, yesterday. French here said this was only "a slap in the face." The court martial found De Gaulle guilty of having disobeyed army orders and incited disobedience. The 100 franc fine, at the rate of exchange just before France's collapse, would have been the equivalent of about $2.

The charges, French circles here said, were such as might have carried the death sentence or life imprisonment.

De Gaulle Aid in Canada.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 8 (AP).—Henri de Kerillis, a member of the French chamber of deputies when France capitulated to Germany, has arrived here to talk with Canadian officials on behalf of the London committee of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

DALADIER'S FATE HIDDEN IN FRENCH MYSTERY VOYAGE

Suggest Ex-Premier May Be Held in Prison.

BERNE, Switzerland, July 8 (AP).—Belief was expressed by foreign sources in Switzerland today that former Premier Edouard Daladier of France and other French leaders who left France on the steamer Massilia for North Africa just before the armistice with Germany are in a British port or are imprisoned at Marseilles.

The comment was occasioned by the first reference to Daladier and his friends since July 2 in the French press, which is censored under the régime of Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Petain.

Today's reference to the Massilia's passengers was vague, but indicated they were alive.

Ship Quits France June 16.

If Daladier and his party are in Gibraltar or another British port, they possibly would be Britain's ace in the hole to bulwark the French committee to continue the war led by Gen. Charles de Gaulle in London. If they are in prison, they might be the scapegoats for the Petain government's crusade to find those responsible for the war.

The Massilia left a French port bound for French North Africa on June 16, when all aboard must have known the Reynaud government was to fall and Petain to be premier.

Linked to Reynaud Crash.

Here is a partial passenger list of the Massila; Daladier and his son; Georges Mandel, former minister of interior; Cesar Campinchi, former navy minister; Joseph Denais, rightist deputy; Yvon Delbos, former minister of education and former foreign minister.

Many Frenchmen in Switzerland link the mysterious saga of the Massilia to the equally mysterious automobile accident which, the French press asserted, befell former Premier Paul Renaud.

Reynaud's fate still is not known beyond the reports first that he suffered serious injuries, and then that the injuries were not serious.

Nazi Soldiers Will Help Paris Celebrate on Bastille Day

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 5.—[Delayed.]—[By Courier to Berlin].—France's national holiday on July 14—Bastille day—will be celebrated by Parisians with the approval of the German military authorities. German soldiers will be granted special eave in order to dance on street corners with pretty Parisiennes.

An order issued today extends the curfew hour from 10 to 11 o'clock and all restaurants and cafés will be permitted to remain open until 10:30, while subway trains will continue to run until 10:45 p. m.

Five theaters already are giving vaudeville performances and others are expected to open soon. However, the blackout restrictions remain in force from sunset to sunrise and it is especially prescribed that lights must not be visible from a height of more than 1,000 feet.

Deplore British Naval Raid.

Frenchmen here continue to deplore the attack by the British fleet on the French squadron at Oran, Algeria. It has aroused a wave of indignation that has swept away practically all opposition to the government of Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Petain and silenced Frenchmen who believed Britain would lead France to victory.

Some Frenchmen called the order of Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Britain to the navy to attack the French warships the most tragic blunder of any statesmen in the course of the war.

The anti-British feeling also has been further stimulated by the realization that France will be included in Britain's blockade of continental Europe.

"The blockade," says the newspaper La France au Travail in an editorial today, "is a measure directed against women and children. It is dear to the heart of the British, but it has not helped us to win the war. The German motorized units which we see passing thru the Paris streets have excellent tires and plenty of gasoline. The term 'blockade' implies war against the civilian population. Unhappily we endorsed this and now it is turned against us."

Impressed by Documents.

Secret general staff documents which the Germans said they discovered at La Charite sur Loire have made a deep impression. According to neutral observers the documents not only reveal Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin's vain appeal for effective British help but also throw light on the "intellectual mediocrity" of the French and British military and political leaders.

These documents are interpreted, according to one observer, as proving that "the frequent plans of the French and British statesmen and generals were based on a series of presumptions that were without any real foundation, such as the efficacy of the blockade against Germany and the possibility of drawing the Balkan and Scandinavian states into war against Adolf Hitler. The plans of the allied leaders were built on sand and denoted exaggerated cynicism."

AL WILLIAMS RESIGNS FROM FLYING CORPS

Washington, D. C., July 8 [Special].—Capt. Alford J. Williams, famous aviator, who, following his resignation from the navy took a commission in the marine corps flying reserve, has resigned from the marines, due, it is said, to differences involving the aviation policies of the defense services.

Capt. Williams wrote that he believed he could "best serve my country without military affiliation."

The naval service record of Capt. Williams, who was the first aviator to fly upside down, describes him as having been "unquestionably one of the navy's best individual flyers."

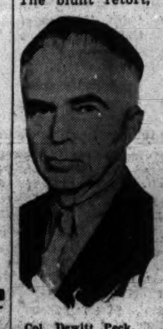
'IT'S A LIE,' SAYS MARINE CHIEF IN RETORT TO JAPS

Denies Clubbing of 15 Seized in Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, China, July 8 (AP).—The blunt retort, "It's a lie," was given by Col. Dewitt Peck, United States marine commander, to Japanese accusations today that 15 Japanese plain clothes gendarmes had been maltreated after their arrest by marines in the American defense area of the Shanghai international settlement.



Col. Dewitt Peck.

The gendarmes were arrested when they were found in the area yesterday in violation of an agreement not to enter without American military authorities' consent.

A Japanese army spokesman, asserting the gendarmes were clubbed, humiliated and otherwise mistreated, forecast "a strong protest."

Denies Apology to U. S.

He denied any apology had been given to United States authorities, altho admitting the Japanese were at fault in not advising that the gendarmes would be sent into the area. They entered it, the spokesman said, to safeguard. Lieut.-Gen. Toshizo Nishio, commander-in-chief of Japanese forces in China.

Col. Peck directly contradicted this statement, and reiterated that Maj. Gen. Saburo Miura, commander of the Japanese gendarmes, had personally tendered him an apology before the men were released.

"The Japanese were given exactly the same consideration and treatment as any man we arrest, including a medical examination," Col. Peck asserted.

He repeated "It's a lie," when asked about reports loaded rifles had been pointed at the arrested gendarmes.

Tells of Affair.

The marine commander gave this story of the affair:

Shanghai settlement police informed the marines that armed civilians were in the American defense sector, and asked that a guard be maintained against any possible terrorist outbreak.

The settlement police pointed out the Japanese, whom the marines arrested and disarmed. One was permitted to telephone his headquarters. Two Japanese officers went to marine headquarters to discuss the case, and shortly afterward Gen. Miura presented to Col. Peck a personal apology. The gendarmes then were released.

The United States has maintained a regiment of marines at Shanghai since 1927. A portion of the settlement is assigned to the marines as a "defense sector." This area adjoins a Japanese occupied district.

Hull Sees Settlement.

Washington, D. C., July 8 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull said today he was confident that American and Japanese local officials would deal in a reasonable and practicable way with a dispute over the treatment of 15 Japanese gendarmes arrested by United States marines in the Shanghai defense area.

U. S. EXTENDS MINE FIELDS AT PANAMA CANAL

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, July 8 (AP).—An extension of the live mine field sowed by the United States at both terminals of the Panama Canal Zone was reported today.

Canal Zone authorities are taking extraordinary precautions for the safety of merchant shipping bound toward the canal. Broadcasts are sent from each terminal four times daily giving strict instructions against anchoring outside the harbors at the canal ends.

JAPANESE WARN BRITISH ENVOY IN BURMA ROAD ROW

Attack on Hongkong Is Predicted.

TOKIO, July 9, Tuesday (AP).—Continued refusal of Britain to close the Burma road to China may result in armed Japanese action against the British crown colony of Hongkong, persons close to the Japanese government asserted today.

The war, navy and foreign ministries scheduled immediate emergency conferences to discuss the British rejection yesterday of Japanese demands that this last link between the Chinese nationalist forces and the outside world be shut off.

Reliable sources said the Japanese would take "drastic action" if the British stand were not changed. Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita yesterday told Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, British ambassador, that his reply was not satisfactory, and urged him to advise London to reconsider.

Contrasts with French Action.

The Japanese press unanimously asserted that an understanding with the United States and Russia preceded Britain's rejection of the Japanese demand, and repeated previous charges that the United States was acting as Britain's "watchdog in the Pacific."

The British refusal contrasted so strongly with the attitudes of the French and Dutch, who offered no resistance to Japan, that the shock to the Japanese was even greater than it might have been otherwise.

Neutral diplomatic quarters expressed the belief that Japan was not bluffing, the Burma road affair being regarded as a test case for Japan's entire program to assume and consolidate control of European owned territories in eastern Asia. Informed quarters added that the Japanese plans for concrete action were complete and merely await London's next statement.

The press reported that Japan's roving emissary, Naotake Sato, has conferred with Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, and has received indications that Germany would back Japan in any action against Britain in the orient.

Japs Bomb Chungking Again.

HONGKONG, July 8 (AP).—Japanese war planes ranged from the Indo-China border to Chungking today, bombing China's war time capital for the 19th time in two months and harassing China's dwindling war supply traffic.

Report Chiang's Home Razed.

SHANGHAI, July 8 (AP).—Domei, Japanese news agency, said a Japanese air raid today demolished Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's residence in Chungking and damaged a power station, waterworks, and powder magazines.

Leaves Wallet Containing $2,700 in a Washroom

George W. Main, 4900 Blackstone avenue, walked out of the washroom in the garage at 44 Stephen street, Lemont, last Sunday afternoon, leaving his wallet containing about $2,700 in cash and checks lying on a window sill. Half an hour later he returned to look for it, but it had disappeared. Main told Lemont police he saw two boy bicyclists, one of them wearing a black patch on his eye, enter the washroom as he was leaving. The police began a search for the boys.

Patriot Groups Object

New York, July 8 [Special].—Three WPA murals carrying an obvious fifth column message of communist propaganda were removed from the walls of the administration building of Floyd Bennett airport in Brooklyn today after vigorous protests from civic and patriotic societies.

Painted by communist members of the Works Progress administration, the three murals took two WPA artists more than three years to complete. A fourth mural was found acceptable. They cost the federal government more than $6,000 in salaries.

August Henkle, 59 years old, of Queens village, one of the painters who worked on the mural has been discharged because he refused to sign the affidavit now required in which WPA employés swear they are not communists or members of the German-American bund.

Another panel, which astonished naval flyers, shows a United States naval hangar decorated with a red star, the insignia of the Russian army.

'Poison Pill' Defendant Waives Trial by Jury

Elizabethtown, Ill., July 8. (AP)—Vernon Snow, Rosiclare carpenter charged with murder in the "poison-pill" slaying of Noah Jones, waived trial by jury today and the case was continued until tomorrow. It will be heard by Circuit Judge Roy E. Pearce of Carmi. Vivian Gladys Jones, widow of the victim, who is serving a life sentence in the women's prison at Dwight after pleading guilty to a charge of murder, will testify as a state witness.

CAROL'S CABINET TOTTERS UNDER GRIP OF NAZIS

King Bans Rise of New Political Parties.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 9 [Tuesday] (AP). [Passed by censor].—King Carol's new totalitarian party wrote heavy penalties into a new law today to guard its control of Rumania from any opposition from within the country.

Gen. Ion Antonescu.

The law prohibits reviving any outlawed parties, any organization of secret societies aimed at overthrow of the new party of the nation, publishing of propaganda against the party or any action seeking to discredit it.

As this broad ban on all clandestine political activity was drawn up, Carol worked with determination to save Premier Ion Gigurtu's new cabinet from collapse. The king accepted the resignation of Horia Sima as minister of culture but refused to take up the resignations of three other Iron Guard leaders.

Iron Guard Under Ban.

Measures in the new government law were interpreted in some circles as a move to prevent the Iron Guard from becoming too powerful. At present the Iron Guard, as well as all other political groups except the Party of the Nation, is under ban.

The Iron Guardists submitted the resignations in a move to force the formation of a 100 per cent pro-German, anti-Semitic government controled entirely by their organization.

Carol replaced Sima with Rado Budisteanu, Iron Guard lieutenant. The others he tried to persuade to keep their places in the government, divided between Iron Guardists and followers of Gen. Octavian Goga, who once headed a pro-Nazi, anti-Semitic Rumanian cabinet.

Premier May Resign.

Premier Gigurtu may resign to make way for a stronger one party government.

Gen. Ion Antonescu, Iron Guardist who was a close friend of the slain party founder, Corneliu Codreanu, was mentioned as a possible successor to Gigurtu. Gen. Antonescu was war minister in the anti-Semitic, pro-Nazi Octavian Goga cabinet.

Iron Guard circles asserted the cooperation of Juliu Maniu's powerful peasant party could be counted upon "if a real Iron Guard government is set up." That party now holds only four of the 18 posts in the cabinet.

Party leaders of the two groups were reported to have reached an "understanding" on a program splitting the Jewish population into categories so restrictions could be introduced "without disrupting Rumania's economic life."

Exemptions would be given Jews born in the old pre-war kingdom, veterans of the world war, military reservists and industrial specialists.

Deny Ill Treatment.

The government denounced reports in the Hungarian press that Hungarian and German minorities in Rumania are ill-treated. Such charges were described as efforts to stir up ill feeling between Germany and Rumania.

Dispatches from Istanbul said Turkey was gravely concerned by continued attacks on that country by press and radio in Germany, Italy and Russia. Some diplomatic quarters expressed belief the attacks were preliminaries to a Russian move toward the Dardanelles.

[A Bucharest dispatch received in London early today from Reuters, British news agency, said the Russian Black sea fleet was reliably reported to be maneuvering off the Bulgarian port of Varna.]

In Sofia, government sources said Bulgaria had been assured by Germany and Italy her territorial claims would be satisfied in a general, peaceful settlement of the Balkan situation.

Plaque Replaced

Leona Brodt examines bronze plaque on building at 333 Lake street.

The bronze plaque which identified the 333 Lake street property as the site of the old Chicago Wigwam was restored last week after remodeling work on the building which now stands there had been completed. While the repairs were being done, an official of Robert White & Co., agents for the building, explained, the tablet was stored in the basement. Its absence had been noted by many historically minded citizens. It was in the old Wigwam in 1860 that Abraham Lincoln was nominated for the presidency.

YOUNG WOMAN GAINS AFTER 2 GIFTS OF BLOOD

Improvement was reported last night in the condition of Miss Mary McCormick, 23 years old, who is in Woodlawn hospital in a critical condition from streptococcus veridans. Her gain was attributed to two transfusions from Phil Loughnane, 20, of 1638 West 93d street, who recovered from the rare disease seven years ago. Loughnane read of Miss McCormick's plight in THE TRIBUNE Wednesday.

Phil Loughnane.

Tests disclosed his blood was the required type 4. The first transfusion was accomplished Saturday. Miss McCormick appeared somewhat stronger. Yesterday Loughnane gave a second pint of blood.

Miss McCormick, who lives at 6724 Cornell avenue and is a former De Paul university student, fell victim to the disease after contracting a cold several weeks ago.

80,000 TO BLESS AMERICA IN SONG AT THRILL SHOW

Fire and Police Pageant to Stress Patriotism.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

The Frank Bennett quartet will sing "God Bless America" in the patriotic demonstration which will be a part of the third annual Chicago Police and Fire Thrill show in Soldiers' field next Sunday afternoon.

Frank Bennett.

The quartet first will sing the celebrated Irving Berlin song of patriotism as a concert number. Mr. Bennett then will lead mass singing of it by the 80,000 persons who are expected to attend the thrill show. Mr. Bennett is the baritone of the quartet. David Johnson is first tenor, Earl Bichel is second tenor, and David Austin is bass.

Children to Wave Flags.

"God Bless America" will be sung as boys and girls of the crowd hold aloft American flags which will be given them at the gates. The boys and girls then will take a pledge of allegiance to the flag and to good citizenship.

The singing will be accompanied by the Board of Trade post American Legion band, directed by Armin F. Hand.

The show will give Chicagoans an opportunity to see their policemen in action in a spectacular dramatization of a crime fight. The firemen will parade into the field with their gleaming pumpers and water towers, and demonstrate how the fight fire with the marvels of modern science.

A temporary six-story building is being erected for the fire fight.

Seats Now on Sale.

The thrill show is sponsored by the Chicago police and fire departments and the Chicago park district, in cooperation with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Seats are now on sale at THE TRIBUNE public service offices in Tribune Tower and at 1 South Dearborn street, at The Fair, and at Gate O, at the south end of Soldiers' field. Tickets are 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. No seats are reserved.

Police and fire chiefs from all Chicagoland and from many distant points, in uniform, will march in the grand opening parade, and then sit in the section reserved for visiting chiefs.

Chief J. Ray Pence of the Stillwater, Okla., fire department, a veteran thrill show visitor, plans to attend again this year. Among the others who have announced that they will attend are Capt. W. F. Ruddy of the Clinton, Ia., fire department, Chief D. W. Martin of the Norway, Mich., fire department, and Police Chief Leo F. Kamius and Fire Marshal Frank Hazard of Peoria.

Indiana Group to Attend.

Mayor Clyde Paxson of Elkhart, Ind., is coming with representatives of his fire and police departments. Assistant Chief Fred Hartkop of the Rock Island Arsenal fire department at Rock Island will be another guest.

Chief Roger F. Shanahan of the Chicago park police explained his department's work and told of its plans for participation in the fire show in a radio address from W-G-N yesterday.

"The park police are ever ready to serve you," he said. "Their work is dangerous, but danger never stops them. Their work requires training, hard work, and ability. They are able men, proud of the service they give to Chicago, proud of their record of achievement."

Gets Contempt Writ

Mrs. Stella Heath and her children as they appeared at hearing yesterday.

Mrs. Stella Heath, 22 years old, of 2633 Armitage avenue, mother of two children, obtained a citation for contempt of court yesterday from Judge Oscar F. Nelson in the Superior court against her husband, Manuel, 25, a decorator, of 1928 North Francisco avenue. On May 17 Judge Nelson vacated a divorce decree granted the husband on the ground that it had been obtained by fraud. The judge at that time entered an order for Heath to pay $7 a week support for the children, Jack, 4, and Roger, 3 months. Mrs. Heath said her husband had paid nothing and was now $44 in arrears. A hearing on the citation was set for Friday.

CITY OFFICIALS SPUR PLANS FOR 2 NEW AIRPORTS

Island and Lake Calumet Projects Advanced.

Development of two new airports was advanced another step by city officials yesterday when:

1. Mayor Kelly announced he will seek to spur federal government construction of the long-proposed island airport at the foot of 14th street.
2. The council finance committee approved a proposal to construct a dike in Lake Calumet preparatory to filling in land for an industrial airport.

Mayor to Confer with Hunter.

The mayor said he will be in Washington, D. C., today to confer with Howard O. Hunter, deputy commissioner of the Work Projects administration, in an effort to push construction of the island port. He said officials there have indicated they may be willing to make the job a WPA project. Its cost has been estimated at 25 million dollars.

Mayor Kelly also said that while in Washington he will call on the citizens' committee named by the Civil Aeronautics authority to select a site for the proposed aviation research laboratory.

"I understand the committee wants the donation of about 100 acres of land as a site for the laboratory," he said. "It may be there is a way to speed the fill in Lake Calumet and use that land for the site."

Dike Would Cost $25,000.

The proposal for the dike in Lake Calumet was submitted to the council committee by Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works. The dike, which would be of earth, would cost $25,000 and would extend across the northern end of the lake. Hewitt told the aldermen it was expected to fill the area behind the dike, approximately 140 acres, with garbage and ashes and make land for an industrial airport. He said the south end of the lake could be used by amphibian planes. According to Hewitt's proposal, the fill would be in the area north of an extension of 110th street.

Ald. William A. Rowan [10th], in whose ward the lake is located, said: "There will be no objection from residents of the ward. They want that work done there because the lake region then can be developed for airplane factories."

Rowan told the committee that three years ago a committee of business leaders on the south side urged the government to use the Lake Calumet district for the construction of aircraft and small naval vessels.

A. F. OF L. STRIKE TIES UP WORK ON NAVAL BOILERS

Barberton, O., July 8 (AP).—A strike today halted work at the Babcock & Wilcox Co. plant, where boilers for the navy are a principal item of manufacture.

Only office and maintenance workers entered the plant, according to Walter J. Mason, recording secretary of the A. F. of L. federal labor union local, who called the walkout.

The organization voted the strike yesterday, he said, after requests for wage increases and extension of vacations to one-year workers had brought a stalemate in contract negotiations. Company officials declined comment on the controversy, altho Mason said representatives of the firm and a union committee had been in conference early this morning and would meet again later in the day. Several hundred workers picketed the plant, where 2,000 ordinarily are employed.

JUST A LITTLE RAG DOLL

SOME MINUTES after all the passengers had left, the pilot snapped his log book shut and started down the empty aisle of his big Mainliner.

Empty? Not quite. In one of the seats, forgotten, lay a little rag doll.

He reached down and picked it up. It had that floppy, well-squeezed look dolls get when they're really loved.

Any father who has helped a curly-head snuggle into bed with a favorite doll would know that here was a tragedy. So the pilot went to work to find its small owner—and all United Air Lines joined him.

United's vast communications system, which speeds weather data, flight information, reservations—can also trace a heart-broken little girl. With the help of willing people thousands of miles apart on United's coast-to-coast system, she was found. And a grateful mother wrote: "She has other dolls much newer and prettier. But this little rag doll is the only one close to her heart. I cannot tell you how much your returning it means to her, and to us."

No company rules could have told that pilot, and all those who helped him, that finding the owner of a frayed little doll is important. Their action sprang from something far deeper—the spontaneous desire to contribute to people's happiness.

That attitude, however, United Air Lines requires as an inborn quality in every one of its 2,600 employees—in the air and on the ground. To it United adds training based on its unmatched experience of 165,000,000 miles of flying.

You will find it in the reservations clerk who arranges your flight . . . in the representative who calls at your office . . . in the stewardess and the pilots aboard your Mainliner. It is equally true behind the scenes—among ground crews, meteorologists, radio men. It produces team-work, helpfulness, initiative, all to a single end—that every detail from the start to the end of your flight anywhere on United Air Lines will be anticipated to contribute to your enjoyment. United could not be satisfied with less. It is the most important thing United Air Lines has to offer. We call it "Mainliner service."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

ROOTIN', TOOTIN' GARNER BACKERS COME TO TOWN

Open Headquarters for Presidential Drive.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Headquarters for Vice President John Nance Garner as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President were opened yesterday at the Sherman hotel with a splash of Texas exuberance.

Garner managers said they have not veered from their assumption that President Roosevelt will not run for a third term and that Garner is the logical choice for nomination as his successor at the national convention which opens Monday in the Stadium.

Their viewpoint, they said, has not been changed by the decision on a third term which the President imparted as a secret to Postmaster General James A. Farley Sunday night.

Office Opened for Wheeler.

Convention headquarters for Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana were opened at the Congress hotel by J. Burke Clements of Helena, national manager for the senator. Wheeler has said that he will lead a third party bolt from the Democratic ticket if the platform fails to take an emphatic stand against sending Americans to fight in Europe. Wheeler and his supporters are expected to make a battle in the resolutions committee for a Wheeler antiwar plank.

Formal opening of the Garner quarters had a prelude in rootin', tootin' frontier style. Eugene B. Germany of Dallas in a ten-gallon hat and cow-puncher garb, rode on horseback into the lobby of the Sherman, up to the desk, and registered from the saddle with much yippee, yippee. Germany, an old cowhand from the Rio Grande, is also a geologist of note, an independent oil producer, mayor of Highland Park, a Dallas suburb; chairman of the Texas Democratic executive committee, and national co-chairman of the Garner for President movement.

The other co-chairman, Mrs. Clara Driscoll, Corpus Christi, Tex., is due to arrive tomorrow. Mr. Garner will not come to the convention, his managers said.

Other Leaders of Movement.

With Co-Chairman Germany were Col. Paul Wakefield of Austin, secretary of the Texas delegation, and Dick Tullis of San Antonio, coördinator of the Garner movement.

Standing beneath the head of a Texas steer with a 6 foot spread of horns, and beside cactus plants in tall pots, Mr. Germany talked with visitors from Illinois and Wisconsin. In the latter state "Cactus Jack" won 3 delegates out of 24 in the presidential primary.

"There is no doubt," said Mr. Germany, "that if President Roosevelt wants a nomination for a third term he can get it. We haven't changed our policy one iota, on the idea he will not be a candidate.

"Assuming he will not be a candidate, our duty as good citizens and Democrats is to find somebody to take his place.

Says Garner Is Best Man.

"We owe it to the country to try and perpetuate the two party system and to attempt to name the man best qualified to be President as a representative of the Democratic party. That man is John Nance Garner."

Col. Wakefield said the Texas delegation is pledged to vote as a unit for Mr. Garner's nomination. The delegation has 46 votes.

On hand from Milwaukee at the headquarters opening were John J. Slocum, secretary of the Democratic state committee, and William Callahan of the Garner campaign committee. Julius F. Smietanka, chairman of the Illinois Garner movement, headed a delegation of Illinoisans.

National headquarters at the Stevens hotel is awaiting the arrival this morning of Postmaster General Farley. Wherever the advance guard assembled in groups yesterday the one question was: Will Farley give a hint on the President's decision on the third term?

Publicity Chief Arrives.

The biggest of the big shots to arrive just a week ahead of the opening gavel in the Stadium arena was that veteran, Charles Michaelson, publicity generalissimo of the Jeffersonians. He received a bevy of correspondents in the afternoon but admitted that, since his train just got in, the many wheels of the machinery of official news had not yet begun to grind.

Michaelson said tentative plans call for a meeting of the committee on arrangements Thursday morning and a final meeting of the present national committee on Friday. Efforts also will be made, he said, to round up enough of the already selected nominees for membership on the resolutions committee for an unofficial conference of some of the platform makers on Friday.

SPECIAL MASTER GOES SAILING ON POLLUTED CANAL

Sees Why Illinois Asks More Lake Water.

Monte M. Lemann, a special master of the United States Supreme court, and representatives of six outside states made an inspection of the sanitary district drainage canal yesterday to observe first hand why Illinois is seeking a larger flow of water from Lake Michigan into the canal and Illinois waterway.

The immediate reason cited is one of public health, allegedly caused by the reduction of diversion from 5,000 to 1,500 cubic feet per second in compliance with a Supreme court order. A temporary restoration of the 5,000 cubic foot flow is being sought. Lemann, a New Orleans lawyer, was appointed by the court to investigate the claims.

Makes Trip on Tug.

Lemann's inspection trip was made aboard the tug Gilbert as the guest of Attorney General John E. Cassidy. Others aboard represented Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania, which states oppose increased diversion on the ground it lowers levels of the Great Lakes. Among the officials was Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert of Ohio.

The trip covered six miles from Brandon lock in Joliet to Lockport. Filth and pollution covered much of the canal's surface. The water flow was almost imperceptible. Thousands of gaseous bubbles burst at the surface along the way. These, engineers said, are the real villians, because they discharge odors which become nauseating in sultry weather.

Yesterday a brisk easterly wind saved Lemann from catching a real sample of the odors. He commented later he didn't think the conditions so bad, but admitted he "wouldn't care to live near them." Attorney General Herbert minimized the odors. "The Cuyahoga river at Cleveland is worse than this every day, but nobody complains," he said.

Hundreds Ready to Testify.

Hundreds of witnesses living in the Joliet region are ready to tell Master Lemann what the decreased diversion has meant to them, said Edwin T. Breen, chief assistant attorney general.

The master probably will start his hearings on Thursday. They will be held in the Illinois Commerce commission rooms in the Burnham building. It may be necessary to hold several hearings in Joliet because more than 100 witnesses live there.

The increase in lake diversion is sought until Dec. 31, 1942, to allow time to complete sewage treatment plants in Stickney.

WOMEN ARRANGE 3 SOCIAL EVENTS FOR CONVENTION GUESTS

Women members of Mayor Kelly's civic committee for the Democratic national convention met yesterday in the Morrison hotel to discuss plans for entertaining the feminine contingent of the convention. Mrs. Elizabeth A. Conkey, Illinois national committeewoman, presided.

Arrangements were completed for three large social functions: a reception and dinner in the Palmer House on Saturday night, at which Congresswoman Mary Norton of New Jersey will preside; a luncheon which Mrs. Conkey will give at the Palmer House Sunday for the 54 visiting national committeewomen, and a public breakfast Tuesday in the Stevens hotel, with the Federation of Illinois Women's Democratic clubs as hostess organization.

One of the speakers Saturday night will be Mrs. Thomas F. McAllister, director of the women's division of the national committee.

STIMSON CABINET APPOINTMENT HIT ON SENATE FLOOR

Vandenberg Leads Fight on Interventionist.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] told the senate today that a vote to confirm President Roosevelt's appointment of Henry L. Stimson as secretary of war would be a vote indorsing interventionist policies which do not stop short of war.

Senator Vandenberg, an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, led the senate fight against confirming the appointment of Stimson, who was secretary of state under President Hoover and secretary of war under President Taft.

Mr. Roosevelt's nomination of Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher and Republican vice presidential candidate in 1936, to be secretary of the navy, will not be acted upon until the Stimson appointment has been disposed of, but the two nominees were attacked jointly in today's debate. Both are expected to be confirmed by substantial majorities.

May Vote for Col. Knox.

Senator Vandenberg, leader of the senate fight against the Roosevelt administration's arms embargo repealer last fall, indicated that he might vote to confirm the appointment of Col. Knox "despite some of his general interventionist enthusiasms." Vandenberg distinguished between the Knox and Stimson cases on the ground that Knox condemned as acts of war two specific proposals made by Stimson on June 18, just 24 hours before President Roosevelt offered him the cabinet post.

"Just 24 hours before he was appointed secretary of war—and this time element is utterly significant—" Senator Vandenberg declared, "Mr. Stimson publicly recommended that we should immediately 'throw open all our ports to the British and French naval and merchant marine for all repairs and refueling and other services.'

Admits Act "Unneutral."

"Mr. Stimson himself admits that this is an unneutral act. He questions rather vaguely whether it is or is not an act of war. In my own view, it would be a direct invitation to bring the war to all our ports.

"Even on the basis of his own thesis—namely, that he wants to keep a British opposition to Hitler alive long enough to give us time to prepare ouselves for ultimate eventualities, if any—it seems to me that his proposition is wrong, because, in practice, it would precipitate rather than postpone our own crisis. We certainly cannot keep out of this war by bringing it to all our ports.

"Mr. Stimson said we should immediately 'throw open all our ports to the British and French naval and merchant marine.' A few days later France collapsed. Then a few more days later the British attacked the French fleet in their North African port. It was one of the major battles of the war. Under the Stimson policy, that battle could have been fought in New York harbor or any other American port."

Use of Convoy "Act of War."

The second Stimson proposal denounced by Senator Vandenberg called for the sending of "planes and other munitions to Great Britain and France—if necessary, in our own ships and under convoy."

That proposal, said Senator Vandenberg, "would strike down every principle upon which we have predicated our own detachment ever since hostilities began. It would load American ships [which are prohibited by our own law from any participation in such traffic] with American munitions [which are unconditional contraband in any language] and send them into foreign combat zones [where our own law prohibits them from going], convoyed by the American navy, which obviously would be intended to resist attack.

"I can think of nothing more flagrantly provocative. That would be war—and we would be in it."

Senator Morris Sheppard [D., Tex.], chairman of the military affairs committee, stated the administration's defense of Stimson when the nomination came before the senate.

Gesture of National Unity.

After summarizing Stimson's own testimony, in which he denied that he is a war monger, Senator Sheppard concluded:

"The value and the significance of his appointment by a Democratic president in what may prove to be one of the most tragic periods in the annals of this nation lies in the fact that it is notice to the world of the fundamental unity of the American people.

"Franklin D. Roosevelt, in tendering important cabinet assignments to Henry L. Stimson and Col. Frank Knox, members of a party not his own, in a crisis imperiling the America we know and love, has shown a steadfast and true Americanism.

"Henry L. Stimson and Frank Knox, in accepting these assignments under such conditions at the hands of a president belonging to a party not their own, have shown a similar loyalty to American ideals. The defense of this nation is the defense of human freedom. In the cause of that defense, all parties, factions, sections, creeds, and races become a brotherhood that never will surrender—a brotherhood that never will die."

Have You a House in England?

¶ A world famous organization for the welfare of British blinded soldiers, sailors and airmen has become the central eye hospital for all military and civilian severe cases where blindness is caused or threatened by enemy action. Already twenty-eight cases are in this hospital, some temporarily, some partially, and others wholly blinded. Many of the latter know already that they will never see again. St. Dunstans is a House of Hope and we are teaching them that blindness is an opportunity.

But our present establishment is on the sea coast at Brighton, England only seventy miles from the coast of France where the German air force is situated. We blinded cannot regain health, strength and peace of mind if subject to air raids or air raid warnings or bombardment and in any case we must be prepared for any emergency move.

In the last war our first House called St. Dunstans was lent us by an American citizen and another American citizen has already lent me a house in the West Country but I now want a very big country house capable of taking one hundred beds in the main building or including lodges and cottages etc., and room to build temporary cabins.

There are a number of Americans who own such a house on the western side of the United Kingdom who will, I feel sure on reading this appeal, be disposed to help me by offering to lend their house for the duration of the war.

I shall be deeply grateful for any offers. The house will be used partly as a hospital, partlyas a convalescent home and partlyas a place where young severely wounded men and perhaps women too will learn to be blind.

MARTIN CHOSEN TO BE WILLKIE'S CAMPAIGN CHIEF

Made G. O. P. Chairman; Hamilton to Be Aid.

Willkie' I know it is not a paid gallery," he said.

There were a few other brief speeches.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan said: "We have a new President of the United States on order. The nominee has captured the imagination of the American people and is about to capture their votes."

Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio addressed Willkie as "Mr. President" and Martin as "Mr. Speaker."

Willkie Meets the Press.

Before the dinner the presidential nominee held a press conference at the Willard hotel, his headquarters here. The conference was attended by 200 or more and rivaled in excitement and interest the Roosevelt White House conferences. Willkie sat on the back of a chair against the wall and faced the newspaper barrage with poise and wit.

He told his audience he would leave Washington tomorrow afternoon for Colorado, where he expects to rest for a week and then start work on his acceptance speech, which will be made about Aug. 1 at Elwood, Ind., his home town.

"Are you going to have a brain trust write your speech for you?" the nominee was asked.

"No, I roll my own," he replied, adding that it would be a short speech because "any long speech is a bad speech."

Refuses Any Commitments.

In the meantime, he asserted, he would not make any commitments on questions of policy, such as the foreign situation, on which he was pressed for a statement.

"Senator McNary and I had a delightful visit," said Willkie. "He insisted that his farm in Salem, Ore., is the best, and I argued that my farm in Indiana is superior. We were in complete accord on the campaign plans. He was very enthusiastic about the whole program."

Asked whether he intended to campaign in the southern states or thought his ticket had a chance there, Willkie said:

"I expect to appeal to the whole country. I think we have a substantial chance to win the whole country."

No White House Parley.

Neither President Roosevelt nor Willkie took the initiative toward arranging a meeting between them, which had been suggested last week as a good thing for the country. Willkie said that one does not break into the White House without an invitation, and Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said: "We haven't had any request from Willkie for an appointment or any word that he would like to come."

At the airport to meet Willkie when he arrived by plane earlier in the day to make his first appearance in Washington as a candidate was an enthusiastic crowd of several hundred persons. Among the welcomers were Congressman Martin, Congressman William Ditter of Pennsylvania, Congressman Charles Halleck of Indiana, who made the Willkie nominating speech at the national convention; Senator H. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, one of Willkie's rivals for the presidential nomination, and Senator John Thomas of Idaho, who had opposed the Willkie nomination.

Cheered at His Hotel.

From the airport the Republican nominee was rushed to his hotel, where another crowd of several hundred cheered him. Just as he was about to step into the hotel elevator, Mrs. Nellie Ruth of Hampton, Va., approached him with outstretched arms and announced that she, "a lifelong Democrat," would vote for him.

When Congressman Frank Horton of Wyoming greeted Willkie and said he was glad to see him, Willkie replied:

"O, we'll be down here eight years together, Frank."

Convention Rivalries Forgotten

MARTIN G. O. P. VETERAN

Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, who was chosen yesterday to be the new chairman of the Republican national committee, was considered a dark horse possibility as presidential nominee during the recent Republican national convention. But Martin, who served as permanent chairman of the convention, discouraged any talk of his candidacy because of his enthusiasm for Wendell L. Willkie, the successful contender.

In Congress for 15 Years.

Martin has been a member of congress for the last 15 years. As minority leader he is known as an able parliamentarian. His associates respect his readiness to oppose what he considers wrong. Martin is short, stocky, dark haired, and pugnacious, but with a wide friendly smile.

The new Republican chairman is 55 years old. He was born in North Attleboro, Mass., where he still has his home. His father was a blacksmith. Joe Martin was the eldest of eight children. After his graduation from high school he was offered a scholarship at Dartmouth college but turned it down. He played baseball in high school and for semi-pro teams.

Publisher of Newspaper.

Martin became a reporter for the Attleboro Sun and the Providence Journal. Later he became editor and publisher of the North Attleboro Evening Chronicle which he has operated for 31 years. Martin entered politics in 1912 when he was elected to the Massachusetts house of representatives. Later he served in the state senate.

He was sent to congress in 1925. During the presidential election in 1936 Martin served as eastern manager of the Republican national campaign. Martin never married. He neither drinks nor smokes.

HOW CAN Federal Savings and Loan Associations PAY SUCH AN ATTRACTIVE RETURN ON SAVINGS?

Few types of security equal the stability of individually owned homes. For nearly 110 years savings and loan associations have served the public faithfully through good times and bad, a conclusive indication of the soundness of the operating methods of Federal Savings and Loan Associations.

Individuals, husbands and wives jointly, and trustees and guardians—many of each type of investor and saver have accounts at Federal Savings and Loan Associations whose accounts are legal investments for the latter group.

Right now is the time to see a Federal Savings and Loan Association, where Safety of Funds is Insured up to $5,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, about opening an account for attractive earnings for the rest of 1940 and the years to come.

Federal Savings and Loan Associations are "specialists." Practically all of their funds are furnished to individual home owners for buying, building, modernizing, or refinancing their homes—many thousands of homes, in fact, which spreads widely the basic security behind funds saved and invested with these institutions.

Being mutual-type institutions, all income from this highly efficient lending operation is distributed semi-annually as "dividends" on savings, after reserves and operating expenses are covered. Even despite the low rates which funds for home financing bring today, the highly efficient operating procedures of Federal Savings and Loan Associations make it possible to pay an attractive return to savers because of this sound mutual principle.

And combined with Insurance for Safety up to $5,000.00 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, you will go far to find as attractive a place for your long-term savings—large or small.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S HOSTS.

Within a period of 10 days recently the following items concerning leaders and henchmen of the Democratic political machine in Chicago appeared in the newspapers of this city:

June 19—Municipal Judge Luczak dismisses charges and countercharges brought after Edward M. Sneed, colored Democratic member of the county board, had fired several shots into the office of an oil company following a street altercation with two employés of the company.

June 22—Four city teamsters confess that they paid bribes to Wilbur O. Sawless, secretary treasurer of the municipal teamsters union, to enable them to pass city civil service tests. Sawless was exposed and fired from his union job by international officers of his union. The statute of limitations prevents prosecution and no attempt has been made to discover how money traced as far as Sawless procured action by the Democratic civil service commission.

June 26—Joseph R. Munizzo, a former assistant attorney general, was reported named by the grand jury in a true bill charging him with forgery designed to defraud the state of the proceeds of a judgment obtained against a sales tax cheater. Munizzo had been forced to resign his state job when the fraud was discovered two weeks earlier.

June 27—City paid workmen, using city owned materials, are found making the privately owned Chicago Stadium ready for the Democratic national convention. It was estimated that their work will cost taxpayers $10,000.

June 28—Robert Myers, former clerk in the state unemployment compensation division, is sentenced to the Bridewell for 4½ months for conspiracy to defraud the state and for bribery. Myers, for a fee, made illegal compensation payments totaling $3,000 to café employés of Dennis [The Duke] Cooney, Chicago's leading pander and member of the Capone syndicate.

This is a sampling of the Democratic machine in Chicago and Illinois which will be host to the Democratic party and to President Roosevelt if he appears at his party's national convention. This machine outdoes all others in howling for a third term. The machine hopes that its cry of "Roosevelt and Humanity" will distract attention from such as Sneed, Munizzo, and Myers, from civil service scandals and political use of public employés and property, from Strongbox Slattery and 2 per cent, and from all the other corruptionists and corruption that go to make up the Democratic party in this state.

IRELAND NEXT?

Ireland's position in the coming battle of Britain must give the Free State as much anxiety and apprehension as it gives Mr. Churchill's government. President De Valera says that he will defend the neutrality of the Irish state with all force available against any one. Northern Ireland, the Ulster government, is at war; the Free State is at peace. But the Free State contains for Great Britain an element of danger even graver than that presented by the French fleet after the French surrender.

The British could not afford to allow the French navy to fall into German hands and still less could they allow Ireland to be made into a German base of operations. Attack from such bases, if it only cut the remaining sea lanes, might be fatal. The Free State cannot calmly view the possibility that it would become another Norway or Denmark, or another Belgium. There may be Irishmen who would welcome German assistance to put an end to Britain forever but the uncertainties of such a procedure and the destruction which would follow if De Valera defended neutrality against German landing would give the majority of Irishmen cause to welcome British aid in repelling an invasion.

The added danger both to Ireland and to Britain is that at present they cannot take measures in common for defense, and the island, half at war and half at peace, is exposed to Hitler's next move if he should decide that it is not to be directly at the heart of the British empire but at its exposed flank. The next stroke may be at Ireland, with incalculable results.

GREAT LAKES SHIPYARDS.

Navy yards and private shipbuilding ways on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts are already crowded close to capacity with naval and commercial craft. Most of the vessels provided by the most recent naval bills will constitute only a paper navy for years to come because of lack of facilities for building. As usual, the Roosevelt administration has shown itself more adept at voting money than at obtaining useful results from its expenditure.

In this defense emergency the shipbuilding facilities of the Great Lakes form a considerable asset which the navy has to date neglected. There are on the lakes 23 shipbuilding ways and 16 dry docks. The latter can be used in an emergency for building purposes, altho most of their facilities are required for repair of existing commercial craft, which perform such essential functions as transporting the bulk of the iron ore for the nation's steel mills.

The building ways would permit construction of more than 23 naval craft at one time, since most of them are of a size to accommodate large lake steamers. The outlets of the Great Lakes limit the size of ocean craft built at the inland ports. The locks will take vessels up to 250 feet long, drawing 14 feet.

Thus, while the ways on the Great Lakes would accommodate ships as large as cruisers, not even destroyers, which are more than 300 feet long, could be gotten to the sea. In an emergency, of course, the world war practice of building ships in two sections for transit thru the locks could be adopted again. Ships so built were found to be perfectly seaworthy.

The greatest utility of the Great Lakes shipyards, however, is for the construction of the multitude of small craft necessary to the functioning of the fleet. These include submarine chasers, motor torpedo vessels, tugs, patrol vessels, and various auxiliary craft. By concentrating such construction in the Great Lakes area the tidewater plants would be left free to build the larger naval craft.

A CONTINENT OF HATREDS.

If Europe is paying now for the hatreds of the other war and the subsequent peace, it would also seem inevitable to be sowing new animosities for another generation or more, regardless of the nature of the settlement after the fighting stops. Again, it may be that the fighting will stop but the war will not.

Most of the peoples who have been overrun by Germany will hand down a bitter hatred of the invader. Poland, suffering its fourth partition, has been oppressed by both the Germans and the Russians. To the devastation caused by the German army in Nazi occupied Poland has been added the brutality of Himmler's police work. The Poles have been mistreated beyond forgetfulness or forgiveness.

People might heal the wounds caused by the defeat of their armies but time will have difficulty with the injuries of a population ruthlessly treated after the fighting ceased. The small Baltic states and Finland have reason to resent the betrayal of their independence or integrity by the aggressive powers. Norway will hate its traitors, hate the Germans, and will have no great affection for the French and the British who failed to give them effective aid in time of need.

The treason which helped the enemy in the Netherlands and in Belgium will increase the bitterness which must have arisen in stricken cities and in the countryside flooded with despairing refugees. The overrun countries will bear a lasting grudge not only against the enemy that shattered them but also against the allies who were unable to come to their rescue. The British and the French have excoriated Belgium's king and they will have little regard for the Belgians, altho in fairness they have tried to make a distinction between the government and the people.

At the present moment there is probably no hatred in all Europe so intense as that of the British for the French and of many French for the British. They accuse each other of responsibility for military disaster; they say of each other that proper coöperation was refused; each side says it was abandoned to fight its own battle and extricate itself or succumb. The French are not only conquered but they are so divided against themselves that almost any conflagration could be expected if German arms were not in readiness to overwhelm the uprising.

The sinking and capture of French ships by the British navy will be the end of the undependable British-French alliance and the old hereditary enemies may again take their place in history. Hating the British and hating the Germans, the French also have reason to hate the Italians, whose calculating Mussolini came in for the kill. To the outraged Poles, in the east, must be added the Czechs and some of the Austrians. Rumania is torn apart and may be facing still greater adversities.

What can be done with a continent in which every national animosity has been raised to the nth power by the events of the year? If the Germans keep their gains, it would seem that they must rule by military command. Not even the peace after the last war left such a sullen, injured, and unforgiving aggregation of nations as will be found within the new map of Europe, whoever makes it. In spite of the injuries inflicted by that peace, there was some good will manifest in the efforts at rehabilitation, and the United States took a generous, if illusioned, part in sending its money to help rebuild what the war had demolished. We don't see the prospects for much of that good will, particularly if the Nazi idea prevails. And it will be the fate of the United States, plainly to be perceived, to find itself, regardless of what the results may be, hated or disliked by all the sufferers, by the winners and the losers alike. The tall talk which has flowed out of Washington for several years has caused bitterness everywhere in Europe. The Germans and Italians will be furious because we did aid their opponents and their opponents will be furious because the aid they got did not measure up to the promises Mr. Roosevelt made and the expectations he aroused.

Whoever is the winner, there will be no good will for America. It has done too much and not enough. It represents the greatest aggregation of national wealth in gold and goods. Its government will have so contrived its policies that it won't have a friend in the world. We came out of the other war in much that condition but it will be worse this time.

ENVY THE ANIMALS.

[Washington Post.]

New Orleans' Audubon park has forbidden jitterbugs. They kept the animals awake.

Here is another instance of man's humanity to animals, which stands out in contrast to his inhumanity to man. Even in Russia a zoo attendant was brought to trial on a charge that he annoyed the captive beasts and birds with loud music. It is true that he also was accused of eating the bear, but such an offense presumably was condemned only as destruction of public property. The main point seems to be that animals must not be subjected to some punishments which man must endure.

Soon after the blitzkrieg in Poland began the director of Germany's famous Hagenbeck Zoölogical gardens in Hamburg made arrangements to ship many of his animals to Russia—possibly to get them away from the war of nerves. The London zoo sent a sea lion to Washington for the duration, but most Londoners had to stay and take their medicine.

If the trend continues there will be a revolution. One of these hot nights Washingtonians, kept awake by wailings and stampings of other Washingtonians, will march to the city's animal sanctuary and invade the quiet pool of Snowy, the polar bear.

That unrestrained merriment you hear is only little Clarence after having been informed that, owing to the war in Europe, there will be a shortage of that nice cod liver oil this year.—Portland Oregonian.

ALWAYS MISSING THE BUS.

It would happen, of course, that just about the time this column was turned over to us for guidance the Age of Whimsey died.

When we became a past master of the bicycle the nation suddenly turned to automobiles. When we had achieved high proficiency in the waltz and two-step, the ballrooms switched to the turkey-trot and the bunny-hug. When we had learned with much effort how to carry our liquor like a gentleman, the prohibition era stepped on our heels. Finally, when we had attained mellow ripeness as a drama critic, the American theater went completely to seed [or nuts].

The ballet dancers of England are being asked to surrender their skirts for use as hospital bandages. Such an announcement in America would be regarded as the best anachronism of the week.

Our attention has been called to a sonnet by an English poet, which begins:

Another year! Another deadly blow!
Another mighty empire overthrown!

It runs on to say of England:

Contemporary? Not by a long shot. Its title is "November, 1806," and it was written by William Wordsworth after Napoleon had crushed the Prussian armies at Jena and Auerstädt and entered Berlin in triumph.

In 1913 Rudyard Kipling wrote a short story about a German airplane with a silencer gadget on its engine which swooped secretly to a landing on a private golf course in England. What happened then you may learn if you will look up the tale called "The Edge of the Evening" in the volume entitled "A Diversity of Creatures."

MEMORIES OF ENGLAND—I.

(Plymouth.)

So this is Plymouth, town of splendid fame,
A shrine of liberty without a peer.
To this plain barbican, one fateful year,
A little band of stalwart Pilgrims came,
And steered their Mayflower out to unknown seas.
Miles Standish was a youth of warlike parts.
John Carver, William Brewster stirred all hearts
With godly zeal; then to the favoring breeze
They set their sails, and journeyed to the west
Where God Himself assured a dwelling place
For them and theirs. Upon each eager face
Hope shed its light. Past every stormy test
They knew that they should find, by faith sustained,
A goodly land, where truth and freedom reigned.

The Real Dope from a Numerologist.

Double letters in a name are found to carry a vibration for greater achievement and success than names with no double letters. The strongest double letter is L, and it indicates "everything provided for," luxuries and opulence.

Wendell L. Willkie has a powerful name. The L of his middle name may even be said to stand for the equivalent of a double L.

The numerical vibration of LL is 33, the highest numerical vibration and the equivalent of the highest degree in Freemasonry.

The vowels of Wendell L. Willkie total 33. Vowels indicate the innermost desires and ambitions, and, according to the Republican nominee's signature, he wants "business to have its regular course"; he desires that "clothes and food are provided for," that "stores are filled . . . old and weak, orphans, and solitary receive anxious consideration."

The double O as found in Roosevelt, Hoover, Coolidge, and Woodrow Wilson is not as powerful as a double L and not as powerful as two double L's.

Lore of an Intellectual Slum.

Altho I myself never visited the famous Dill Pickle club [July 4], I am informed by a friend, who was a patron, that the dollhouse doorway of this institution was of unusual design, even for a speakeasy. The doorsill was so tall that it was necessary to take a large step and duck one's head in order to enter.

In the spirit of this condition there was, I am told, a sign above this entrance reading: "Step high, stoop low, and leave your dignity on the outside."

Memories of a Gallery God.

After graduating from the second gallery of the old Alhambra theater we drifted over to the Columbia theater on Wabash avenue near 18th street. Our English teacher at South Division High school recommended that we take in "Othello" and "Julius Cæsar" to improve our appreciation of Shakespeare, so we applauded the members of the Elliot stock company to an echo. When the company moved to the Thirty-first Street theater, near Cottage Grove avenue, in the spring of 1903, we went right along, to cheer Richard Buhler, Fredrick Hartley, William Jossey, and Anne Sutherland in the leading parts of popular dramas.

In the fall of that year we transferred our loyalties to the Dearborn stock company downtown, but that's another story.

FIRST AID IN SNAKEBITE.

SNAKEBITES are not common—despite the gallons of so-called antidote carted along by fishermen and hunters. Nevertheless, when a venomous reptile strikes we must know something about what to do in order to save life.

Unfortunately, most accidents of this sort will occur miles from a skilled physician and at a much greater distance perhaps from a supply of antitoxin. Thus it is that a modest amount of knowledge of first aid may be of value.

What precautions should we take? First of all, we may recall that the pernicious types include pit vipers and the coral variety. Examples are the rattlesnake [13 species], the moccasin [two species], the cotton mouth or water moccasin, and the copperhead. Pit vipers are so named because there is a blind indentation on each side of the nose midway between the eyes and the nostrils. The pupils are generally elliptical, the heads triangular in shape, while the fangs fold back against the roof of the mouth. The coral snake [no pits] is brilliantly marked with black and red bands set off by yellow stripes which completely encircle the body.

Should one of these serpents pierce the skin there is usually immediate and intense pain. Swelling is rapid and the discoloration which surrounds the fang marks [two in number] increases as time goes on. Whether the bite will be serious or not depends much upon circumstances. If the animal has killed food recently and has emptied its poison sacs, there is little danger unless the injection takes place directly into a vein. Again, much will depend upon how much fat lies beneath the epidermis, as this serves as a diluting and slowing up layer. If the cuticle is drawn tightly over the parts, absorption is faster. Fortunate is the one—if he must be attacked—who is overweight.

But some of the deadly poison is taken into the blood stream rather promptly—where it begins to destroy the cells. Furthermore, a goodly quantity of serum is poured out from the capillaries which adds to the puffiness. This must be removed quickly as otherwise muscle fibers and other tissues may be dissolved. Sometimes the circulation is cut off and, in consequence, gangrene follows.

For those who are near a large city where antivenin can be obtained, it is essential that this preparation be injected as soon as possible. But far more depends upon instantaneous local treatment than upon the employment of serum many hours later.

First and foremost is the application of a bandage above the site of the injury. Not more than an inch need be allowed. The band should be tight enough to obstruct the return flow but not to cut off fresh blood from the heart. As the swelling advances, the bandage may be moved upward. How snug it should be is indicated by the color of the extremities. If they turn bluish it must be loosened.

The affected area is then covered with an alcoholic solution of iodine [if available—altho soap and water will be equally effective]; the skin is then slit several times in the neighborhood of the puncture wound—each cut about ⅛ of an inch deep. Suction is started with a rubber bulb or by any means at hand, such as the mouth. There is little hazard in extracting toxin via the oral route if the material is expectorated and the mouth washed between operations. The procedure must be kept up for approximately an hour.

If narcotics are at hand they may be administered to relieve pain. It has been found that whisky tends to stimulate absorption and—for this reason—is decidedly the wrong remedy. When the patient reaches the hospital suction is continued for 15 or 20 minutes of every hour. Fluids are given freely and a blood transfusion is made ready should marked anemia be observed.

Most wounds occur on the extremities, hence hikers in infested regions may avoid trouble by protecting the legs and feet.

HEARING AIDS.

C. H. writes: According to tests made at an ear phone company I have lost 90 per cent of hearing, yet I can hear myself sing, talk, and chew. Does not this prove that the nerve is all right?

REPLY.

The nerve pathway to the brain is clearly intact. In other words, a considerable amount of bone conduction remains, even tho waves of sound striking the drum are not transmitted. You should be able to hear with a proper amplifier attached to the bone behind the ear.

ATHLETE'S FOOT.

C. D. writes: 1. Is there danger of contracting athlete's foot in a public pool which is supplied with a tub of disinfectant for the use of swimmers?

2. Should the disease be contracted, what treatment is advisable?

REPLY.

1. Not if every one will follow instructions and take a shower before entering the water—the feet in the solution on leaving.

2. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet giving various remedies.

TEETHING EARLY.

Mrs. F. writes: My daughter is 2½ years old. She had all her baby teeth before she was 20 months old and she is now cutting her six year molars. My friends tell me they never heard of such a situation. Is there any cause for alarm?

REPLY.

None whatever. The teeth are in the jaw at birth. Good nutrition is no doubt responsible for their early appearance.

REPORT FROM A GARDENER.

Aurora, Ill., July 3.—Your reader's letter telling of her failure with vitamin B1 prompted me to write my experiences.

I am an old timer in the garden game and like to try any new idea, including B1.

In early spring I dug up 12 perennials, divided and treated them. So far the iris, peonies, chives, and phlox are no better than the untreated plants, but the golden glow, yarrow, ribbon grass, veronica, bergamot, parsley, and violets are away ahead of the season and are strong, healthy plants. The aquilegia seemed to make the best growth. It has been in bloom for a month, and has 30 buds now.

Sixty pansy plants did not do so well. They all lived but grew too fast and lopped over. Of spring sown seeds the sweet peas, gourds, marigolds, zinnias, and dill are far ahead of the untreated seed.

I have always failed with transplanted larkspurs and poppies. The few larkspurs I reset are three feet tall and have flower stems eight inches long. The poppies grew larger stems and stood up better than the original bed. Spring set hollyhocks are full of buds.

It has been a great pleasure to see what happens. Twelve onion sets under a hotcap pushed the cap off the ground in four weeks and were one mass of tops that we used for salads. I used to use sunflowers for bean poles. I did not treat the sunflower seed, but did the beans. Today the beans are twice the size of the sunflowers.

I think vitamin B1 makers have something, but a lot to learn yet.

I have transplanted hundreds of vegetable and flower plants this spring, and my stand is almost perfect. I am looking forward to interesting results.

TRIBUTE TO BRENTANO.

Chicago, July 5.—Permit me to deposit a flower to the memory of a great jurist, lawyer, and diplomat, Theodore Brentano, who has recently passed away.

Many thought he was a very stern judge. But beneath that sternness beat a tender, loving, and magnificent heart.

In my first experiences with him, as a trial lawyer, we fought like Kilkenny cats. Later I learned to know and love him.

I recall a case where he asked the defendant in a noted case, "Have you anything to say before the court pronounces sentence?" After the defendant had told his story the court's eyes were visibly moist. He told that man he wished he had made that statement to the jury. "But I have no power to alter its finding."

He, as far as I know, originated the parole system. A young man was convicted. But the judge thought he should, with his abilities, have another chance. The law provided no way. But the judge found a way. Some three years after this incident the judge and myself learned that this man was employed by a large corporation, in charge of a department, and a few years after he was general manager, drawing a salary of $10,000 a year. Married and had four children.

The judge used to say, "Bob, that man's talents were turned to benefit society. What a blessing."

I have tried cases before many of Chicago's best judges. Theodore Brentano was one of the greatest judges the Illinois bar ever knew. May his great soul have a splendid reward.

CELEBRATING HITLER.

If the constitution of the United States permits foreign elements to celebrate their nation's day and uphold tactics of dictators, the constitution should be changed.

"BURNED UP" BY SALES TAXES.

Chicago, July 5.—The defense taxes are now in effect and I am only too glad to do my bit in this or any other tangible way. But in the operation I'm afraid it's going to encourage grafting by the retailer, who will convert a 10 per cent tax which they pay to about 25 per cent or more which they collect. I'm only too glad to pay 3 per cent on occupational tax, but I burn up plenty when I have to pay 6 2-3 per cent.

For a year or so I've wondered why we of Chicago and vicinity are called upon to pay 1 to 2 cents a package for cigarets.

It's a dirty outrage that the newspapers of Chicago will take part in this cigaret racket and not protect the people who make it possible for their presses to run. Go 100 miles from Chicago—popular brands have been selling 2 for 25 cents, but here we pay the good old racket 2 cents more. With the defense tax added [less than one-quarter cent per package] "the boys" get 1 cent—a little bit more for them and our hungry politicians.

I don't suppose, for political reasons, you'll do a darned thing about this.

ON LAUGHTER.

Chicago, July 5.—Laughter is the most sublime expression of life. Its possessor will always enjoy happiness and may thereby be healthy in body and soul. A man strong in muscle and spirit is nihil without a smile on his lips. Sternness depresses self as well as others; a smile uplifts.

How pleasing to the soul is the harmonious and unequal rhythm of laughter! It comes from an everlasting source. Happiness, in close companionship with health, is its source. Laughter is golden!

PANHANDLERS IN THE STREETS.

Chicago, July 5.—The police are reported to be making a special effort to rid the loop of panhandling. While walking about the city I have run into scores of them.

A person naturally feels sympathy for those who are obviously poor. But the other night a man wearing white slacks and a blue coat reached out his hand for "help." I was once stopped by a man on Rush street who appeared a perfect fashion plate. He asked for a dime.

On Lake Shore drive a man quite well dressed asked for carfare to 63d street. Some panhandlers stand by restaurants waiting for people to come out and be touched for a "little something."

With all the convention visitors in Chicago the year around this sort of street begging game should be stopped. J. N.

FAREWELL ADDRESS OUTMODED.

Chicago, July 5.—Why is the Monroe Doctrine, promulgated by President Monroe in 1823 and committing the United States to policing the western hemisphere, such a fine, up-to-date document, while Washington's farewell address, delivered by the father of our country only 27 years earlier and charting our traditional policy of isolation from European political affairs, is now ah old fashioned, outmoded manuscript? GIVING YOUTH A WRONG DEAL.

Chicago, July 5.—So Mr. Sidney Hillman is to take over the training of young men and women under the national defense program. Is there no one who has a background free from association with radicals who might be appointed to direct the training of our youth?

The New Deal certainly gives youth the wrong deal. Carle Brown.

APARTMENT TENANCY.

Chicago, July 3 [Legal Friend of the People].—I am a tenant and have lived in this apartment for five years, having a lease now for six months.

1. I have asked my rent agent to accept my rent every two weeks.

He said he would this time in June of this month, but he said he will refuse me again and [2] if so could he ask me to move and [3] how long will the courts allow me to remain in this apartment?

R. B.

1. We do not understand what point is involved. If you mean that you have asked them to wait until the middle of the month for half of the rent that should have been paid on the first, then they are under no obligation to grant this request.

2. He could put you out on five days' notice if you do not pay the rent in full on the date agreed upon.

3. There is no definite statutory figure. It seems likely that the entire proceedings would take a little over two weeks.

STORE LEASE.

Chicago, July 3 [Legal Friend of the People].—I rented a store with an 18 month lease and a six month option. The building has now been sold. We were notified by letter the lease we now hold will not be renewed. What I would like to know is:

1. Do I have to move when my lease expires or [2] is the six month option good?

3. Do I have to write the new owners anything or just pay my rent as usual? I am not very good at explaining, but would appreciate any information you could give me. L. A.

1. Yes, unless you exercise the option.

2. Yes, as far as the facts stated are concerned, but obviously we cannot give advice of much value without having the wording before us.

3. No. He takes subject to your rights under the existing lease. If you wish to exercise the option, and he is the owner at that time, then presumably you should notify him of that fact.

Braddock tried routine military methods, rallying his men time and again, but was helpless against guerrilla methods. The French and Indians were only 900 strong, but they inflicted heavy losses, Braddock himself being mortally wounded. George Washington, an aide to Braddock, led the survivors in a safe retreat.

HOOTS! PARASCOTS SHOWED THE WAY HALF A CENTURY AGO!

This drawing from the Graphic, about 1890, by William Ralston, Glasgow artist, gives an interesting forecast of parachute troops, used extensively by the Nazis in invasion of the Low Countries. The original sketch was made by Lieut. Col. Robley, who commanded a battalion of Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, and shows Scottish troops dropped from balloons shooting at panic stricken tribesmen. A forced landing is in the offing for the soldier at left as cords making his kilt parachute have broken. The sketch was suggested by Prof. Baldwin's display when he created a sensation 50 years ago by parachute descents from a balloon.—Toronto Globe and Mail.

ENGINEERS MAP DETROIT SYSTEM OF SUPERROADS

State and County Bureaus Agree on Type.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., July 8.—The Wayne county road commission and the Michigan highway commission both are recommending superhighway construction for this automobile manufacturing city of 1,600,000 population.

Engineers of the county and state have been making independent studies. Their basic conclusions are identical. They agree that pavements with continuous grade separation, elevated or depressed, altho expensive are cheaper than widening major surface streets and much cheaper than the cost of delays and accidents inherent in surface streets.

Both agree that costs should be borne by city, county, state, and federal governments. An agreement on designs and locations has not been reached. The plans have not reached the conference stage as yet.

Detroit Route to Be Urged.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, soon will deliver to the Detroit city council a recommendation for a 50 million dollar cross-town superhighway, partly elevated and partly depressed for its 19 mile length. The location, following the approximate alignment of McGraw and Harper streets, parallels the Detroit river about three miles from the water front.

Leroy C. Smith, Wayne county engineer, also favors a cross-town route in the initial construction of a 29 mile system estimated to cost a total of 72½ million dollars. His recommendation, however, calls for 15 miles, partly elevated and partly depressed, on the approximate alignment of Mack and Myrtle streets, paralleling the river 1.75 miles from the water front.

The impending dispute, projected upon a map more familiar to readers of THE TRIBUNE, would be similar to a question in Chicago of whether a north and south superhighway should be located at about Halsted street or at about Damen avenue.

Traffic Pattern Different.

Both proposals are for a superhighway by-pass of downtown congestion. In this respect they differ from routes advocated for Chicago radiating from the loop. The traffic pattern here is different.

Both cities have a downtown district on a water front. In Chicago, the loop is the vortex of automobile travel. In Detroit, however, the largest centers of employment are in motor car plants on the outskirts. This creates heavy cross-town traffic.

"The Mack-Myrtle route," said Engineer Smith, "has an advantage in that it would serve motorists en route to downtown as well as motorists wishing to by-pass downtown. It is on the fringe of the business district. It would form one side of a rectangle around this area as a distributor for a comprehensive superhighway system.

River Front Superroad Urged.

"On the opposite side of the downtown triangle, we are proposing a river front superhighway. The other two sides would be formed by a superhighway in Hamilton and 6th, northwest from the river for 5.5 miles, and a parallel route in Oakland and Hastings for 7.5 miles.

"My mind is not set on designs, but for industrial and semi-industrial areas the elevated type obviously is to be preferred. It is cheaper, requiring less right of way. It doesn't disturb underground utilities. It provides for parking and for local traffic at grade. It involves no drainage or snow removal problems.

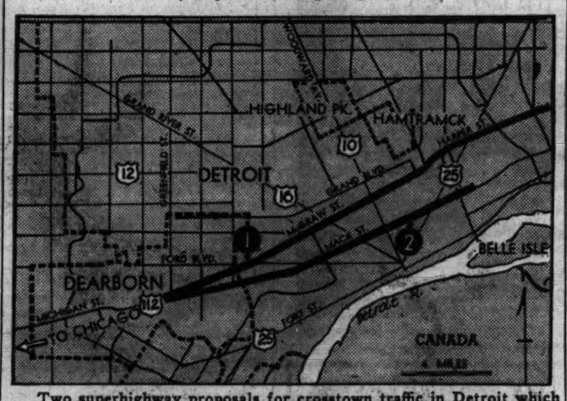
"The elevated also fits into a neighborhood of tall buildings, esthetically, functionally, and economically. The architecture of an upper level roadway can be ornamental in such a neighborhood.

"The design is flexible, accommodating a zone requiring many ramps. The lower right of way requirement dictates this type for areas of expensive realty.

"In better residential neighborhoods, an elevated might cause heavy damage to adjacent property. In such neighborhoods, with entrances and exits a mile apart, much of the pavement might be at approximate grade, fenced and landscaped to bar pedestrians and cross-traffic from the express ways."

Detroit Favors Superhighways

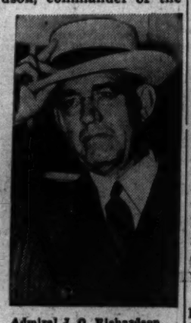
(Story in adjoining column.)



Two superhighway proposals for crosstown traffic in Detroit which are recommended by the Wayne county road commission and the state highway commission. 1. The route favored by the state commissioner, and (2) that preferred by the county engineer.

COMMANDER OF FLEET MAKES SECRET TRIP TO SEE ROOSEVELT

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Admiral J. O. Richardson, commander of the fleet, arrived in the capital unannounced from Hawaii and was a White House caller today as President Roosevelt worked on the final draft of his new defense requests, expected to call for expenditure of 5 billion dollars.



Admiral J. O. Richardson. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

What purpose had brought the commanding officer of the navy's fighting forces secretly 5,500 miles from the fleet's present base was not disclosed. He merely told reporters that he discussed routine fleet matters with the President.

Since the collapse of France, there has been increasing speculation that the fleet might return to the west coast to be nearer to the Panama Canal, or perhaps be transferred to the Atlantic. In response to questions, however, Richardson said he knew of no disposition to shift the warships from Hawaii.

Admiral Richardson's visit afforded opportunity for the President to discuss with him the naval projects in the rearmament recommendations.

Convict Kills Self When Attempt to Escape Jail

Fort Madison, Ia., July 8 (AP).—A futile escape attempt at the state penitentiary here this evening resulted in the suicide of Convict William Cunningham, a lifer, and the wounding of Robert Hart, a guard who was patroling a wall of the prison. Three men who were seen outside the prison were believed to have fired the shot that wounded the guard and then to have thrown a shotgun over the wall. Warden Glenn C. Haynes said he believed the men outside were ones who escaped from the prison June 22.

EX-BAILIFF TAKES STAND TO DENY JURY FIX CHARGE

James Creed, former personal bailiff to Judge Joseph A. Graber, took the stand in the Criminal court of Judge James F. Fardy yesterday in defense of charges that he and three others conspired to fix a jury in a vote fraud case.

Creed denied earlier testimony by Marvin Olson, a state's witness, that they had discussed the vote fraud case, which involved Sam Orlando, a Democratic precinct captain, one of the defendants in the current trial, and Joseph Vinci. Orlando and Vinci were freed of vote fraud charges last December. Creed also denied discussing the case with Attorney George Crane, another of the defendants in the present trial.

A stream of character witnesses appeared earlier in Creed's behalf. These included Judges Frank M. Padden and William J. Lindsay, Clement A. Mance, 6844 Euclid avenue, former alderman of the 7th ward; John J. Bickel Jr., a real estate dealer; Arthur J. Rathje, a banker, and William Manion, Circuit court master in chancery.

DOORMAN SHOT; FIND ASSAILANT IS FUGITIVE FELON

Englewood police yesterday arrested James Sanone, 36 years old, after he shot Philip Malloy, 33, of 8643 Marshfield avenue, a doorman. A routine check of Sanone's fingerprints disclosed he was wanted on a 10 year old robbery charge on which he jumped bond after the state Supreme court denied an appeal.

Malloy, who works at the Tun-O-Fun, a tavern at 704 West 63d street, told police he ejected Sanone last Wednesday and had been threatened by him then. Sanone appeared early yesterday, Malloy asserted, and fired at him without warning.

Police said their records showed that Sanone, under the name of Angelo Timponi, was sentenced to 5 years in the Missouri state penitentiary in 1923, and that while using the name of Angelo Tomtone he was found guilty in Edwardsville, Ill., and got a 1 to 14 year robbery sentence. He fled in 1930 after his appeal was denied.

U. OF C. TRUSTEES TO HAIL FOUNDING SESSION TODAY

First Board Met Exactly 50 Years Ago.

The 50th anniversary of the first meeting of the University of Chicago board of trustees on July 9, 1890, in the Grand Pacific hotel, will be celebrated today in the Chicago club. Today's observance will be part of the jubilee year program in which the university is seeking to raise $12,000,000 to preserve it as one of the pioneering educational institutions of the country.

The present board of trustees, some of them descendants of the members of the original board or of those who raised $400,000 to open the university, will attend the meeting. Harold H. Swift, chairman of the board, will preside.

Goodspeed to Speak.

Edgar J. Goodspeed, the Ernest D. Burton distinguished service professor emeritus, will speak on the organization of the university. He is the son of Thomas W. Goodspeed, first secretary of the board of trustees and one of those who helped raise funds to establish the institution.

The first meeting of the original board was held shortly after the founders had raised $400,000 and Marshall Field had donated a block and one-half of land for the campus. The Grand Pacific hotel, scene of the 1890 meeting, was located just north of the present site of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company.

At the meeting the board voted to extend the privileges of the university to both sexes. By this action the University of Chicago became one of the first of the large privately endowed institutions to become co-educational.

Baptists Aided in Founding.

At the first meeting Frederick T. Gates, corresponding secretary of the Baptist Education society, turned over to the board the responsibility of operating the institution. The Baptist Education society had been instrumental in founding the university.

"Fervently do we pray," Gates told the board members, "that the blessing of God, so signally bestowed on this great undertaking from its earliest beginning until the present hour, may continue to prosper it and still more richly in your hands."

Among those who will attend today's meeting are Laurance H. Armour, William Scott Bond, Thomas E. Donnelley, Paul G. Hoffman, Leverett S. Lyons, John MacKinlay, John Nuveen Jr., J. Rockefeller Prentice, Joseph P. Ryerson, Sidney M. Strotz, Charles H. Swift, Lawrence H. Whiting, Gen. Robert E. Wood, Benjamin F. Bills, Marshall Field III., Lessing J. Rosenwald, Robert L. Scott, and Richard Cooper Jr.

TEST YOUR HORSE SENSE

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answer which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 26.

1. The most cheerful color is Yellow Blue Green Red.
2. The diamond surpasses other known substances in Costliness Hardness Specific Gravity Malleability.
3. A farmer employs how many horses for a one-row corn cultivator? 1 2 3 4.
4. Castor oil is obtained from Deep Sea Fish Petroleum Beans Tree Sap.
5. Catfish should normally make one think of Lake Michigan Atlantic Ocean Mississippi River Great Salt Lake.
6. A young woman was kidnaped by a band of professional crooks, but the police soon were hot on their trail, chasing them into the north woods. In desperation the crooks took the girl into a dense thicket, where they bound her hands and feet, and hopefully waited for their pursuers to pass by. When the police were within 50 feet of the thicket one of the kidnapers clamped his hand tightly over the girl's mouth and pinched her nose shut, so she couldn't breathe. Despite all this, she called the police and was saved. How could she do it?

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

MUSHAM ASSAILS FORT DEARBORN MEMORIAL DELAY

Col. Harry A. Musham, chairman of the Fort Dearborn Memorial commission, complained yesterday before a city council subcommittee that he isn't getting anywhere in his effort to have Michigan avenue bridge renamed the Fort Dearborn bridge.

The committee headed by Ald. James Young [46th] told Col. Musham the bridge is under the jurisdiction of the park board and his request should be made to the board. Col. Musham said he had appeared before the board six months ago but the board took no action.

The committee did approve the suggestion that the four boat landings at Michigan avenue and the river be named Burns, Van Voorhis, Lotta and Garner landings in memory of militiamen and others who were victims of the Fort Dearborn massacre.

OUSTED JANITOR ADMITS SETTING FIRE FATAL TO 3

Tells of Starting Blaze to Get Revenge.

George Wagner, a former WPA worker, was locked in a cell in the Chicago avenue station last night after he admitted setting fire Sunday to an apartment building at 2 West Ohio street in which three persons perished.

George Wagner.

Wagner, who is 30 years old, was janitor in the building until five days ago, when he was discharged for incompetence. He was taken into custody soon after the fire, but insisted in the early hours of questioning by Lieut. Charles Berounsky that he had nothing to do with setting the blaze.

Blurts Out Confession.

He blurted out his confession yesterday morning in an anteroom of the undertaking chapel at 716 North State street, where Coroner A. L. Brodie was preparing to open an inquest into the tragedy.

"Aw, I did it," Wagner suddenly said. "I wanted to get even with a lot of people."

Then he told calmly how he started the fire.

"I got fired as janitor last week because they said I wasn't any good," he said. "I was walking along the street Sunday thinking about it. I went up on the second floor porch of the building and saw a tenant stuffing garbage in a paper container there.

Tosses Match Into Container.

"When she went away, I lit a match and threw it into the container. There was a flame. I ran to my room, got my hat, and then ran down the back stairs. When I got into the street there was a lot of smoke. I went into the building office and called the fire department.

"I saw a woman on the top floor looking out the window and hollering. She looked like she was going to jump, so I shouted: 'Please don't jump! You'll get hurt!' I didn't want any one to get hurt, see."

Brodie asked Wagner whether he had thrown the match into the container by accident.

"Naw," Wagner replied. "I knew what I was doing. I wanted revenge. I wanted to get even with Mrs. Goehring" [Mrs. Wilhelmina Goehring, 1057 Belden avenue, owner of the building, who discharged Wagner.]

Repeats Statement Before Jury.

Later, after he repeated his statement to the coroner's jury, Wagner sat at one side, his mouth half agape and his eyes sleepy. Once, when Sergt. Francis Donohue of the coroner's staff offered him a cigaret, he grabbed for it, mumbling: "Guess I'd better smoke it now. It might be the last. Looks like the hot seat for me."

The inquest was continued until July 23 to await the outcome of injuries to those hurt in the fire. Coroner Brodie said that charges, possibly arson and murder or manslaughter, would be preferred at the close of the inquest.

One of the witnesses who linked Wagner with the blaze was Marie Wilcox, 9, of 4 West Ontario street, who was playing in a yard near by when the fire started. She said she saw Wagner on the second floor porch and saw him run down after smoke began filtering out of the building.

On WPA Last Year.

Wagner was on the WPA rolls in March and April of 1939 as a member of a rehabilitation crew at Fort Sheridan.

Those who died in the flames were Gus Wagner, 36, who was not related to George Wagner; Fred W. Virden, 50, both lodgers, and Thomas J. Fleming, 60, who was visiting in the building.

Two of those injured were lodgers —Mrs. Florence Friedler, 64, whom Fleming was visiting, and Robert Parks, 40, a waiter. Mrs. Friedler was burned severely and Parks suffered a back injury.

The others injured are Fire Lieutenant Edward Moffett and Fireman Andrew Cafferata.

2½ MILLIONS GO TO DODGE WIDOW IN SETTLEMENT

Pontiac, Mich., July 8 (AP).—Mrs. Annie Laurine McDonald Dodge, $18 a week switchboard operator of Gore Bay, Ont., before she met and married Daniel G. Dodge, heir to an automobile fortune, will receive approximately $2,500,000 under a settlement of his estate disclosed today.

Mrs. Annie Dodge.

The agreement, approved by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore of Oakland county, settled all the 22 year old widow's claims to the estate of young Dodge, who died 13 days after they were married in August, 1938. Injured in a dynamite explosion at his lodge on Manitoulin Island in Georgian bay, Dodge fell from a motorboat which was carrying him to a hospital and drowned.

Daniel Dodge's will, leaving his widow only a sum of $250,000 provided in a prenuptial agreement and the Manitoulin Island lodge, was contested. Today's settlement wrote an end to nearly two years of litigation.

Dodge's estate was estimated at about $11,000,000, representing accumulated income from a $40,000,000 trust fund set up by the late John F. Dodge, automobile magnate.

Today's settlement provides that 5 per cent of this estate be returned to the principal of the trust fund; that 47½ per cent be divided among Daniel's three sisters—Mrs. Wesson Seyburn, Mrs. Isabel Sloane and Mrs. Frances Johnson, and that 47½ per cent be divided, three-fourths to Daniel's mother, Mrs. Mathilda R. Wilson, who is the widow of John F. Dodge, and one-fourth to Mrs. Daniel Dodge.

Thus the young Canadian girl will receive from this, after federal and State taxes are deducted, approximately $1,070,000. In lieu of whatever claims she might make to her husband's share of the trust fund principal, Mrs. Daniel Dodge will receive a cash payment of $1,250,000.

The agreement further provides that her widow's allowance be increased from $5,000 to $7,500 monthly and be made to cover a period of two years, the $180,000 thus represented bringing her total inheritance to $2,500,000.

Notables Here for Convention to Fill Hotels

BY JUDITH CASS.

BY THE end of the week the city's hotels and clubs will be filled to overflowing with guests who are coming for the Democratic convention, which opens on Monday. Friends of Mrs. Le Ray Berdeau, the former Mrs. Charles H. Chadwick, are saving dates to entertain for her and her husband, who will arrive from New York on Sunday to be at the Drake for the duration of the Democratic conclave.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the President in office during the last world war, accompanied by Mrs. E. T. Meredith of Des Moines, Ia., also will be at the Drake, as will be Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Welles.

Mr. and Mrs. Breckinridge Long and the Henry Luces [Clare Boothe Brokaw, author of "The Women" and "Margin for Error"] are other notables who will lodge at the Drake. There, too, will be Mrs. Ralph Worthington of Alexandria, Va., who will be in Senator Harry Byrd's group; Mrs. Mary T. Norton, congresswoman from New Jersey, and Grover Whalen.

Former Chicagoans Will Be at Ambassador.

Some former Chicagoans who will be stopping at the Ambassador during the convention will be the Otis Chatfield-Taylors, who now reside in New York. When Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, the Washington publisher, was in town a couple of weeks ago she made tentative reservations at the same hotel.

Adding interest to the mixed crowd at the Ambassador will be such stars of stage and screen as wide mouthed Martha Raye, Ruby Keeler, Jack Whiting, Katherine Littlefield, and Jinx Falkenburg, who will be appearing in "Hold On to Your Hats," which opens Monday night at the Grand Opera house.

Postmaster General Farley, Mrs. Farley, and their two subdeb daughters, Miss Ann and Miss Betty Farley, are occupying the presidential suite at the Blackstone. Also at the Blackstone are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wood [Chip] Robert of Washington, D. C., Atlanta, Ga., and Palm Beach. Mr. Robert is secretary of the Democratic national committee.

Arthur Krocks Take Borland Apartment.

The Arthur Krock [Martha Granger Blair], who will be here from Washington, D. C., for the convention, are to have the Chauncey B. Borlands' Lake View avenue apartment. Mrs. Krock at the present is in Menasha, Wis., with her sister, Mrs. Chester D. Shepard.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Zeiss of Winnetka have added the name of their younger daughter, Eleanore Zeiss, to the list of debutantes of the current season. Miss Zeiss, a sophomore at Vassar, is a graduate of the North Shore Country Day school. When and where her parents will entertain for her depends upon whether they move into town this fall.

The debutante's elder sister, Miss Josephine Zeiss, has been in California with her grandmother, Mrs. Charles S. Williamson, for several months, playing in various tennis tournaments. She is playing in Denver this week. Henry M. Zeiss, who was just graduated at Princeton, will go west for a month with his sister, and both will return to Winnetka the middle of August.

Miss Joan Littlefield, daughter of the Arthur S. Littlefields of Winnetka, is to have a September tea at home, the same sort of party at which her elder sister, Miss Kay Littlefield, was introduced two years ago.

The latest addition to the list of arrivals from England are Lady Bailey and her children, Patricia and David, who arrived in Lake Forest yesterday. They were met in New York by Lady Bailey's mother, Mrs. Charles Bromwell, who is taking them to Colorado Springs in about a week. Because the Scott Bromwells, Lady Bailey's brother and sister-in-law, are quarantined for measles, the visitors will stay with Mrs. Scott Bromwell's mother, Mrs. Solomon A. Smith. Lady Bailey, the wife of Admiral Sir Sidney Bailey, will probably return shortly to England, but the children are expected to remain indefinitely.

Mrs. Norman Stuart Merritt, the former Beatrice Kirk Cuthbert, has arrived from England to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Hambleton Kirk, in Lake Forest. She and Mr. Merritt, lieutenant in the royal air force, were married last October in England. Mrs. Merritt's father, Walter R. Kirk, and Mrs. Kirk went east to meet his daughter when she arrived on the Washington in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Kirk will go to California after the Democratic National convention. Their niece, Miss

Six Pretty Maids on a Garden Wall

Six pretty young women who are thru with studies until next fall and look forward to a summer of play are, from left to right, Betty Magie, Anne Northrup, Nancy McCloud, Mari Guinan, Sue Sullivan, and Marjorie Brown. They were seated on a stone wall at the Indian Hill club after luncheon one day when our cameraman found them. Following the traditional hour's interval after eating, they all had a cooling swim in the club's pool. None of the young women will make a formal debut this season, and all are entering college in September.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., July 8.—For a rôle in "Dulcy" M-G-M has found one Donald Huie, 6 years old, a San Francisco Chinese boy whose pop is a Southern Pacific cook and whose mom is a checkroom attendant. Metro brought Donald to a hotel here and is doing its best to care for him in a style to which he is not accustomed. When he arrived, he said one thing he must have was a bowl of rice, with chopsticks, just before going to bed—so attendants have been scurrying around to a Chinese place each night and digging up same. After several evenings of this they learned that Donald, who grew up the hard way, never had had rice with chopsticks before retiring in his life. But a year or so ago he saw a movie in which a Chinese boy had this luxury and decided it was a good idea.

Linda Watkins in town—"for a month," she says, "or longer, I hope." . . . Alfred Hitchcock back from Canada. Says he didn't talk about making a movie up there because there is nothing to make a movie with. He went to see how British refugee children can be handled in this country. . . . John Barrymore's "The Great Profile" will be finished early this week, five days ahead of schedule. Director Walter Lang attributes this to the efficiency of the blackboard upon which all of Barrymore's lines have been posted just out of camera range.

Laird Cregar, whom Fox tested for two rôles in "The Californian," has won one of them. They tried him as a sword fancying Spanish villain and as a villain hating padre—and cast him as the padre.

The foreword of "Brigham Young" will dedicate the film to a bird—the sea gull, which saved Utah's Mormons. Several scenes of "Brigham Young" were shot at Lone Pine, rugged spot in the high Sierra, and in one of those familiar coals-to-Newcastle movie maneuvers the studio sent along three truckloads of papier maché boulders. It was easier to move these than it would have been to move cast, cameras, and lights around among real rocks.

Tans seem to be unfashionable this year among movie women. At any rate, Paramount's Wally Westmore, in getting up a list of Hollywood's ten best tans, picked only one woman—Paulette Goddard. Gents include C. Grant, G. Cooper, Fred Perry, Cecil de Mille, and the ailing Errol Flynn. A list of the 10 worst sunburns would include this department's.

In the Warner greenroom the other noon Artist Dwight Franklin brought over some photographs of wax models he's made of Calamity Jane to show to Bette Davis, whose next rôle will be Calamity. Miss Davis took one look at the old battle-ax and yelped, "O, my god!"

Ginger Rogers leaves in her station wagon Tuesday for a couple of weeks' vacation, accompanied by her cousin, Phyllis Fraser. Last time Ginger went on a station wagon jaunt it was nine days before anybody recognized her, because she doesn't look much like herself in the flesh. Snoopers can't identify her by looking at her owner's license, which, by California law, must be strapped to the steering post. The car's in her real name—Virginia McMath. Probable destination, Yosemite. She'll be back in a fortnight to start on "Kitty Foyle."

Ah, love! The "They Knew What They Wanted" company, with Carole Lombard and Charles Laughton as dead people, goes on location today in a winery at Napa, Cal. Miss Lombard is going to work double time and finish her scenes in six days so she can join Clark Gable at Del Monte.

Elsie, the cow, is arriving soon to star in a Paramount film—first time in anybody's recollection Paramount has starred an expectant grandmother. There's to be a party for her at Ciro's—at which she will be milked and her output used for making Alexanders. It seems hardly enough.

Fay Holden, who plays Ma Hardy, is going to have her first Adrian-designed costume. Metro holds down on the Hardy family, not letting even the judge have more than one new suit every three or four pictures—but Miss Holden is crossing them up by taking on the rôle of Jeanette MacDonald's mother in "Bitter Sweet." Since this is to be in technicolor the clothing has to be sort of good.

The Argentine infiltration here is something terrific. Don Ameche is in a color film, "Down Argentine Way." The Ritz brothers are doing "Argentine Nights," and one of the new pictures for Gene Raymond is "They Met in the Argentine." Time was when the place was exclusively populated by Rudolf Valentino. . . . This department is hot on the trail of Hollywood's most unusual actor—an ex-aviator who is taking lessons in how not to fly. Understand he hates horses, too.

Sally's Guests to View School Life in England

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

If you boys and girls sometimes think that going to school is not exactly fun, just wait until you see "Tom Brown's School Days." Then you'll realize how well off you are as compared to the English youngsters of 100 years ago. In those days little boys wore high hats, ate pigeon pie, rode in tallyhos. If they misbehaved, they got what was known as a caning from the teacher. Older boys bullied and teased the younger ones, that is, until Dr. Arnold came along.

If you'd like to find out what happened then, and to see Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Freddy Bartholomew, Jimmy Lydon in this fine new film, maybe you can arrange to get an invitation to my party on July 18.

As usual, I'm going to try to select as my guests 100 boys and girls who'll have the best time at a party of this sort. I can't judge how much you'd like to see this new movie, so it's up to you to convince me that you really and truly want to come. Just write me a letter and tell me why you'd like to be included in this party, and if you're convincing enough, maybe you'll see your name in next SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE in the list of winners.

All the letters will be read and the winning ones selected next Thursday, so you'd better get out your pen or pencil and tell me what you think about this party without waiting any longer.

Don't forget that you can hear a radio preview of this movie on W-G-N on Thursday night featuring two of the stars, Freddy Bartholomew, who plays the hero's chum, and Sir Cedric Hardwicke, who takes the part of Dr. Arnold.

When writing for an invitation to the movie party, address your letters to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Attention, boys and girls who've been invited to the Cubs-Boston game on July 11! Instead of a single game, we're to see a double header, so we will meet at the appointed place at 1 p. m. rather than the time mentioned in your invitations.

Welcome.

Artur Rodzinski, upon his arrival in Chicago from the east for his two weeks of conducting the Ravinia concerts, wanted to go to the pavilion to pick up some scores before he went to his hotel in Highland Park. Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Bernstein drove him to the stage door at the Sheridan road entrance, and as they drew up at the door Paul Handke, librarian for the Chicago Symphony orchestra since the days of Theodore Thomas, appeared on the steps, his trumpet to his lips, blowing the Leonore III., by Beethoven, the piece with which Dr. Rodzinski will open the program this evening.

Miss Macy.

That slender young woman wearing a tailored suit, a long bob, and dark blue sun glasses, driving about the town in an open car these last few days, a French poodle in the seat beside her, was Miss Gertrude Macy, for many years manager for Miss Katharine Cornell and one of the two or three woman theatrical producers there are.

Asked about the new production she expects to start work on in the autumn—Nancy Hamilton's comedy based on the famous Mary Poppins books for children—Miss Macy said that an effort is being made to get Bea Lillie back from England to play the rôle of English nursemaid, Mary Poppins. Last week-end Miss Hamliton was at Chip Chop, the seaside place of Miss Cornell and her husband, Guthrie McClintic, in Marthas Vineyard (it's near East Chop and West Chop!) reading her play aloud to them.

Opera Audition Finalists Sing Over W-G-N

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Five young singers, the pick of more than 600 with operatic ambitions, addressed their musical talents to the nation's listeners last night in the broadcast of the Chicago Opera company's second annual radio auditions. The auditions were aired from W-G-N's main studio over the coast to coast network of the Mutual Broadcasting system.

The audience of the air, along with 600 studio guests; representatives of Sears, Roebuck & Co., were invited to help the opera audition committee judge the voices. Two singers—one man and one woman—will be announced as winners when the votes have been appraised.

Each winner will be awarded a rôle with the Chicago Opera company; $100 in cash from the Illinois Opera Guild, headed by Mrs. James G. McMillan, and the privilege of attending 10 opera performances and all stage rehearsals.

The singers appeared with the W-G-N Concert orchestra under the direction of Henry Weber, artistic director of the opera as well as the station's musical director. Speaking briefly, Mr. Weber told listeners that auditions had been granted to every applicant—more than 600—and that advice and criticism had been given to all who asked for it. He told the radio audience that its response would be on genuine value to the judges and to the singers.

The five who sang were Annette Berford, Oklahoma City, Okla., coloratura soprano; Ruth Slater, Chicago, contralto; Helen Morris, Elkhart, Ind., dramatic soprano; John Lawler, Philadelphia, bass-baritone, and Bruce Foote, Urbana, Ill., baritone.

Each singer was interviewed briefly, before singing, by Announcer John Weigel. This questioning brought out interesting details about their struggles to achieve their ambitions. Miss Slater revealed that she hopes to make her operatic debut as Delilah in "Samson and Delilah."

Lawler, a robustious singer, revealed that he was to have appeared last night at the Berkshire festival in the east with the Boston Symphony orchestra under Serge Koussevitzky, but that this engagement had been postponed and he had remained two extra days for last night's "big chance."

Miss Morris already has operatic experience to her credit. She told of making her debut in "I Pagliacci" in Milan and of concert and radio work in the United States.

Miss Berford, who came all the way from the southwest, related that she heard of the auditions thru an aunt living in Chicago who sent her a newspaper clipping.

Foote, instructor in the University of Illinois school of music, admitted that he had entered the auditions at the suggestion of a woman whom he has never met. Her name is Paula Liebertau. Last night on the air he expressed the hope that he might meet her and thank her in person.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

We sat by, fascinated, while two heads were permanented by the new heatless process and we've seen countless heads — gray, bleached, dyed, and normal—that had been waved by the method. We now haven't a doubt that it's a marvelous process and one of the most important advances in the whole history of permanent waving.

This is a cold wave. In other words, neither electrical nor chemical heat is used. No protectors, pads, or heaters are necessary, which means that the wave can be launched amazingly close to the scalp, and that the curlers feel about 60 per cent lighter on the head. There is no machinery. The wave is literally sprayed into the hair. But most important of all, because no heat is used, even the most difficult hair emerges soft and shiny as silk.

It's comfortable, quick and, as far as we could tell, completely foolproof. Here is a sketchy picture of the process: First the hair is shampooed. Then it is wound, with plain water instead of the usual solution, on hollow, perforated curlers. A rubber cap is placed over the entire head and, by means of a light, little manifold which fits beneath this cap, the waving solution is sprayed into each curler. The length of time for the spraying process is determined by the test curl. The two we witnessed were sprayed for eight minutes. When the clock rings the hair is rinsed, by means of the same spray, with water. Four minutes of spraying guarantees a rinse with five gallons of water. And that's all there is to it. The curlers come off, the hair is set—and your hair looks elegant.

Mildred Gerber, Soprano, Is Soloist at Grant Park

Mildred Gerber, Chicago soprano, appeared at the Grant park band shell last night as soloist with the Peter A. Cavallo Symphonic band. In Proch's air and variations and in Alvarez' "La Partida" she displayed a fluent coloratura and a fresh, youthful tone quality. The purely instrumental part of the program included a sonorous and expert performance of Litolff's old time descriptive overture, "Maximilien Robespierre."

The Fate of the Darmenys

By Elizabeth York Miller

[Copyright, 1940: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

SYNOPSIS.

Madge Darmeny, knowing she has but a few months to live, gathers her family about her so she can select the most deserving heir, unbeknown to them. Amelia Pennyfather, a distant cousin, lives with her, but Leda, Madge's own niece, is her nearest relative. Next in line are Frank and Geoffry, her husband's nephews. Leda is married to Frank but is in love with Geoffry, who is Madge's favorite because he continuously plays up to her. Frank has an 8 year old daughter, Betsy, by a former marriage. Shirley Westall, Madge's secretary, has been given charge of Betsy while they are all staying at the Darmeny estate. Madge, anxious for Geoffry to settle down, suggests he marry Shirley, and he, becoming tired of Leda, approves of the idea. Shirley, devoted to Betsy and knowing of Leda's and Geoffry's affair, sympathizes with Frank and soon finds her sympathy turning to love. Frank sees the sweetness of Betsy's mother in Shirley and finds himself falling in love with her. Neither declare their love for each other, but Shirley repulses the advances of Geoffry, which infuriates him. Leda goes into a number of fits of rage because she is jealous of Geoffry's attention to Shirley. Madge at last sees things in their true light and decides to change her will. Amelia eavesdrops and hears of Madge's illness and of the new will. She tells Geoffry, and he steals Madge's keys to her safe and reads the old and new wills. In the old version, he would inherit the estate. In the new one, Frank will get the bulk of things. The new one has not yet been signed. Geoffry goes on a rampage, meets Frank in the woods and tells him he will get Shirley as he got Leda. Frank knocks him down, goes home and confronts Leda with Geoffry's accusation. Leda admits to both Madge and Frank her love for Geoffry. Geoffry has gone to the dentist in the city and Madge waits up for him that night to have a talk with him. He arrives late and is insulting to Madge. She gets upset, asks him to get her medicine. He, knowing she is to sign the new will the next day, gives her an overdose which kills her. Amelia is watching from the library cupboard, the Geoffry doesn't know it. Amelia is too afraid of Geoffry to tell what she knows.

INSTALMENT XXXVIII.

MURDER WILL OUT.

Amelia wasn't thinking half so much about the sudden death of her dear Cousin Madge as she was thinking about Geoffry Darmeny, the heir to Beechbourne. He surmised that they were dark thoughts, and his sinful soul was filled with dread.

Repeatedly he asked himself these questions that had been torturing him all night.

How had Amelia discovered so quickly that Aunt Madge was dead?

Where had she been lurking when it happened?

Why had she not come to his room to inform him when she ran so wildly all over the house telling everybody, even to the room where Hilda slept?

Had she heard him come home?

For awhile Geoffry tried to find ease from his torment in the hope that Amelia had not gone to his room because she did not know he had returned home.

He wanted to believe that her story was true; that she had been wakeful and was worried over Aunt Madge's not coming up to bed.

But if Amelia had been awake and listening for Aunt Madge, she could hardly have failed to hear him when he drove into Beechbourne, even tho he had been careful not to be noisy about it.

After Frank, followed by Leda, went upstairs carrying the thoroly distracted Betsy, Geoffry had a little respite from the hovering presence of Amelia Pennyfather. She disappeared for a good few minutes.

But she was back again before the doctor had concluded his examination; back and clothed for the day, altho whether clothed or not in her right mind no one but herself could say. Her hair was out of its curlers and probably she had washed her face.

From her vast hoard of old garments she had unearthed a black dress. Who knows? She might have been treasuring it for this very occasion.

It buttoned up to her ears and came down to her ankles, and was heavily trimmed with crêpe. Truly a mourning robe if ever there was one. A Victorian widow could not have expressed her grief in more suitable terms. Amelia, with her thin, hunched shoulders and her beaky, inquiring nose, looked like an old black crow. The only light relief about her was a clean handkerchief, and even that had a sable border.

The sight of her gave Geoffry a horrid start, and he turned away unable to bear it, remembering the decanter on the dining room sideboard with fierce and sudden longing.

Somebody had drawn back the curtains here, but otherwise the room was left as it was last night.

In the daylight Geoffry had no fear of the Beechbourne ghost, and already was beginning to doubt the reality of those groans he had heard, but as he again reached out for the decanter his glance furtively strayed in the direction from which the eerie sounds had seemed to proceed.

And again, as on that last occasion, Geoffry Darmeny's hand was stayed of its intention.

He had never noticed before that a door had been cunningly contrived in the oak paneling, disguised as part of the paneling itself. But now he could see it was a door because of its hanging slightly ajar.

His heart seemed to leap into his throat and threatened to suffocate him as he surmised what that door portended.

It opened into a disguised cupboard, or possibly at one time it might have been a passage leading into Aunt Madge's study. The other side was boarded up and somebody had bored half a dozen holes in it. Little screws of brown paper littered the floor. The same person, undoubtedly, had used them to stuff into the holes when the place was not being used for a listening post.

By crouching with his head against the holes Geoffry, or any one, could easily have heard all that Dr. Jelks and Gibson were saying in the study, even tho they were talking in undertones. Even without stooping down, the murmur of their voices came thru to him quite distinctly.

Geoffry recoiled in horror. In a flash he saw it all.

Aunt Madge had wondered how Amelia knew so much.

Here was the answer. Here was the answer, likewise, to the mystery of those sepulchral groans.

Amelia Pennyfather, up to her old game of eavesdropping, had got more than she bargained for that time.

Now he knew why she had not called him last night, and why she had that mad look on her face this morning, as tho qualifying for a lunatic asylum—which was, of course, where she belonged and should have been consigned to this long time past, in his opinion.

Geoffry closed the treacherous door and found the tiny catch that fastened it. His hand shook so violently that he could hardly manipulate it, just as Amelia's would have shaken when she let herself out of her hiding place last night. Unless one pressed the catch very firmly it didn't snap into its socket.

As Geoffry turned away, sweat streaming from his forehead and into his eyes, he saw Amelia in her mourning raiment mouthing at him from the door that led to the hall. A carrion crow; a horrible bird of prey, she looked to him.

"I didn't hear anything last night," she croaked. "If anybody says I heard anything, it's a lie! Cousin Madge died of a stroke to her heart, like that specialist said she would—any time, any minute."

Geoffry brushed his sleeve across his wet forehead.

He, himself, would die of a stroke to his heart if he didn't get a drink. The glass he had used last night was still there. Presently some one would come in to do the dining room, he supposed. He took the stopper out of the decanter and half filled the glass, rattling it, splashing some of the liquid. Whisky it was. Last night he hadn't been able to tell. Again he swallowed down the fiery stuff without adding any water to it.

Amelia Pennyfather almost choked witching him do it.

"You want to be careful," he said to her, the thickness of his voice making his words sound even more sinister than they were.

"O, Geoffry, I will be! I promis you—not a word will pass my lips!"

Amelia apparently misundersood his meaning.

"Because in my opinion you are not sane," he added.

Her jaw dropped.

"And if you start imagining things, we might have to have your head examined."

Amelia put the back of her hand to her mouth and made a mewling sort of whimper as she drew away at the menace in his voice.

As he strode toward her, she turned and ran.

But Geoffry had no intention of offering Amelia personal violence.

He merely wanted to get away, himself.

He went up to his room and locked the door when he was inside.

Murder will out.

Hadn't he heard that statement made again and again?

But analyze it and see how true or untrue it was.

Right here in these British Isles, and over the rest of the world for that matter, there were dozens—hundreds—thousands, no doubt, of unsolved murder mysteries.

And then Geoffry Darmeny remembered something a man he once met casually on a railway journey had told him. The man was connected in some way with Scotland Yard, or professed to be, and in discussing crime, a subject which had a great fascination for Geoffry Darmeny, this person had said that not only were there plenty of unsolved murders in the archives of the Yard, but innumerable murders had been committed that had passed for natural deaths. It was about the easiest thing on earth, for instance, for a doctor to get away with murder. Altho, of course, some of those who had taken the same view and tried it had been caught.

By now, too, Geoffry was arguing quite convincingly to himself that he had done nothing to bring about Aunt Madge's death. He had given her the medicine she asked for—that was all.

But how explain his actions afterward? How explain his sneaking away, first to have a drink—Amelia would have heard him at the sideboard—and then up to his room?

Guilty conscience was the only answer to those questions. Or so it would be interpreted if what he had done came out.

Good Morning!

EXTRA!

"LITTLE CÆSAR" enters a monastery!

Yes, believe it or not, Mr. Edward G. Robinson, in this movie, steps from a low life of crime and false ideals, into the sweetness and light and "real class" [Brother Orchid says it] of charitable brotherhood, at whose doors he has been flung, so to speak, by his former comrades.

As the picture opens, he is seen as a racketeer, handing over his high command to his cohorts. He's made his wad, things are getting hot, and he wants to live a life of classy ease.

So—he departs from these shores and his devoted moil and hies to Europe, where he learns about suckers by becoming one. Over and over again he is "taken" by smooth and stylish gentlemen who trade on his ignorance and vanity. . . . Broke and wiser he returns to America, assuming that his old place is waiting for him. . . . But such is not the case. He is thrown out on his ear and forced to start a rival gang. . . . Only his Flo has remained true—and this for a time he doubts. Because she now owns the ritzy night club in which she was formerly hat checker, and there's a big, naïve westerner [Ralph Bellamy, and he's FUNNY!] staking and protecting her.

But, you and our hero learn, that's ALL he's doing. . . . So far so good.

Gang war—as before intimated—lands Johnny, almost dying, at monastery doors. He is taken in, becomes "Brother Orchid"—and for a time regards his haven as merely a swell hideout. . . . At last he is back in his old world. . . . But if you think he stays there—you're wrong.

The finale is 100 per cent phony.

Acting thruout is aces, but the story is, well—just one of those things.

See you tomorrow.

Sport Jackets and Sweaters Gain in Glamor

BY REA SEEGER.

Capture the best finds for a busy outdoor summer in a shop filled with active and spectator sports clothes. In these superb collections of smart attire will be found the best of the summer sweaters and sweater jacket effects.

Very short sleeved sweaters, machine knitted in cool, lacy weaves, have a row of glittering mirror buttons down the panel of white grosgrain ribbon. Others have meandering braid trim sewed securely to the fuzzy backgrounds, while others are simple knit and purl ideas with no decoration.

If you need a silk print and linen coat ensemble, you'll like most unusual combinations, pale china blue contrasted with a copper colored coarse textured linen, the dress silk print with the coat linen, or others equally different in combines. Smooth flannel skirts with patch pockets and belts slipped thru slots of the material come in white and pastels ready for sweater tops or the clever Scotch plaid wool jackets with a white streak in the background to match the white flannel in the skirts.

Three City Kids Tell of Country Life Wonders

A score of Chicago business men and social welfare authorities sat back from the luncheon table yesterday in the Merchants and Manufacturers' club in the Merchandise Mart and chuckled as they listened to the stories of three shirt-sleeved lads with sunburned noses—city kids from the drabbest west side corners—who, over the week-end, had discovered the country.

The meeting was called by Dr. Melford E. Zinser for formal organization of the Chicago Outdoor league, which he launched three weeks ago in the interest of thousands of boys and girls who never have gone on an outing beyond the city's boundaries.

In the nature of an experiment, Dr. Zinser invited a party of 23 boys, ranging from 14 to 18 years old, on a four day camping trip to his own farm on Lake Delavan in Wisconsin. His guests were from the Bethlehem and Chase settlement houses. The tousle-headed trio at the luncheon were delegated by their friends to tell the league about the "swell time everybody had on the Zinser farm."

Robert M. Harrison, president of the Chicago Junior Association of Commerce, offered the league the use of 1,000 acres in Peoria country. Among others pledging the coöperation of their organizations were Joel Hunter, superintendent of the United Charities; Irving Rudolph, executive vice president of the Chicago Boys club; Kenneth Reid, executive secretary of the Izaak Walton league, and Dr. Philip L. Seaman, chairman of the Chicago Recreation commission.

Methodist Camp Ground Approved as Youth Hostel

The use of the Des Plaines camp ground as one of 248 youth hostels across the country was enthusiastically approved yesterday at the 31st annual meeting of the camp ground association. Mrs. Mae D. Freeberg, hostess of the Red Gables hotel on the grounds, reported 186 overnight hostellers during the first month. This was more than double the number anticipated for the entire summer.

These youths, mostly on bicycles, responsibly organized, travel thru vacation areas at a lodging cost of 25 cents a night.

The Rev. Dr. Horace G. Smith, president of Garrett Biblical institute, Evanston, asked that wide publicity in church and secular press be given to the affiliation of the Des Plaines camp ground to the youth hostel movement. The report of the association treasurer, George F. Witt, showed the association to be in an improved financial condition.

While it is impossible to make jelly from certain fruits without adding other fruits or a commercial preparation which will supply the lacking pectin, any fruit will make a good jam. Some jams will be thicker than others, and may have a jellylike texture, but even blueberries, which lack acid as well as pectin, will make a thick enough jam.

Only sugar and fruit are necessary for a jam. The proportion of sugar to fruits varies considerably among recipes, but the average is three-quarters cup of sugar per cup of prepared fruit pulp, which is the average for jelly also. The old fashioned "cup for cup" rule isn't scientific enough for the modern cook, and it is a waste of sugar for the most part.

These are the steps in making a jam from any of the fruits in season now—berries, cherries, plums, apricots, apples, and other fruits.

1. Have ready a large, broad bottomed kettle and a long handled spoon. Also jelly glasses or jam jars with covers. The containers should be washed in hot, sudsy water, then scalded.

2. Pick over and clean fruit. Crush it to start the juice. Measure the crushed fruit and juice.

3. Heat slowly to the boiling point, adding no water, or a very little, if the fruit isn't juicy. Press thru a colander if a fine textured jam is preferred. A sieve will remove raspberry seeds for a seedless jam.

4. Heat again to boiling and add the correct amount of sugar.

5. Cook as rapidly as possible, without scorching, until the jam is thick. Test by removing a small portion to a cold saucer. If it remains in a heap or little pile, the jam is done. Some jams, notably plum, thicken considerably as they cool, so it is important to remove the cooking fruit from heat while it still seems quite juicy.

6. Skim, if necessary, and pour jam into clean, hot jars.

7. Seal at once with paraffin or air tight covers.

No rule may be made about the correct time to cook a jam. This will vary with the fruit, its juiciness, the amount cooked at one time, and the size of the kettle used. It is foolish to try to prepare more than two quarts of jam at one time, for large amounts take longer cooking to evaporate the excess moisture, and in the longer cooking time fruit flavor is lost and chances for scorching the jam are increased.

Here are a few of the jams which may be made right now: Blackberry, gooseberry, blueberry, blueberry and currant, strawberry, cherry, raspberry, raspberry and cherry, apple, "pinecot" [pineapple and apricot], plum, and tutti-frutti jam. Recipes are to be found in "Mary Meade's Best Jams and Jellies," a complete book on preserving of fruits, which sells for 23 cents in stamps.

There also are dozens of recipes in the book for jellies, preserves, fruit butters, marmalades, and conserves.

Polish Catholic Union Opens Conference Here

A two day meeting of the national and state officers of the Polish Roman Catholic union opened yesterday at the union's building, Augusta boulevard and Milwaukee avenue, under the patronage of Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch. More than 160,000 members thruout the country, 30,000 of whom are in Chicago, are represented in the meeting. In addition to social service projects, including Boy and Girl Scouts, one of the principal functions of the union since the Nazi invasion of Poland has been the raising of funds for war victims.

Two Pretty Summer Frocks

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCKS.

Two simple summer frocks, and one is two piece, as shown at the left. All the trimming you need for an inexpensive cotton, linen, or silk print is humble rickrack braid. The blouse fits basque fashion, and buttons all the way down the front. The skirt is flared for silhouette contrast.

The other dress is an active sports model without sleeves and with all the charm of a tailored street dress. This model is built for action, and it ought to improve your tennis and golf games just to know you'll look a "knockout!" There's a companion jacket, too.

Style No. 3336 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 18, and 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurements. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material, with 2¼ yards of rickrack.

Style No. 2661 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 2⅝ yards of 39 inch material for dress; 1¾ yards for jacket.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

A conservative estimate of the number of contracts lost annually by declarers blocking themselves early in the play will be in the neighborhood of 50,000. Today's hand merely augments that total by one.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	3 clubs	Pass
2 spades	Pass	3 spades	Pass
4 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's second bid might well have been two no trump rather than two spades. The latter was too weak a rebid for the three and one-half-plus honor tricks South held. A final contract of three no trump would have been foolproof against West's normal opening of a diamond.

However, the actual four spade contract also should have been fulfilled. Against this West selected a low heart for his opening lead. Dummy ducked and East's nine forced the ace. To get the club suit established as soon as possible declarer entered dummy with a heart to the king and led the club jack thru East. The latter correctly refused to cover and, declarer playing low, West won with the king. The heart queen was returned and it was here that declarer made his fatal error. Without giving the matter the slightest thought, he ruffed with the deuce of trumps. His next move was to drive out the spade ace, preparatory to reëntering dummy for another club play. But now when the spade king was laid down East was not accommodating—he held up the ace.

This put declarer in quite a dilemma. Reduced to the Q-J-5 of trumps, he found that it would be quite a feat to enter dummy with a trump. Actually, he led the five spot to the nine. East, knowing that declarer now was down to the Q-J blank, did not mind taking this trick, and he immediately attacked dummy's one remaining entry, the diamond ace. Declarer desperately attempted to protect that entry by going up with the diamond queen, hoping that East had led from the king, but his hope was in vain. West covered the queen. As it happened, declarer could still have wriggled out of trouble and fulfilled the contract if he had permitted West to hold this trick.

West could have made no better return than a diamond. Dummy's ace would have won and now a good guess in the club suit, leading the ten spot thru, would have fixed the defenders. The fall of West's nine would have saved declarer from another club loser and he also could have ruffed his remaining diamond. But, having boxed himself up in the previous play, declarer was in no condition to analyze the hand calmly. He captured West's diamond king with dummy's ace and led another club. Now, since it would do him no good to find the guarded queen in the East hand, he led a low club, hoping the queen would fall on the ace. When it did not, he was thru. He returned a diamond in the forlorn hope of being allowed to ruff his last diamond, but this was not to be. East won the trick and promptly returned a spade.

Declarer won, of course, but finally had to concede another diamond and another club trick. Thus, instead of fulfilling the contract and earning game and rubber for his own side, he had to chalk up 200 to the opponents' credit.

July 9, 1940.

Universal Day—Be bright and cheerful—if you can. Don't gossip.

Month Ahead—Those having a 3-year, which includes those having birthdays today, should be feeling the urge this week to step out and do things. The emphasis should be on yourself and your talents. A little appreciation from the public is called for and if you aren't getting it, then you haven't done your part and should get busy with plans to make yourself popular or push your talents to the front.

Year Ahead—Express yourself, enjoy yourself, but don't forget to spread a little cheer and love to others. You should be feeling a lighter touch by now and continue to have a little more fun in the next three months.

Natural for Youth to Pull Away from Parents' Control

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

A diplomat may need tact, but what he needs isn't a patch on what the mother and father of a teen age son or daughter needs.

Several mothers have written me in distress of mind about their sons around 16. "My boy used to be so easy and considerate, too. Now he resents it when I say anything about his hours and some of his companions, and he wants to be as free as a grown man. I'm not bossy but tactful, but still he resents any comment. Do you think he will ever again be friendly and considerate the way he used to be?"

I do indeed. Once thru these few years, once actually a young man in physique and experience, this intolerance phase will pass. It is part of a very necessary struggle for independence, and partly the unsure feeling of being neither wholly man nor boy.

I say "necessary struggle," because if adolescents did not begin to pull away from home control, did not resist the supervision of their every act, did not resent their parents continuing to make all decisions for them, some fathers and mothers never would grant their children the independence they must have if they are really to grow up.

You yourself can repair that ugly crack in a chair or table leg or that hole gouged out of the desk quite simply if you'll use plastic wood. Never heard of it? Well, it is a compound of the consistency of thick paste which hardens on exposure to the air. It is put up in tubes and you can match almost any furniture wood, for this plastic wood is available in the following tones: Walnut, light mahogany, dark mahogany, gum wood, cedar, oak, ebony, and natural. After you've filled in the crack or hole with it let it dry, then cover with one coat of clear varnish or lacquer.

MAJORS MEET IN 8TH ALL-STAR GAME TODAY

ILLINOIS ENDS ITS PROBE OF THOMAS CASE

Deplores Lack of Jurisdiction.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Illinois State Athletic commission wrote finis yesterday afternoon to the eight month investigation which it had conducted with the assistance of the office of the state attorney general into the charges that Harry Thomas, former heavyweight boxer, had engaged in fake fights with Max Schmeling and Tony Galento. In a one paragraph decision attached to a 13 page résumé of the commission's investigation, the commissioners said:

"It is the decision of the Illinois State Athletic commission after a full consideration of the testimony heard, and the facts adduced at the various hearings of the investigation in question, that the alleged charges of Harry Thomas were not substantiated."

Tribune Exposes Fakes.

This statement was signed by Joseph Triner, chairman; Sheldon Clark and James R. Fitzpatrick, members of the commission, all of whom attended yesterday's regular meeting.

The commissioners pointed out they lacked jurisdiction to conduct a full investigation. They said also that they were handicapped since they did not have authority to issue subpenas to compel attendance of witnesses.

The boxing swindle was revealed in a copyright story in THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE on the morning of Oct. 30, 1939 by Arch Ward, sports editor.

Charges Still Stand.

At no time has THE TRIBUNE qualified or retracted any part of the charges. Thomas declined to appear before the Illinois Athletic commission unless guaranteed immunity from prosecution. Nate Lewis, manager of Thomas as of record, appeared and entered denial.

In the copyright story on Oct. 30 Ward wrote:

It [the swindle] involves two widely publicized professional heavyweight bouts, the results of which had been decided weeks before the fighters entered the ring.

The fake matches were:

1. The Max Schmeling-Harry Thomas match in Madison Square Garden, New York, Dec. 13, 1937. Schmeling won by a technical knockout in the eighth round.

2. The Tony Galento-Harry Thomas bout in Philadelphia on Nov. 14, 1938. Galento won by a technical knockout in the third round.

The authority for this information is Harry Thomas, the defeated fighter in both events. Both "contests" were designed to build up the reputations of challengers for Joe Louis' title.

Joe Jacobs of New York, manager of Schmeling and Galento, and Nate Lewis, of Chicago, manager of Thomas, were parties to the fake bouts according to Thomas.

In this same newspaper account Ward quoted Thomas as saying that he met Joe Jacobs with Nate Lewis in a Chicago hotel and there agreed to the proposition to lose to Schmeling.

Testimony Remains Unchanged.

This account was substantially repeated in testimony before the New York Athletic commission and the Illinois commission. On Dec. 12, 1939, before the Illinois commission Ward testified that "Thomas' affidavit had been corroborated by another principal."

Ward concluded his testimony, in response to Chairman Triner's question, with the declaration that "this evidence completely convinced me and attorneys employed in the investigation of the truth of Thomas' charges."

In explanation of its decision yesterday the commission statement said:

"It should be particularly noted that neither of said alleged faked fights were held in Illinois, and further, since none of the principals named in the newspaper article or charges of Thomas were licensed by this commission in Illinois, this commission lacked official jurisdiction to conduct an investigation into the truth or falsity of the alleged charges. However, Governor Horner and this commission, cognizant of their obligations to the public of Illinois, felt that a thoro and impartial investigation should be conducted.

Lack of Jurisdiction.

"In view of the lack of jurisdiction of this commission, it was impossible to issue subpenas to compel the attendance of witnesses, and the investigation was handicapped by reason thereof. However, every person who was alleged to have any connection with or knowledge of the matter was invited to attend the various hearings, and present to the commission any evidence he or she might have. In order that the appearance before the commission would work no hardship upon the person invited, the commission offered to pay full

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 8.—The Detroit Tigers had to do some fast talking to beat out Philadelphia's bid for the 1941 All-Star game. . . . President William Harridge of the American league today had telegrams from the mayor of Philadelphia, the chamber of commerce, and one from Connie Mack asking for the 1941 interleague spectacle. . . . The Philadelphia Restaurant Owners' association not only asked for the game, it demanded it, to no avail. . . . Mr. Mack, who was manager of the American league team when this department presented the original All-Star game in 1933, is absent this year for the first time. . . . Detroit authors are highly indignant that only three Tigers, the league leaders, were chosen for tomorrow's game in Sportsman's park. . . . They don't resent the Indians' six nearly as much as the Yankees' six. . . . They are especially irate about the omission of Charley Gehringer, Barney McCosky, and Birdie Tebbetts. . . . Followers of the St. Louis Browns are ready to tear the American league managers limb from limb for overlooking Rip Radcliff, who is tied for second place in the league batting race with Luke Appling of the White Sox. . . . Cardinal fans are up in arms because the National league pilots ignored Pepper Martin, who ranks among the first five hitters in that organization. . . . White Sox boosters can't understand why Taft Wright was slighted. . . . Everybody seems to be mad at every one else, so a right merry time should be had by all, come tomorrow afternoon. . . .

Connie Mack.

Luke Appling.

Maybe it's just world conditions, but hostilities have become so pronounced that even the players are sporting militant tonsils. . . . Buck Newsom, Tiger pitcher, when asked this morning if he expected to start the game, responded, "I hope I am picked to start and I want them to let me in there for nine innings. I'll show those National league guys more stuff than they've seen in their own loop in years." . . . Judging from his record of 12 straight victories, the fellow may not be so far wrong at that. . . . The rival catchers, Ernie Lombardi of the Reds and Rollie Hemsley of the Indians, were the first players to arrive. . . . Hemsley flew to St. Louis from Cleveland right after the White Sox game yesterday. . . . Lombardi came by train from Chicago last night. . . . Hemsley, who wears a leather brace on his left hand to protect a bruise caused by Feller's fast ball, says Cleveland's mound ace didn't have all his stuff against the White Sox Sunday. . . . If that's true, he will be hotter than a firecracker tomorrow, because he never has two bad games in succession. . . . Hemsley, who never asks time off even when he has two black eyes, needs rest to relieve his injured left hand, but hasn't been able to get it because Feller doesn't like to pitch to any one else. . . .

If it's true that Jim Farley soon will take over the Yankees, he will be welcomed into baseball by all real followers of the game. . . . We can use more men with his enterprise and personality in sport. . . . Ed Barrow, president of the Yankees, was among the first American league executives to register this morning. . . . Eddie Collins, business manager of the Red Sox, came in with Joe Cronin and the Boston player contingent. . . . All American league representatives were guests tonight of Donald Barnes, president of the Browns, at his estate outside St. Louis.

Jim Farley.

Bill Stewart.

Charley Grimm entertained sports writers at his farm, 38 miles from the city. . . . Lew Fonseca, who teams with Grimm on a baseball broadcast from Chicago parks, was thoughtful enough to invite all Chicagoans who are here for the game to join in the fiesta, so Charley doesn't know whether to provide beer and skittles for 20 guests or 2,000. . . . Boots Weber and Charles Drake are representing the Cubs. . . . Gabby Hartnett, who managed the National league All-Stars last year, preferred playing golf with Jimmy Dykes in Chicago to watching the 1940 edition of the interleague exhibition. . . . Harry Grabiner, believe it or not, showed up early this morning, but we have seen nothing of Joe Barry, Sox traveling secretary, who at 65 is rated the major leagues' hand-

AMATEURS OPEN WESTERN TODAY AT MINNEAPOLIS

Nation's Leading Golfers in Large Field.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., July 8.—The 41st Western Amateur golf tournament opens tomorrow over the rolling leas of the Minneapolis Country club, but the term "western" appears to be a misnomer when you examine the national character of the field. If there is to be a preview of the national amateur at New York in September, then this is it, for the Western Golf association has drawn for this ancient tournament practically every young man who will be a factor in the big show two months hence.

For one, there is Marvin [Bud] Ward, the determined Spokane lad who is as tough a match player as you will find, with an additional flair for medal scoring. He proved the latter a year ago when he almost won the national open, only a couple of mishaps on the final nine preventing him from doing so. As for his ability in man-to-man competition, consider the fact that Master Ward is the current possessor of the national amateur championship.

Competition Is Plentiful.

Bud will have no easier job than he did in the national at Chicago last September if he aims to win this western, which ranks second only to the national. Just a glance at the entries should be enough to prepare Ward for almost anything. You don't breeze thru a battalion that includes Art Doering, Harry Todd, Wilford Wehrle, Larry Moller, Jim Ferrier, and O, yes—an old timer named Johnny Goodman. This is the same Goodman who won the 1933 National Open and the 1937 National amateur, and who can still swing a golf stick or two.

Doering is the Chicagoan whose magnificent golf in the national semi-finals last year was not enough to overcome the tenacious Ward. Arthur is right warmed up for this battle, having just won the Trans-Mississipi championship.

Still another Chicagoan is blond Wilford Wehrle, who is an old hand in the western amateur, having won the 1937 title at Los Angeles. Wilf also is the present C. D. G. A. amateur champion, and only last month finished as low amateur in the 1940 National Open.

Qualify Over 36 Holes.

Nor are Todd, the curly haired Texan, and Moller, onetime Notre Dame captain from Quincy, Ill., up here for fun. Last year in the final at Oklahoma City, they went 35 holes before Todd won, 2 and 1. Ferrier, now used to the larger American ball after his 10,000 mile journey from his home in Sydney, Australia, is also very much a threat, and the galleries up here will find more than casual interest in one Ellsworth Vines, of some repute as a tennis player. Another former champion who is entered is the Chicago veteran, Chick Evans of Edgewater. Evans won the championship eight times.

The qualifying round will be at 36 holes, 18 tomorrow and 18 Wednesday. The low 64 scorers for these two medal play trips will gain the match play bracket. This will open with double rounds on Thursday, a process to be repeated Friday, thus reducing the field to Saturday's four semifinalists, who will go 36 holes. The championship match on Saturday day will be over the same route.

The practice rounds are just what you might expect from such a smart field. Todd, after dashing off a fine 35—32—67, five under par, yesterday, came back with a 69 today, a figure which Doering matched. Ward shot himself a 70, but the best performance of the day was submitted by Gaffer Goodman, who knocked in a 20 foot putt on the 18th green late today for a 35—33—68.

Cubs and Sox Meet Today! It's Golf for Red Cross

Members of the Cubs and White Sox not engaged in the All-Star baseball game in St. Louis today will meet in their second annual golf match at Twin Orchards at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Tickets are 50 cents. Proceeds will be given to the Red Cross.

Award Detroit 1941 All-Star; Fans May Vote

St. Louis, Mo., July 8 (AP).—The American league voted today to award the 1941 All-Star baseball game to the Detroit Tigers and passed a motion in favor of continuance of the mid-summer fixture with some plan for permitting the fans to select the players.

It suggested that the problem of working out a suitable method for public voting on the squads be left to the major league advisory committee composed of Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis and Ford Frick and William Harridge, presidents of the National and American leagues, respectively.

The game was conceived by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in 1933 with fans choosing the players, but after the 1935 selections the managers did the selecting.

The league considered the proposal for batters to wear helmets to avoid serious consequences from beanings by pitched balls, but decided this question should be left to the individual clubs and players.

The National league concurred in the American league proposal to give the All-Star game back to the fans under the direction of the advisory council.

It also voted unanimously against any increase in its quota of seven night games at home for any club.

PAIR BOXERS FOR C. Y. O.-HAWAII SHOW TOMORROW

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Pairings were announced yesterday for the match between the best amateur boxers in Hawaii and the Chicago Catholic Youth organization in Soldiers' field tomorrow night.

Harold Dade, 1940 Chicagoland Golden Gloves flyweight champion, and Paul Inamine, outstanding boxer on the Hawaiian team, will open the intersectional program about 10 o'clock. The show will be concluded with a heavyweight contest between Cornelius Young, Golden Gloves and C. Y. O. heavyweight title holder, and George Medeiros of Hawaii.

Additional Match Arranged

There will be eleven intersectional matches in all, one more than previously arranged because of last minute acquisition of Dominick Neratko, middleweight champion of the Hawaiian department of the United States army. The card will open at 8:30 o'clock. The intersectional program will be preceded by a series of intercity matches.

Two intersectional bouts are listed in each of the flyweight, bantamweight, and lightweight classes, and one each in the heavier weight divisions. Each match will be three rounds of two minutes.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 8—There still is one man in baseball who thinks the New York Yankees are the hottest articles in baseball. He is Joe Cronin, manager of the American League All-Stars, who will battle the National League All-Stars in the eighth annual midseason interleague game here tomorrow. Cronin has picked five Yankees for his starting nine, including the currently struggling battery of Charley Ruffing and Bill Dickey.

In support of the five Yankees, Cronin, if he carries out plans announced immediately after his arrival here this afternoon, will send forth two of his Red Sox, Jimmy Foxx and Ted Williams; one White Sox, Luke Appling and one Senator, Cecil Travis. The Washington infielder was added to the American squad following the withdrawal of earlier nominees.

Tigers, Indians Ignored.

The two contending American league clubs, the Detroit Tigers and the Cleveland Indians, which have been passing the leadership back and forth for the last week, were ignored on the starting team, tho Cronin said he might use Buck Newsom, winner of 12 straight for the Tigers, and Bob Feller, winner of 13 for the Indians.

William McKechnie, manager of the Nationals, will start one of his star batteries, Paul Derringer and Ernie Lombardi, but was seized with nothing resembling the American league Yankeephobia. He named one Cub, Bill Herman; one Pirate, Arkie Vaughan; one Giant, Mel Ott; two Dodgers, Harry Lavagetto and Joe Medwick, and two Cardinals, Terry Moore and Johnny Mize.

Appling is the leading hitter of all the starters named on both teams, with a mark of .355. The weakest hitter among the starters, based on the last semi-official figures, is Dickey with .221.

Fans are Sidetracked.

The fans for several years have been denied the right to vote on the players in the game on the basis of not knowing enough about baseball. The fans don't know, perhaps, that .200 hitters are more interesting to the baseball public than .350 hitters like Lou Finney, Harry Danning, Rip Radcliff, Taft Wright, or .330 hitters like Dixie Walker, Jimmy Gleeson or Julius Solters.

Neither manager would speculate on the name of his third pitcher, tho there must be at least three pitchers. McKechnie named as his second choice to Derringer his own Bucky Walters. Of the four pitchers named by McKechnie and Cronin, none is a southpaw. It was believed possible McKechnie might call on Larry French, but the hidebound urge made it more likely he would summon Carl Hubbell, tho Larry has won nine to Hubbell's five. Cronin might call on

SKY BALL GETS THE HIGHBALL! WINS IN BREEZE

Beats Count Morse by 2 Lengths at Arlington.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Sky Ball, a 9 to 1 shot which had raced without success in all his previous starts this season, came breezing home ahead of his rivals in the Norwood purse which headed yesterdays program at Arlington Park. Under a well judged ride by Ken McCombs he beat the even money favorite, Count Morse, by two lengths while Jingoist was closing well to take third place in this gallop of a mile and an eighth.

Thruout the race, McCombs timed his demands so that Sky Ball made every ounce of energy count. McCombs sent him away fast from the No. 1 post position and let him sprint for good position on the clubhouse turn. When Nordresa showed an inclination to force too fast a pace, McCombs warily took Sky Ball in hand and let the other horse go ahead.

Count Morse, Jingoist Trail.

Meanwhile Count Morse and Jingoist were trailing in the field of six. During the run down the back stretch Nordresa maintained her advantage, a little more than a length ahead of Sky Ball, while Torch Stick and Tippity were engaging in a duel for third place. Approaching the far turn, Shelby Clark began to move with Count Morse. He sent the favorite swiftly past Torch Stick and Tippity. Jingoist also began to improve his position rapidly.

On the turn, Sky Ball engaged Nordresa. The pacesetter gave way and Sky Ball swung into the stretch with a lead of two lengths. Meanwhile Count Morse had been advancing steadily. He passed the weary Nordresa and went after Sky Ball, but couldn't make it. It was all the favorite could do to save second place from the fast finishing Jingoist by the margin of half a length.

The backers of the winner collected $21.40, $6.20 and $3.80.

Southland Beau Wins.

Southland Beau beat six rivals of the $3,000 class in the seven furlong Orrington purse despite the fact that he ran wide in the stretch while the pace setter, Arched, was going the short way along the rail. Running side by side down the center of the track, Southland Beau and Gold Flag overhauled the leader at the sixteenth pole and charged on to the finish. F. P. Letellier's veteran performer had a margin of three quarters of a length over his challenger as they went under the wire.

Gold Flag, which is owned by Jake Lowenstein, was the 6 to 5 favorite, Southland Beau having been held at 5 to 1. The winner returned $12.40, $4.40, and $3.

Gets Jump on Rivals.

For the first time in the Arlington meeting, a horse got the jump on his rivals by a substantial margin in breaking from the Puett gate. This feat was performed by Sir L., a 17 to 1 shot in the second race. He was three lengths out in front before the others left the gate and he stayed on top thruout the six furlongs, beating Lady Val by more than a length while Milli More was saving third. Together with Ladies First, winner of the first race, Sir L. produced a $295.40 daily double.

The patrol judge who was stationed close to the starting gate said that Sir L. plunged forward in the split second that Starter Roy Dickerson pressed the electric button, which operates the doors. He was in motion as they flew open while the others were flatfooted.

RUN IN LASSIE TEST

Six juvenile fillies eligible for Saturday's $30,000 Lassie stakes are among the nine entries in today's five and a half furlong Brookfield purse at Arlington Park. These candidates are R. A. Coward's Tidy Whisk from New England; the stake winner, Blue Delight, racing for John Marsch of Chicago; W. E. Boeing's Levin; Woolford farm's Unquote and Silvestra, and Cleaviand Putnam's Moja.

Companion feature to the Brookfield will be the six furlongs Berwyn purse, which has attracted a field which includes Russell Firestone's fast Marogay.

VINCIQUERRA AND CROWELL FIGHT 8 ROUNDS TO DRAW

Carl Vinciquerra, Omaha heavyweight and former Golden Gloves light heavyweight champion, and Chuck Crowell, Los Angeles, boxed eight rounds to a draw in the feature bout at Marigold Gardens last night. Altho Vinciquerra was outweighed by 28 pounds, and had a disadvantage of five inches in height, he got the decision of the referee, Norm McGarity. The two judges, Dr. B. A. Frankel and Capt. R. A. Goudie voted a draw.

In the minds of most of the spectators, Vinciquerra had an edge at the end of the bout. Although Crowell kept forcing his way in, using his long reach to paw at Carl, Carl connected by weaving under Crowell's left and scoring with left hooks to the head. In addition, the seventh round was awarded to Vinciquerra when Crowell was guilty of a low blow. Crowell weighed 218; Vinciquerra 190.

The 1,972 who attended paid $2,168 to witness the show.

HUNTERS READY TO BATTLE CUT IN DUCK LIMIT

Canada Reports Banner Season in Prospect.

BY BOB BECKER.

If the duck hunters of the middle west want to maintain the old bag limit of 10 ducks per day, a regulation that has been in force for several years, they'll have to start fighting for it, according to a rumor we picked up on our recent trip thru Minnesota. The report included the disturbing news that there is a plan on foot to cut the daily bag limit from 10 ducks per day to seven and lengthen the season to 60 days.

Altho we do not have official confirmation on this plan, and Washington officials haven't even hinted that the hunting may be curtailed, we have every reason to believe that the Biological Survey will recommend this regulation, and it will be made official by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, unless sportsmen demand that the 1939 shooting regulations be continued this fall.

Hunters Prefer Present Limits.

As far as we can tell from correspondence with hunters, Illinois would much prefer the old 45 day season and a 10 per day bag limit. Most hunters have to travel several hundred miles for a week-end of duck hunting. Unless there is the opportunity to take 10 birds on a day's hunt it makes the business pretty expensive. Moreover, a 60 day season is of no sport value to much of the state because the marshes freeze too early and the birds leave.

The surprising thing about the proposed reduction is that it comes at a time when every authentic report from the Canadian marshes tells of the largest duck crop in many years. The first early summer report from Canada, printed exclusively in this department several weeks ago, forecast a good year for ducks and a very good hatch.

Big Increase Predicted.

The second report from Ducks Unlimited has just reached our desk. Hundreds of observers who have checked the big marshes bring back the cheering report that we may expect 20 to 30 per cent increase in the duck crop.

Tom Main, general manager of Ducks Unlimited, who never has been wrong on any forecast of the duck situation across the line, is responsible for the prediction that we'll have more ducks this season. Such being the case, Illinois sportsmen interviewed yesterday on the proposed cut in the bag limit of 10, were getting ready to swing into action to demand the old bag limit and a 45 day season for 1940.

Armour Gets 70 to Win in Pro-Amateur

Tommy Armour, Medinah professional, warmed up for the Chicago Open at Tam o' Shanter next week by reeling off 34—36—70, two under par, in the Chicago District Golf association's pro-amateur event at Edgewood Valley yesterday. A field of 58 competed.

Armour paired up yesterday with A. N. Andersen to win the event with a best ball of 31—34—65, seven strokes under regulation figures. Going out, Armour birdied the first and ninth holes and equaled par on the others. He reached the 15th four under par as a result of two more birdies on the 12th and 14th, but bogied the last two holes to finish with a 36.

It remained for Claude Harmon, assistant to Harry Cooper at Northmoor, to turn in the best medal score of the day, a 34—34—68, four under par, and equaling the course record. He sprinkled six birdies thruout his card and was over par on only two holes. He paired with Jack Schram to produce a best ball of 33—34—67 for second place.

There was a two way tie for third place between H. McGurren and John Bird of South Shore and Gunnar Nelson and Alex Welsh of Rockford. Both twosomes had identical best ball scores of 32—36—68. Nelson three putted the last green to cost him and his partner a tie for second place.

Bob McDonald, Chicago yeteran, paired with A. L. [Jimmy] Miller of Bob o' Link to finish fourth with 34—35—69. Harry Kinnel, the home pro, and his partner, Dr. D. J. Fanning, came next with 35—35—70. Two teams tied with 71s. They were George Smith and Dexter Cummings of Onwentsia, 34—37—71, and by Chamberlain and George Dawson of Glen Oak, 35—36—71. Series:

MAJOR LEAGUE STARS CLASH IN ST. LOUIS TODAY

And the Sun Will Shine.

The forecast is for a capacity of 33,000, which will be largely from this sector, baseball having scrupulously avoided anything smacking of nation-wide publicity on the game.

The weather outlook is for a typical St. Louis July day, that is, hot and a bit humid but with much sunshine—all in all a pretty fine day for a baseball game.

Even tho the Yankees have been slowed up this year in their own league, sentiment was so topheavy toward the American leaguers' chances of victory for the sixth time in the series they were installed as 1 to 2 favorites. Simply put, this means that the folk who like to have something riding on a sporting event will earn only a $1 profit on each $2 investment on the Americans. Those brake folk who like the National leaguers' chances will get an $8 return for each $5 if they guess right.

There was little National league money in sight, even tho this has been a National league town for years.

Both Leagues Hold Meetings.

Both leagues were scheduled to hold meetings during the pre-game phase of the visit here, but Will Harridge, president of the American league, said that nothing but routine matters would be considered by his circuit. There had been forecasts that some of the clubs would remonstrate with the plan which gave the St. Louis Browns permission to play a schedule of 14 night games, instead of the seven permitted in other cities. Harridge said there was no foundation for such a rumor and that all of the club officials were in accord with the program for St. Louis. There has been no request that the limit be sprung in other cities, he said.

Ford Frick, president of the National league, was among the late arrivals and the league's meeting, also expected to be routine, was delayed pending Mr. Frick's arrival.

Grand Circuit Opening at Toledo Stopped by Rain

Toledo, O., July 8 [Special].—Rain stopped the opening of Grand Circuit races tonight after the Peninsular Farm stake for 2 year old trotters had been won by Fronimel in two straight heats. Fronimel's time was 2:08¼ and 2:10. Greyhound won the first heat in the free for all trot in 2:01¼, but rain precluded other heats.

Rudy Kay and Al Williams Get Draw in Wrestling

Rudy Kay, heavyweight wrestler, and Al Williams drew in 60 minutes at Parichy stadium last night. Other results: Jack Kogut beat Carl Malone, Fred Grubmeier defeated Jack Zeravitch and Walter Palmer won by disqualification over Paul Buzzell.

REMEMBER THAT FIRST ALL-STAR GAME AND RUTH?

The baseball game played on July 6, 1933, in Comiskey park was called by Harvey Woodruff "the game of the century." It was the first major league all-star game, originated by Arch Ward, sports editor of THE TRIBUNE, which promoted it.

The National league used 17 players, and the American leaguers, who used 13, won, 4 to 2. Only one of those 30 players will be in action today when the eighth annual all-star game is played in St. Louis. He is Carl Hubbell, and it is doubtful if the old Giant southpaw will see action.

Babe Stars, as Usual.

The daddy of all the all-star games had its big dramatic moment when Babe Ruth hit a home run in the third inning after Charley Gehringer had walked. That was the ball game. It gave the Americans a 3 to 0 lead and provided the margin of victory.

Vernon [Lefty] Gomez, still with the Yankees, but a sore arm victim, started for the Americans and received credit for the first of his three all-star triumphs.

The All-Stars moved to the Polo Grounds in 1934 and the American leaguers, managed by Joe Cronin, defeated Bill Terry's Nationals, 9 to 7. Hubbell retired at the end of the third inning with a 4 to 0 lead, but his successors were hit hard.

The Americans, led by Mickey Cochrane, made it three in a row in Cleveland in 1935, the score being 4 to 1. Again the home run was a decisive factor, Foxx hitting one off Bill Walker of the Cardinals in the first inning with Gehrig on base.

Nationals Finally Win.

Victory came to the Nationals for the first time in 1936, when they scored a 4 to 3 decision in the Boston National league park. Dizzy Dean was the pitching star, yielding no hits in the first three innings. When the Americans put Curt Davis on the ropes in the seventh, Lon Warneke came in and stopped them for the remainder of the game.

McCarthy and his Yankee stars still remembered the beating when the rivals took the field in Washington in 1937. The result was an 8 to 3 rout of the Nationals. In the third inning, with two out and Joe DiMaggio on base, Gehrig hit a homer. With the score 2 to 1, Hubbell went to the mound for the Nationals in the fourth, but was knocked out at the cost of three runs.

At Cincinnati in 1938, the Nationals came up with their second victory, 4 to 1. John Vander Meer, who had amazed baseball with two no hit performances in a row, held the Americans scoreless and to one hit in the first three innings. Gomez started for the losers and was charged with the defeat, a tough break, as the only run scored off him was traceable to an error by Cronin.

Bill Lee of the Cubs was the principal victim of the 1939 contest, which went to the Americans, 3 to 1, in Yankee stadium.

Over-Chilling Kills Beer Flavor

To enjoy a new taste thrill don't drink your beer too cold

Use an ordinary food thermometer such as you can get at any ten-cent store

RICHARD SEIBOLD, Meister Bräu Brewmaster

TASTE and COMPARE with THE "50-DEGREES" TEST

Thousands learn why we won't add sugars or syrups

SOME folks drink beer so cold they can't really taste it. They taste the cold more than they taste the beer.

Beer flavor—good or bad—shows up at 50 degrees. Cold disguises the flavor, so if you warm it up a little you taste delicious richness you never knew was there. This enables anyone to compare beers and find the best.

We have been making beer to suit the 50-degree drinkers for 49 years. Won't add sugars or syrups to the beer, and we bottle with only natural draft beer carbonation created in the brew itself—so Meister Bräu has natural life and sparkle—true all-grain flavor. We've pleased the "beer cranks"—and a lot of other folks too. More people buy it every day.

I wish you'd taste and compare beer flavors with the "50-degrees" test. I'm sure you'd be delighted with the delicious flavor of Meister Bräu. And, I doubt if you would ever again say "Give me a bottle of Beer"—you'll ask for Meister Bräu.

So order Meister Bräu from your retailer. See for yourself why we've made up our minds to stick with all-grain flavor and the old-fashioned methods which produce it.

FARMERS' GROSS INCOMES MAKE GAIN DURING 1939

Total for Year Estimated at $9,769,000,000.

Washington, D. C., July 8 (AP).—The bureau of agricultural economics reported today that gross farm income in the United States last year was $9,769,000,000 as against $9,362,000,000 in 1938. The total for 1937 was $10,569,000,000 and for 1936, $9,915,000,000.

Gross income includes cash income from sale of farm products during the calendar year, the value at average prices of products retained for home consumption, and government payments to farmers.

Cash Income 7.7 Billions.

Cash income from marketings in 1939, the bureau said, amounted to $7,733,000,000 compared with $7,590,000,000 in 1938, an increase of about 2 per cent. The value of products retained for home consumption declined from $1,290,000,000 in 1938 to $1,229,000,000 in 1939, mainly because of lower prices of many important products. Government payments under the agricultural conservation program were $807,000,000 last year against $482,000,000 in 1938.

The bureau said increases in income from grains, vegetables, fruits and miscellaneous crops more than offset declines in income from cotton, tobacco, and sugar.

Big Gain in North Dakota.

In North Dakota, the bureau said, gross income was 26 per cent larger than a year earlier. Substantial increases in income from crops, live stock and government payments contributed to larger income in Montana, South Dakota and Nebraska.

In all states in the east south central area the total of gross income and government payments was from 4 to 10 per cent smaller last year than in 1938.

HOG PRICES SOAR TO NEW PEAKS OF YEAR IN CHICAGO

Hog prices soared 25 to 50 cents to a new 1940 peak yesterday. Top loads reached $7 a 100 pounds, showing 35 cents advance over last week's close and $1.70 advance compared with two weeks ago today. It was the highest price for hogs since Nov. 2 and only 35 cents under the top price on the corresponding Monday last year.

The average, at $6.35, also showed a gain of 35 cents. Numerous loads of fall pigs weighing 190 to 250 pounds brought the new top. Most action converged in stock under 270 pounds in weight, with the smallest price gains in "lard hogs."

Despite a rather heavy run of cattle, the market for most steers and yearlings held fully steady with last week's close. The best available sold at $11 a 100 pounds. Lambs sold weak to 10 cents lower.

DAY by DAY on the FARM

by HOMER CROISZ

Strawberries Picked.

July 8, 1940.

STRAWBERRY pickers at the Du Page county farm have about finished harvesting the best strawberry crop ever grown on the place. There still are a few good berries ripening in the patch, but they are becoming so widely scattered that it hardly pays to pick them. More than 1,000 quarts had been gathered up to the end of last week.

The strawberries were late this year. The first ones were picked June 11. Picking was started last season on June 3. Water ran over some of the berries on low ground and ruined them, but fewer were damaged than last year when heavy rains and hot weather reduced the yield by more than half.

Yield Considered Good.

The caretakers consider the good yield this year unusual since it was the third season for the strawberries in their present location. It often is necessary to renew strawberry beds after two crops have been harvested if high yields are to be maintained. There are 16 different varieties of strawberries at the farm. The best ones this year were Blakemore, Claremont, Dorset, and Fairfax.

Red raspberries and both red and white currants started ripening last week. There are prospects for a fair crop.

The wheat crop is maturing later than usual this summer. The fields are just beginning to turn yellow. Some of the wheat was knocked down by wind and rain about the time the grain heads filled and never has straightened up. The harvesters are wondering if they will be able to set the combine low enough to cut it. Oats have not yet started to ripen.

No chinch bugs have appeared on the farm so far this summer, but workers are afraid some may show up after the small grains are cut. These pests usually do their greatest damage to corn by crawling out of stubble fields after harvest and sucking the sap from green corn plants. Rains apparently have kept them in check since time for the young insects to start hatching in May.

Damage in Iowa.

Chinch bug damage has been reported on many farms in central Illinois and in Iowa. They are said to be worse in Iowa than in any other state this year, with farmers there already having used two trainloads of creosote and several thousand miles of paper fence in trying to fence the bugs out of cornfields.

In some places in central Illinois the chinch bugs are reported to be hatching in cornfields, making it impossible to control them by barriers. Some farmers are said to have plowed up badly infested fields of corn and planted soy beans, a crop that is resistant to chinch bug damage. So far the infestation in Illinois has been spotted, some fields having no bugs and others having many.

FEDERAL POWER OVER BUSINESS MADE STRONGER

Defense Laws Give Further Control.

Illinois manufacturers having contracts for supplying materials to the army or navy, or having plants suited for producing such materials, yesterday were given a description of the drastic nature and principal effects of recently enacted laws designed to facilitate national defense. The description was made in an opinion by Fyffe and Clarke, general counsel for the Illinois Manufacturers' association, and sent to members of the organization.

Three acts relative to the national defense program went into effect June 22. They are: [1] An act to expedite the strengthening of the national defense; [2] an act to expedite naval shipbuilding and for other purposes, and [3] an act amending the Reconstruction Finance Corporation act.

Supplement 1916 Measures.

These laws supplement the more than 100 controls over industry given the President by the National Defense act of 1916 "in war or the imminence of war." The 24 year old act never has been repealed and becomes effective at any time the President declares a state of national emergency to exist. Last September President Roosevelt declared that there was a "limited" national emergency.

Among the most stringent and sweeping of the new acts' provisions are those given the secretary of the navy. As set forth in the legal opinion, whenever the secretary considers any existing manufacturing plant or facility necessary for the national defense and whenever he cannot arrive at an agreement with the owner of the plant regarding its use or operation, he is empowered under direction of the President to take over and operate the plant. The secretary may operate it either with government personnel or by contract with private companies. He is empowered to fix the compensation to the owner.

RFC Powers Extended.

Equally important in its potential effects on finance and business is the amendment to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation act. By this amendment the RFC is authorized to make loans for producing, acquiring, and transporting "strategic and critical materials," as defined by the President, and for plant construction, expansion, equipment, and working capital for defense production.

At the request of the Federal Loan Administrator, the RFC may purchase the capital stock of corporations toward the same end. Further, when requested by the loan administrator and with the President's approval, the RFC has the power to create corporations to procure facilities for arms and munitions manufacture and either lease them to private manufacturers or engage directly in manufacturing.

Contracts which the secretaries of war and the navy are authorized to let for military equipment, aircraft and naval vessels are governed by strict provisions relative to working hours, profits and delivery, altho the wage-hour law is not affected.

Suspend 8-Hour Day.

The President's declaration of a "limited" emergency last fall suspended the eight hour day for persons engaged in work covered by army, navy, and coast guard contracts as provided by the Walsh-Healey act. Other sections of the latter act remain in effect, but the President may suspend the act entirely if he considers such action in the public interest.

No contracts of $25,000 or more may be made for naval vessels or army and navy aircraft or parts unless the contractor agrees to pay the government all profits above 8 per cent of the total contract prices on work completed within the income tax year. Prior to the June 22 act, the rates were 10 per cent for naval vessels and 12 per cent for aircraft.

Contracts and orders for all army and navy materials and equipment take priority over export and private deliveries at the discretion of the President.

The new acts parallel the 1916 act in certain respects. The 1916 measure also authorizes commandeering of plants, compulsory orders and the acquisition of land in pursuance of industrial mobilization.

Supplemented by Other Laws.

Supplementing the 1916 act are laws such as the communications act of 1939, the acquisition of land act of 1917 under which private property may be secured by immediate condemnation, and the merchant marine act of 1936 by which needed ships may be requisitioned.

"Imminence of war" is not defined legally and is entirely at the President's discretion to determine. Lawyers have held that it is possible for these drastic acts to be invoked in peacetime, depending upon the interpretation of "imminence" and "national emergency."

Niles Trammell, widely known in Chicago and New York radio circles, who is reported to be the choice for the presidency of National Broadcasting company to succeed Lenox R. Lohr.

NILES TRAMMELL REPORTED TO BE NEXT NBC CHIEF

Vice President Will Succeed Lohr.

Niles Trammell will become the next president of National Broadcasting company, replacing Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, it was reported yesterday. Lohr recently resigned to become president of the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago.

A pioneer of network broadcasting, Trammell has been associated with the company or its parent, Radio Corporation of America, since he left the military service in 1923. He was an NBC executive in Chicago for many years. He went to New York as executive vice president, his present post, on Jan. 1, 1939.

Board to Meet on Friday.

It was understood that the NBC board of directors will act on the promotion of Trammell when it meets next Friday in New York. Lohr's resignation will be accepted at that time, according to earlier announcements. Lohr is expected to take over his new position with the museum about July 15. He became president of NBC in 1935.

A native of Marietta, Ga., Trammell was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the 36th infantry of the 12th division of the regular army at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., at the beginning of the world war. After service at various military camps he emerged from the war as a first lieutenant, and remained in the army until 1923 as a member of the staff of Maj. Gen. Charles G. Morton at San Francisco.

Joined NBC in 1928.

He joined Radio corporation when he left the army, and was with RCA on the Pacific coast until 1928, when he joined NBC at New York.

After two months in New York, Trammell was sent in May, 1928, to Chicago as manager of the NBC central division. In March, 1929, he became vice president of the central division.

North Western Brief Filed, Opposing Plan of I. C. C.

Attorney Luther Walter, special counsel for the Chicago and North Western Railway company, yesterday filed with Federal Judge John P. Barnes the company's brief in opposition to the plan for reorganization of the road recently promulgated by the Interstate Commerce commission. The plan, on which extensive hearings were held recently in court, excludes the stockholders from participation in the reorganized concern.

PACKARD BOARD DELAYS VOTE ON PLANE ENGINES

Rolls-Royce Order Still in Doubt.

Directors of the Packard Motor Car company, at a meeting in Detroit, Mich., yesterday deferred approval of a proposed contract to produce 9,000 Rolls-Royce airplane engines under United States manufacturing rights recently granted by the British government.

In other directions plans went forward for speeding up the national defense program, with the war department at Washington, D. C., opening bids for 629 new light weight tanks capable of speeds of 45 miles an hour.

Max M. Gilman, Packard's president, announced the company's board had discussed "the matter of a possible contract" for the production of 6,000 airplane engines for the British and 3,000 for the United States government, but had taken no action on the proposal because "there are many matters that require further study."

Hopeful for Agreement.

"The Packard Motor Car company is anxious to be of public service and is hopeful that a satisfactory agreement can be reached," the statement added. Gilman indicated he would return to Washington soon for further conferences with the national defense commission.

Gilman said the Ford Motor company, which previously had refused the contract after Henry Ford had stated he would manufacture the engines for the United States only, had turned its preliminary plans over to Packard.

Gilman last week announced plans for a $30,000,000 expansion program, contingent upon acceptance of the contract, and said production of the motors would begin 10 months from the day the contract was signed.

During the world war Packard produced 6,500 Liberty airplane motors.

Expect Tank Orders Today.

The war department is expected to place orders for the 629 new tanks today. The tanks will weigh 13 tons each. The army already has 320 light tanks on order.

It was learned that the department also is preparing plans to construct a huge tank of 60 tons comparable with the heavy land cruisers the Germans have used in the European war.

The navy department awarded a $219,100 contract for engines to the National Supply company of Holmesburg, Pa. Other contracts included:

Leland-Gifford company, Worcester, Mass., drilling machines, $25,915.

International Nickel Company, Inc., New York City, nickel alloy, $31,800.

Hanson & Orth, New York City, Manila fiber, $45,975.

Order Jam for Sailors.

Tea Garden Products company, San Francisco, Jams, $11,381.

Shenango Pottery company, New Castle, Pa., chinaware, $55,714.

Myrtle Knitting Mills, Inc., Unionville, Conn., jerseys, $16,250.

The house tabled a resolution by Representative Edwin A. Hall [Rep., N. Y.] calling on President Roosevelt to furnish the house with a factual report "showing administrative action on the program of preparedness for national defense."

Roger Williams, Atlantic Flyer, to Build Plane Plant

Toledo, O., July 8 (AP).Col. Roger Williams, trans-Atlantic flier, announced today formation of the Williams Aircraft corporation. Williams, who made a one stop flight to Rome in 1927, said his concern would build a plant here immediately and that it already has contracts to make parts for airplane companies working on army and navy orders.

COMPANIES CONSIDER SPECIAL 'WAR RISK' INSURANCE CLAUSES

Life insurance companies are considering seriously the insertion of a special "war risk" clause in new policies, Raymond T. Smith, vice president of Alfred M Best company, said yesterday. He returned from the east after attending the recent convention of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners at Hartford, Conn.

"There was considerable talk at the convention about the war clause," he asserted. "Many companies are working on drafts of war clauses which they will submit to the various state insurance commissioners in conformity with the laws of the various states."

Smith said that he does not know of any life insurance company of substantial size which has started to issue new policies with a special clause limiting its liability if the holder enters military service. He directs the Chicago operations of his company, which furnishes an insurance statistical service.

The convention of state insurance commissioners recommended recently that a uniform war clause should be adopted by life insurance firms for all new policies.

HOUSE APPROVES PAYING CLAIMS AGAINST MEXICO

Washington, D. C., July 8, (AP)—The house passed today and returned to the Senate with amendments a bill authorizing the treasury to pay 122 claims totaling $2,789,509 which American citizens have against Mexico.

The house amended the bill to provide that the American claims could not be paid until Mexico had deposited with the treasury this sum, less Mexican claims amounting to about $431,000. Mexico would have to assume responsibility for payment of the latter claims which Mexicans hold against the United States.

The legislation applies only to claims allowed by a general commission set up in 1923.

Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.,] denounced the bill as "A political steal and a racket," after other legislators had spoken in support of the measure.

The largest claim affected by the bill is one by the Illinois Central railway, for $1,807,531 for locomotives sold to Mexico.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull has estimated there remained unadjudicated 850 American claims amounting to $200,000,000 and 220 Mexican claims amounting to $120,000,000.

Folsom Asked to Aid Defense Textile Buying

Frank M. Folsom, executive vice president of Goldblatt Bros., Inc., Chicago department store organization, has been asked to direct the textile procurement of the national defense program, it was learned yesterday. Folsom left Chicago last night to confer in Washington, D. C., with Donald M. Nelson, another Chicagoan, who is coordinator of defense buying.

Frank M. Folsom.

Nelson, whose duties include determination of the most economical means of making purchases, keeping purchase statistics and general supervision over all purchasing details,, invited Folsom to take charge of textile buying. It was expected Folsom would accept.

Former Ward Executive.

Morris Goldblatt, president of Goldblatt, Bros., said he did not know whether Folsom had definitely accepted. He added the company was ready to release him if it was decided he could be useful in the defense program.

Folsom's experience has been wide in the textile as well as the merchandising field. He was a director, general merchandise manager and vice president in charge of merchandise at Montgomery Ward & Co. until last December, when he resigned.

Nelson On Leave from Sears.

Prior to that he worked for Hale Brother Stores, Inc., department store operators in California.

Nelson was executive vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., until he was granted a leave of absence on June 1 to accept the defense post. He served as acting director of procurement until his appointment as coordinator on June 29.

Public Urged to Buy Next Winter's Coal Supply Now

The midwest shippers advisory board yesterday urged the public to buy its winter coal supply this summer so that the railroads can avoid a rush of coal shipments later in the year when government freight requirements under the national defense program becomes heavier.

SWITZERLAND TIES UP ALL FUNDS OWNED IN CONQUERED NATIONS

BERN Switzerland, July 8 (AP).—Switzerland, sometimes called the banker nation of Europe, took drastic steps today to prevent any more of her capital being frozen abroad.

In an action somewhat similar to that previously taken by the United States, the Swiss government issued a decree restricting free disposal of foreign capital deposited in Switzerland either by individuals or firms from Belgium, The Netherlands, France, Denmark, Norway, and Luxemburg, all of which have been conquered by Germany.

In an effort to protect commercial and private Swiss holdings abroad, the government also decreed that all outgoing payments to the invaded countries must clear thru the national bank.

RFC DROPS PLAN FOR REMODELING CONGRESS HOTEL

The Reconstruction Finance corporation has abandoned its plan to convert the Congress hotel into a federal office building, it was learned yesterday. The government will continue to operate the hotel until some buyer or renter takes the property over.

Chicago local RFC officials said Washington had vetoed the office building proposition without explanation. Craig O. Black, assistant manager of the RFC in Chicago, said there are at present no negotiations under way to lease or sell the property.

According to tentative plans announced last February the hotel was to be remodeled for use by the Chicago regional branches of the RFC, the Home Owners' Loan corporation, and the Federal Housing administration. It was said remodeling the 10 story unit would cost $250,000.

Gen. Motors' Retail Sales at High Level

General Motors corporation yesterday announced that sales to consumers in June were the third best for that month in its history and that those to dealers for the first six months established an all time record for the period.

The company sold 173,212 cars and trucks to consumers in the United States during June, compared with 165,820 in May and 124,618 in June, 1939. The highest June totals on record were 189,756 in 1936 and 174,085 in 1928.

For the first half year, sales to dealers in the United States were 1,013,034 units against 738,788 in the first six months of 1939 and 978,274 in 1936, the former peak period.

Cause of Upturn.

Expectation in some quarters that next year's models may be more costly because of the effect of the armament program was given by automotive circles as one reason for the substantial rise in consumer buying.

General Motor's sales to dealers in the United States last month amounted to 151,661, a decline from the 171,024 in May, as dealers reduced their stocks. They remained well above the 124,048 in June, 1939, however.

Consumers in the United States bought 941,821 General Motors units in the first six months, compared with 700,461 in the corresponding 1939 period.

Total sales to dealers in the United States and Canada in addition to overseas shipments were 167,310 units in June, against 185,548 in May and 139,694 in June last year. For the six months, they totaled 1,098,787 compared with 841,206 in the like 1939 span.

Prepare for New Cars.

Almost all of the automobile industry's assembly plants will be closed by the end of July for the change over to new models, Ward's Automotive Reports said yesterday.

Five plants closed down last week—Cadillac, Hudson, Nash, Packard, and Studebaker. The publication said that the completion of the 1940 model output this month will bring the earliest shutdown program since fall introductions of new models were started.

"First resumptions of operations on 1941 models will be seen before the end of the month," Ward's said. "Several plants will be in production on 1941's by mid-August, and the indication now is that all factories will be in 1941 model runs by mid-September and quite likely earlier."

"A better market appears to be developing for used cars at this period. Anticipations of higher prices later on are factors."

Northwest Airlines' June Chicago Traffic Is Heavy

Passenger business of Northwest Airlines from Chicago reached a new peak in June, L. S. Reid, Chicago district traffic manager, reported yesterday. The line carried 3,047 revenue passengers westbound from Chicago during the month, an increase of 23.2 per cent above the preceding month and 62.1 per cent above June a year ago. Revenues in June increased 40.1 above May and 71.8 per cent above the 1939 month. Reid stated the line carried 6,170 revenue passengers in and out of Chicago during the month.

NEW TREASURY ISSUE REVEALED BY MORGENTHAU

500 to 700 Millions to Be Borrowed.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—The treasury will borrow another 500 to 700 million dollars thru a bond issue, Secretary Henry Morgenthau Jr. disclosed today.

The offering is expected to be made some time this week to replenish the treasury's working capital, and will raise the public debt by that amount. The debt totaled 43 billion, 65 million dollars on July 5, date of the latest treasury statement. The treasury's working balance was down to 1 billion, 101 million dollars on that date.

Morgenthau said that he desired to keep the working balance above 1 billion dollars and indicated that it had dropped below that mark since the latest public statement.

Meet to Plan Details.

Details of the new offering will be worked out tomorrow at a meeting between treasury officials and the executive committee of the federal reserve system's open market committee. Morgenthau expected, however, that the cost of the new borrowing would be less than the 571 millions in 2 per cent bonds, due 1948-50, offered last Dec. 8.

The new offering has no connection with the 4 billions in national defense bonds authorized by congress, as which will be issued as needed to finance army and navy expenditures for the expanding national defense program.

In deciding to issue bonds Morgenthau shelved an earlier plan to increase the amount of bill offerings beyond the 100 millions now offered every week. This week's issue was sold at an average price of 99.996, against 99.994 last week.

Questioned on Debt.

Asked whether he had given any thought to another boost in the maximum debt limit in view of another 5 billions to be asked this week for arms expenditures, Morgenthau said that the current debt conditions will make no increase necessary during the calendar year 1940. Past heavy expenditures by the administration made it necessary for congress to vote an increase in the public debt limit from 45 to 49 billion dollars in order to raise sufficient funds for urgent national defenses.

Asked whether he favored a financing drive such as the Liberty Loan campaigns during the world war, Morgenthau said that there was no need for a such a drive as long as public sales of United States savings bonds continue.

Morgenthau said that progress has been made in the treasury's work in connection with the steep new excess profits taxes which are to come be-

New York Stocks.

New York, July 8 (AP).—Stocks limped over a slightly uneven course in today's market with activity the smallest in the last 20 years. The ticker tape idled from the start as traders apparently were unable to find inspiration in either domestic or foreign happenings.

Fractional declines outnumbered advances at the close, but serious weakness in any department was rare. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off 0.1 of a point at 41.2. Transfers totaled 232,890 shares.

Business developments continued more encouraging than otherwise, brokers said, but speculative forces apparently still were waiting for the answers to a number of questions before taking on sizable commitments either way.

Among these was when Hitler would start his threatened smash at England, the context of the proposed excess profits tax legislation, and what may happen at next week's national Democratic convention.

On the home industrial front this week's estimated steel mill operations rebounded sharply from the Fourth of July holiday letdown. Both United States Steel and Bethlehem virtually ignored the snap-back and ended down ⅜ of a point each.

General Motors reported the best June sales to consumers since 1936, but the stock slipped ⅛. Chrysler was off as much.

New York Bonds.

New York, July 8 (AP).—It was a good railroad bond market today but little price change resulted from slow dealings in other groups.

Expanding freight movement and a better speculative attitude toward low priced carrier obligations as a medium for short term commitments while the stock market is dragging along were given as the principal stimulants to the group which posted gains ranging from minor fractions to 4 points.

United States governments closed 15-32ds of a point higher to 10-32ds lower.

Chicago Stocks.

Gains barely overbalanced losses in yesterday's trading on the Chicago Stock exchange. The volume leader, Midland United preferred, closed with a ⅝ point gain, but Commonwealth Edison, the next most active issue, eased ⅛ point.

Bank Stocks.

American National shares declined 4 points and City National dipped 3 yesterday as the Chicago bank stock market took a downward trend. Harris Trust was off 2 points and Continental Illinois ½ point. Other leading issues were unchanged.

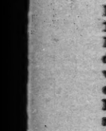
BUILD AVIATION FUEL SUPPLIES, EXPERT ADVISES

Underground Tanks Are Urged in Danger Areas.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Accumulation by the government of large stocks of 100 octane gasoline for national defense purposes was recommended today by Dr. Robert E. Wilson, principal oil advisor to the President's national defense advisory commission.



Dr. Robert E. Wilson.

Dr. Wilson said, however, that in general the petroleum industry will be able to fill the enormous demands of mechanized warfare, and that only in the case of the highest grade aviation fuel, containing synthetic high octane blending stocks, does special attention appear necessary. He urged prompt government action in upbuilding stocks of 100 octane gasoline and recommended underground storage facilities in localities which might be vulnerable to attack.

He expressed the opinion there is no danger of a shortage in ordinary aviation gasoline of 92 or lower octane.

Rubber Stocks Studied.

Dr. Wilson is also investigating the possibility of augmenting supplies of toluene and synthetic rubber by some of the newly developed processes which start with petroleum raw materials. However, he said that because these studies are largely technical and confidential it is not possible to discuss the progress which is being made.

Meanwhile, reports were current that the war department may seek legislation to compel manufacturers to accept orders from the government for national defense materials.

Altho the army has no complaints on the coöperation it has received, the measure may be requested as a precautionary step. Acting Secretary of War Louis Johnson admitted that such legislation is under study but has not yet been approved.

[A report on the government's growing power over industry appears on page 23.]

Economist Fears Shortages.

In an analysis of the country's manufacturing capacity, George Terborgh, senior economist for the federal reserve board, today came to the conclusion that "we face acute shortages of manufacturing capacity both human and mechanical in the production of certain military materials." His views were expressed in the board's monthly bulletin.

"The curtailment or cutting off of imported materials as a result of the war has already created trouble in some quarters and may be further effective," he said. "The surest protection is a rate of expansion in manufacturing activity gradual enough to permit a satisfactory adjustment of capacity difficulties as we proceed."

CHECK BUSINESS IN 7TH DISTRICT HIGHER IN WEEK

Business done by check in the seventh [Chicago] federal reserve district during the week ended July 3 increased 21.8 per cent over the preceding week and 26.1 per cent over the corresponding 1939 week, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago reported yesterday.

Debits to individual deposit accounts for the week as reported by 159 banks in 41 leading clearing house cities of the district totaled $1,411,440,000 compared with $1,158,493,000 in the preceding week and $1,118,931,000 in the corresponding week last year. For 13 weeks ended July 3, business done by check aggregated $15,920,428, a gain of 9.2 per cent over the $14,577,379,000 of the 1939 period.

Debits to deposit accounts in Chicago in the week ended July 3 amounted to $770,479,000 compared with $651,289,000 in the corresponding week in 1939.

Century Distilling Products Are Reinstated by Iowa

Des Moines, Ia., July 8 (AP).—The Iowa liquor control commission announced today that the products of the Century Distilling company of Peoria, Ill., suspended six weeks ago from sale in Iowa state stores, were reinstated as of this morning. The suspension grew out of the arrest of Lytton Younker of Des Moines, Ia., at Burlington, Ia., with a load of bootleg liquor and several contraband Iowa liquor seals with investigation later showed came from the Century Distillery.

RCA Distributors View New Models at Meeting

Two hundred wholesale rádio distributors from the area west of Pittsburgh to the Pacific coast met in the Palmer House yesterday for the presentation of the 1940-'41 line of RCA Victrolas by RCA Manufacturing Co., Inc. The meeting will end today. Included is a new instrument which combines radio and phonograph reproduction with facilities for making phonograph recordings at home.

Open Memphis Futures Market in Soy Bean Meal

Memphis, Tenn., July 8 (AP).—The world's only futures market for soy bean meal, which has risen in importance in recent years with the increase in industrial uses for soy beans, opened here today. Fifteen 100-ton sales were made. In the first trade 100 tons brought $17 a ton. The exchange was started by the Memphis Merchants exchange.

RESERVE BOARD NOTES FURTHER INCREASE IN INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT

Washington, D. C., July 8 (AP).—Industrial production swung sharply upward during May and the first half of June the federal reserve board reported today. Its seasonally adjusted index rose three points to 105 in May, chiefly the result of increased activity of steel and woolen mills.

Prices did not follow the production trend, however, fluctuating near the low levels reached after a sharp decline in mid-May. Consumer purchasing of commodities was about the same as earlier in the year, the board said.

The board said that private residential contracts were at the highest level in 10 years, factory construction was well above a year ago, department store sales increased considerably in June after a May decline, freight traffic was higher, and nondurable manufacturing activity generally showed little change from April to May.

NEW TREASURY ISSUE REVEALED BY MORGENTHAU

500 to 700 Millions to Be Borrowed.

fore congress soon, upon the specific request of President Roosevelt.

Morgenthau plans to confer tomorrow with the chairmen of the senate finance and house ways and means committees concerning the measure which will be introduced. He conferred today with the President's national defense advisory commission on allowances for depreciation and obsolescence which the treasury will make on industrial plants and equipment connected with the national defense program.

Previously, Morgenthau excused the treasury from making any changes in depreciation and obsolescence allowances—vitally important from a tax standpoint—for the benefit of national defense industries on the grounds that the law imposes limitations. He would not say, either, that new law is under consideration.

Another factor in the imposition of steep excess profits taxes which is of utmost importance to business men is the determination of the taxing basis.

Two Courses Are Open.

This factor is, whether the taxes will be levied on net income above a certain average, or upon income in excess of fixed rates of return on the invested capital of a business—i. e., the original amount paid in for capital stock plus later accumulations in the form of surplus or undivided profits.

Tax experts for the treasury and for the joint congressional committee on internal revenue said today that this basis has not yet been determined, being too early in the drafting stages of the tax legislation. Morgenthau said that he could not comment on this phase of the new bill.

It is possible that the two methods will be allowed as alternatives, altho this has not been ascertained. The average income basis would make the tax less severe on many companies, particularly those with small capital investments which are doing better after a long string of hard years.

Recall 1917 Methods.

During the world war excess profits taxes were levied mostly on a graduated basis geared to the return on invested capital. This also applied to individuals and partnerships in 1917 for the first and only time in American history.

President Roosevelt has again asked for an excess profits tax on individuals and the 1917 act is the only guide as to what might be done. The 1917 revenue act provided that where the individual had little or no invested capital, the excess profits tax would amount to a flat rate of 8 per cent on net taxable income in excess of $6,000 for the taxable year.

The excess profits tax was in addition to the regular income taxes. The excess profits tax on individuals and partnerships was repealed after only one year.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD LOAN OFFERED PUBLIC

An issue of $7,995,000 Pennsylvania railroad guaranteed 2¼ per cent equipment trust certificates was awarded yesterday to a group headed by the First Boston corporation with a bid of 102.65 and interest.

The certificates will mature serially $333,000 each July 1, from 1941 thru 1955. They are being reoffered publicly to yield 0.30 to 2.25 per cent.

The certificates will be secured by new standard gauge rolling stock estimated to cost not less than $9,993,750, according to the agreement under which they have been issued. The equipment to be purchased will include 2,100 gondola cars, 225 hopper cars, 20 heavy duty flat cars, 200 cabin cars, 25 steel locomotive tenders, 2 high speed passenger locomotives with tenders, and 8 lightweight passenger cars.

A large Texas corporation loan may be offered tomorrow.

Seaboard Air Line Railway Hearing Delayed to July 29

New York, July 8 [Special].—Hearings on the proposals to reorganize the Seaboard Air Line railway, scheduled to be held here Wednesday, have been postponed until July 29 to permit preparation of additional information for the various creditors.

6 Months' Tax Collections Exceed All of Last Year's

Louis Rixman, city collector, announced yesterday that his office collected $5,254,483 in taxes and fees during the first six months of the year, compared with $4,955,017 during the first half of 1939. Total collections in 1939 were $5,153,728.

WHEAT FUTURES CLIMB, THEN DIP ON RAIN REPORTS

Chicago Market Closes ¼ to ⅞ Cent Lower.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices on the September delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade follow:

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$ .76¼	$ .77	$ .66⅝
Corn	.58⅛	.57¼	.47
Oats	.28⅛	.28⅝	.28⅛
Rye	.44⅛	.44	.43⅝
Soy beans	.73½	.73¼	.74⅛

Wheat prices climbed 2 cents a bushel in the early trading yesterday, only to decline around 3 cents from the top price later with the close well toward the bottom. Closing trades on the Chicago Board of Trade were ¼ to ⅞ cent lower. Minneapolis was 1⅛ to 1⅝ cents lower.

The early weather map showed little precipitation in the spring wheat belt, but the detailed weather bureau report issued during the last hour of the session showed that large areas in the Dakotas and Minnesota had had showers over the week-end. This started a selling movement. Additional moisture was forecast for the Dakotas overnight.

Hedging Pressure Felt.

Hedging pressure from the southwest where the winter wheat harvest is in full swing helped along the decline. The early buying was based on reports indicating that considerable damage had been done to the spring wheat crop in eastern North Dakota and parts of Canada.

Corn showed independent strength and gained ⅝ to ¾ cent on buying induced by reports that country offerings of cash grain were small, despite the announcement that the government would permit farmers to redeem grain in the 1937 and 1938 crop loans at 57 cents. Cash grain dealers bought the nearby deliveries. Shipments of corn over the week-end via lake from Chicago included 832,000 bushels to Canadian ports.

Trade in Oats Light.

Trading in oats was light with the close ¼ cent lower. Harvesting of the new crop is expected to get under way in central Illinois in about 10 days. Rye finished ⅜ to ⅝ cent higher while soybeans were ¼ cent lower to ¼ cent higher.

England took drastic action yesterday to increase its emergency reserve of flour. Mills have been authorized to operate at full capacity, and can commandeer storage room in all bakeries in order to assure that the flour will be distributed in all parts of the country.

CARRY ALUMINUM STRIKE THREAT TO WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., July 8—(AP)—Representatives of the Aluminum Workers Union [CIO] and the Aluminum Company of America conferred separately with government officials today about the threat of a strike affecting more than 16,000 workers.

Nick Zonarich, union president, said he and other officials talked with Sidney Hillman, labor member of the National Defense Commission. Zonarich said the union had authorized a strike but had agreed to delay it after the United States Conciliation Service suggested consultation with the Defense Commission.

He said a 10-cent an hour increase was sought and added, "We don't want to delay the defense program, but if there's no other way we'll strike."

M. M. Anderson, the company's director of personnel, talked with several government officials but would give no details.

TOBACCO QUOTA REFERENDUM TO BE HELD JULY 20

Washington, D. C., July 8 (AP).—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace announced today a flue-cured tobacco quota for the 1941-42 marketing year of 556,000,000 pounds with the proviso that the quota be increased to 618,000,000 pounds if growers approved by referendum marketing quotas for three years.

The referendum will be held July 20. Growers will vote on:

SHELL OIL UNITS HARMED BY WAR, OWNERS HEAR

LONDON, July 8 [Special].—Liquid resources of the Shell operating companies should be conserved in view of the widespread property damage in European countries, in all of which the group has large interest, Viscount Bearsted, chairman, told stockholders of the Shell Transport and Trading Co., Ltd., at the annual meeting today. The enterprise is an international holding company.

The operating companies have been unable to declare or distribute any further dividends for 1939 since those which enabled the holding company to make an interim payment in January, he explained.

Results of the group would have made a favorable showing for 1939 had it not been for the property damage, he said.

ATTORNEY RAPS DELAYS BY CAA AS 'INCREDIBLE'

Washington, D. C., July 8 (AP).—William C. Lewis, attorney for the Trans-Southern Airlines, told the civil aeronautics authority today that delays in disposing of air line applications had been "incredible."

Lewis appeared on behalf of Trans-Southern's application for authority to operate an air service from Amarillo, Tex., to Atlanta, Ga. A similar application was filed by Braniff airways.

The attorney criticized a report by Examiners Frank A. Law Jr., and John W. Belt recommending that Braniff be permitted to operate a line from Amarillo to Oklahoma City and that all other portions of both applications be rejected.

He said that companies already operating had "banded together" to keep new companies from getting certificates. Trans-Southern is a new company.

The expositions will close Saturday. They are not open to the public.

DECLARES OHIO UTILITY SYSTEM IS 'INTEGRATED'

Washington, D. C., July 8 (AP).—T. O. Kennedy, general manager of the Ohio Public Service company, said today the company refrained from influencing actions of its various division officers in Ohio.

Kennedy testified before a Securities and Exchange commission examiner in connection with an investigation of the corporate structure of the Cities Service company. Ohio Public Service is one of several subsidiaries of Cities Service which is trying to show that it is an integrated public utilities system within the meaning of the holding company act.

Kennedy testified that Ohio Public Service put its Ohio central office in Cleveland, where it had no service, because it did not want to influence local managements in other sections of the state. He said each division was in charge of a vice president who had authority to conduct dealings with the public the division served.

STEEL MILL RATE STEPPED UP TO 86.4 THIS WEEK

Output Climbs Following Holiday Slackening.

Operations in the steel industry were started at 86.4 per cent of theoretical capacity this week after the July 4 holiday reduced last week's output to 74.2 per cent, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated yesterday.

The current figure is slightly below the 86.5 rate prevailing before the holiday week. A month ago operations were scheduled at 84.6 per cent and a year ago, at 49.7 per cent.

Chicago district steel mills are expected to run at 94.3 per cent of theoretical capacity. At the new peak Chicago operations will show a rise of 16.7 points from the 77.6 per cent level of a week ago.

June Production Large.

June production of Open-Hearth and Bessemer Steel Ingots showed a big gain over June last year and outstripped May by 14 per cent, the institute said. June output of 5,532,910 net tons was 37 per cent greater than 3,523,880 in June last year and compared with 4,841,403 in May.

Production in the first half of the year of 28,678,124 represented a gain of 37 per cent over 20,958,723 a year ago.

Officials of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation reported yesterday that mills are again operating "just about full" and that orders maintained their increased level despite the holiday.

Orders showed a marked diversification and are not yet directly affected by the defense program, they added. For example, toy manufacturers are engaged in unseasonable buying, they commented, apparently fearful of the supply once the armament program gets into full swing. Altho their total is comparatively small, it represents the wide variety of sales.

Inland at 100 Per Cent.

Operations of the Inland Steel company, large independent Chicago enterprise, are at theoretical capacity of 100 per cent this week, J. L. Block, executive vice president, said. This rate is the best since last fall, he added, and is about 15 points higher than that of last week when output was affected by the holiday. Orders, which are mostly domestic, are diversified and are maintaining the increased tempo of the industry.

Following is a tabulation showing this week's scheduled rate in the nation's industry and those for corresponding weeks of recent years, together with changes from the week immediately preceding:

Year.	Rate per cent.	Change points.	Change per cent.
1940	86.4	Up 12.3	Up 16.4
1939	49.7	Up 11.2	Up 29.1
1938	32.3	Up 9.9	Up 44.2
1937	67.3	Off 7.7	Off 10.3
1936	67.2	Off 6.8	Off 9.2
1935	33.3	Up 2.5	Up 7.6
1934	27.5	Up 4.5	Up 19.5

The peak of the recent advance in steel operations was attained the week of June 17 when the rate was listed at 87.7 per cent.
